COOK'S.
 Jolly Herbert Cawthorn and his wife, (Susie Forrester) who could be described as fat, fair and forty, are the chief magnet offered at the Home of Vaudeville the coming week. In their laughing skit "A Damage Suit," they have a vehicle that covers all the comedy field and a whole lot more too, if all the good things said about them in the papers where they have been seen are true; and no doubt they are, for Cawthorn and his wife, when starring in "Little Nugget" and "A Cork Man," had quite a corner in the laughing business. Another act of the Star-kiad, is that of the Four Johnsons, the most wonderful juggling act in the world. They just closed with Ringling Bros. Circus, and after playing at Detroit and Rochester for J. H. Moore, they join Primrose

Docstaders Minstrels as the feature act for the rest of the season. Madame Flowers, the most wonderful singer of her race comes next, and there is possibly not a colored woman to-day, who has the range of Madame Flowers. Welby, Pearl, Keys and Nellis, the biggest dancing act in America, Moreland, Thompson and Roberts, a trio of real vaudeville headliners, (Roberts is the big fellow who was such a hit with the American Quartette) and Kimball and Donovan, a clever pair of banjo players complete a really excellent olio. This is Children's week on the Biographe, and the four scenes showing Santa Claus filling the stockings, the little ones finding the good things in the morning, and the Christmas tree are all sure to make a pleasing feature for the little folks. It is pretty safe to say that the Cook Opera House will come near being the popular resort the coming week.
