At St. Patrick's church last Sunday, the pastor, Rev. Father Bloomer, announced to his congregation, that a fair would be held in early fall, for the benefit of the church.

The Academy Boys' Minstrels at the Globe Theatre Friday and Saturday last were an immense success, and netted a nice sum, for the Athletic Club Fund.

The sad news was received in Elmira Friday last of the death of Mrs. Fred Shaw (nee Mollie Callahan) in New York, the evening previous. Mrs. Shaw was the daughter of James H. Callahan, the well known newspaper man, and her wide circle of friends in this city were startled at the news of her untimely death. Educated at the Academy of Our Lady of Angels, Mollie Callahan was one of the most popular girls in Elmira. A few brief years since she was wedded to Mr. Shaw, and removed to New York. Three children survive their mother. The remains arrived in Elmira Saturday afternoon, and the funeral was held Monday morning from St. Mary's church. The white casket was completely hidden by a profusion of beautiful flowers. During the church services Mrs. Helen Ryan rendered an effective solo. The interment was in SS. Peter and Paul's cemetery.

On Ash Wednesday shortly after noon, occurred the death of Mrs. Margaret O'S. Donnelly, at the home of her sister, Mrs. John D. Horgan, with whom she had resided for several years. Mrs. Donnelly had been a long and patient sufferer from paralysis. The funeral was held Friday morning from SS. Peter's and Paul's church, Rev. Father Malley officiating. Miss Donovan's sympathetic voice was heard in "Calvary" and while the remains were borne from the church a quartette composed of Miss Donovan, Mrs. Wrentham, Messrs. Young and Grady rendered "Abide With Me." The bearers were Messrs. Thomas Lynch, Andrew O'Dea, Thomas Kerwan, Michael Kennedy, Michael Fitzmartin and Dennis Sullivan. The interment was in SS. Torrents of chocolate-colored water and tons of soft, dark mud are all that remain of the small mountains of snow and expanses of ice that were with us a week ago. The change in the weather is remarkable, and by all indications now Spring will "come early and stay long."

The officers of Cerning Council No. 281, Knights of Columbus, were installed Tuesday evening by District Deputy James L. Whalen, of Rochester.

The report that the Fall Brook property had been sold to the Vanderbilts and that as a result, the shops and offices would be taken away from Corning, is distressing to a large number of people who have been and are employed in these shops and offices and are not content to move to a new job. The Fall Brook payroll is a large one here, and it is estimated that about $50,000 monthly comes into the city through that channel. If the shops and offices are taken away it will undoubtedly make a difference in the general aspect and liveliness of the town. This will indeed be a crystal city, then.

"Some Corning bluffs" would be a good title for an article about a certain type of young man which is prevalent in this town. This class of persons wishes to be considered "sporty" and always tries to leave you under the impression that he is a regular cuss. He meets you in a burly and is always going somewhere to elevate hedges or just coming from having had a fire and brimstone time. Sometimes he even staggers up Market street muttering incoherent sportsy words, not because he is addicted to drinking and accustomed to drown his troubles but because he has not courage to face, but because he is a bluff. He is really harmless and shallow, but he thinks no one knows it. The pity of it is that he sometimes calls himself a Catholic who has not truth in him!

Mr. A. Herman, will make collections in Auburn all next week.

When you are in need of job printing of any description, kindly leave your order at the CATHOLIC JOURNAL office, 324 1/2 East Main street.

AMUSEMENTS.

BAKER OPERA HOUSE. Manager Shubert is a firm believer in the value of first-class actors to develop and sustain the success of stock plays. When the Shubert Stock Company, which opened early-Spring season at the Baker theater in "Captain Letterblair" this week, was first organized at the Babst theater, Syracuse, the public marveled at the extensive cast and figured that to many high-salaried players in one stock organization, playing at popular prices, could not possibly prove a successful business proposition. That the actor Mr. Shubert has selected is shown by the fact that the company enjoyed an unprecedented run of over 60 performances at the Babst. The company has been strengthened from time to time and comes to Rochester, not only the most expensive but without doubt the best stock organization playing at popular prices in this country to-day. The cast includes Eugene Ormande, Rose Stahl, Ben R. Graham and others.

COOK OPERA HOUSE. No better or cleverer bit of comedy work has been seen in New York city than that offered by Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dunstan at Keith's theatre this week, and in securing them for Rochester next week Manager Moore has made a ten strike. The sketch done by Mr. and Mrs. Dunstan at Cook Opera House is called "A Game of Whist." Numerous mistakes and complications serve to create many genuine laughs. Little Western, America's premier musical artist, has not been seen in Rochester for over two years, and she has many new features to catch the fancy of her following. Another act that has many admirers here is that of Marlowe and Plunkett, and while they are on there is very little else that can be done but laugh. Laura Comstock, a sweet-voiced girl who is new to vaudeville, promises a list of new comic songs. Belmont and Western, another pair of comedians of the side-splitting variety, who are billed as America's representative travesty artists, but whether they are or makes but little difference, so long as they have new fun for us. "The Bounding Antelope" is a funny name for a girl, but that is what Miss Anna S. Teif is called, and from her style of dancing we must say that it is well earned, for she is a clever girl. The seventh number on the bill is Decca and Don, in a mixture of singing, comedy and dancing. If show-goers cannot find something to attract them to Cook Opera House the week of Feb. 27th they must be hard to please.
