What Our Friends in the Surrounding Parishes are Doing.

The annual retreat at St. Mary's church which has been in progress during the past week closed on Sunday evening. At 9:30 last Sunday only the women were present when Father Boniface delivered an eloquent sermon on "Perseverance." Following the sermon Father Boniface gave a Papal Benediction. At 7:30 p. m. the retreat for the men was closed. The same ceremonies were conducted in the evening. Despite the storm large crowds attended the closing exercises. The work of Fathers Boniface and Cassimer was productive of much good during the week. A number of priests from different parts of the diocese assisted the fathers. It was a most successful retreat. Several thousand communicants received. Monday morning the Passionist Fathers returned to Dunkirk.

Eddie Murphy will leave in a few days to join a Philadelphia base ball club. Miss Alice McCabe of State street, left Wednesday morning for Rochester where she will enter the novitiate of the order of the Sisters of St. Joseph.

Mr. and Mrs. McNerney and family, Misses L. L. and K. H. Bell, of Syracuse attended the Bieste obsequies at St. Mary's last Saturday. Mrs. Marie Sullivan-Harry of St. John's Cathedral choir of Syracuse, sang beautiful hymns during services.

Misses Winnie and Marie Whalen left Saturday last for a visit with Miss Kennedy. Rev. Coleman O'Loughlin of Phelps, delivered the panegyric on St. Patrick at the Holy Family church March 27th before a very large congregation. The speaker handled his subject in a very able manner. The music was fine especially the selections by Mrs. Stafford.

Miss Marye Carver of Seneca Falls, spent Sunday with Miss Briggs of Ferris street.

Miss Anna Dunnigan, Miss Lizzie Hanley and Miss Etna Murphy left Wednesday for New York, to attend openings in dress-making.

One of the largest meetings and best degree work given in the Knights of Columbus rooms was given last Thursday. Many Knights from Oswego, Utica, Cortland, Binghamton, Geneva and Seneca Falls attended. Judge Cooney of Albany, gave a most interesting and the best yet given. Mr. Dowd of Cortland, gave a most interesting and the best yet given. Mr. J. Fred Sullivan of Fredon was also present and compiled an Auburn council on fine council rooms and successful degree work.

Grand Knight Conroy took part in degree work given by Lemoyne Council at Syracuse, last Tuesday evening. Many from Auburn council attended.

The Easter ball to be given in Music hall Easter Monday evening by the Knights of Columbus, is looked forward to with great pleasure. Their last was a grand affair, and Lecturer Hennessy, who has entire charge of the affair, promises this one will outshine any yet given by him. It is expected two hundred couples will attend. The same engaged orchestra of Stevens and Samsonetters are engaged. The programs are beautiful in design and were ordered in New York city.

Elaborate musical programs are being prepared for Easter Sunday. Active rehearsals are being held and fine singing is expected.

Elmira.

The mission given by Fathers Hanley and Galvan to the women of St. Mary's parish last week was a grand success. About 900 ladies received holy communion. This week the Fathers are giving a mission to the men.

St. Patrick's day was fittingly celebrated south of the river. After the evening exercises of the mission the people repaired to St. Mary's hall, where John Murtagh, Esq., of Cornell University, delivered an interesting and eloquent address on "The Irish American." The lecture being concluded, the graduates of the parochial school presented in a most charming manner a five act comedy entitled "The Deacon," which was a very clever performance. The characters were admirably chosen and appropriately costumed. Daniel Finley was a marvel, while Thomas Hart, Simon Feazel and the O'Shea brothers showed remarkable histrionic ability. The entire cast was characterized by self-possession, graceful movement and elocutionary power. A pleasing feature of the evening was the singing of Irish songs between the acts. The entertainment was a delightful one and formed the large audience with enjoyment for three hours. The Sisters of St. Joseph, who trained the children for this play, demonstrated again their ability as educators. They well deserved the compliment paid them by Father Hanley in a discourse given during the mission on Christian education. The distinguished missionary told his audience that he had traveled over nearly all this country, and that he had not met a more competent staff of teachers or a better conducted school than St. Mary's parochial school, Elmira. The people of the parish may well be proud of their educational facilities.

The Misses Elizabeth and Celia Maloney of Cortland, visited James Whitcomb Riley during Monday evening. Charles X. O'Brien is on the sick list. Mrs. John O'Day and Miss Nellie O'Day of West Fourth street, are visiting relatives in the west.

Mr. Frank Dolan of Albany, spent Sunday with Elmira friends. The Misses Wallace of Buffalo, were guests of Miss Minnie Hickey during the week. Thomas B. Fitzgerald, will open his new furniture waterworks to the public Easter Monday.

James Whitcomb Riley, the "Hooster" poet, delighted a large audience Monday evening, giving readings from the most popularly known of his charming works. The second and last week of the mission of St. Mary's church, which has been for several weeks, brought out enormous crowds. The Holy Fathers have worked with great zeal and enthusiasm which characterized their labors last week. It is safe to say that the mission ever held in the city has accomplished more gratifying results than the one just closing at St. Mary's.

To-morrow is Palm Sunday, and the day will be appropriately celebrated at all the churches. At the Holy Family church masses palm branches will be distributed, and sermons preached on the memorable feast. In some churches special musical programs have been prepared.

A number of members of Elmira Council, Knights of Columbus journeyed to Binghamton Saturday to participate in the working of the annual degree. A number of Elmira Council members were present. The work was done in a most successful manner.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER ABSOLUTELY PURE Makes the food more delicious and wholesome

The joyfully celebrated romantic actor, Mr. James K. Hackett, comes to the Lyceum theater on Monday evening in Hopps' "Rupert of Holsheim," which is familiar to readers as the sequel to his famous "Prisoner of Zenda." This will be one of the rare treats of the dramatic season, and the only regrettable feature is that it comes in Holy Week.

Miss Mary Theresa O'Connell, aged twenty years, died at the home of her parents, Mr and Mrs. Thomas O'Connell at No. 95 1/2 Oak street. Besides her parents deceased is survived by one brother, Michael and two sisters, Josephine and Beatrice. Mr. Holleran, an old and highly respected gentleman of Almond, and father of John Holleran of this city, died at his home in the former place Sunday morning. The remains were brought to this city on Tuesday and the funeral, which was held from St. Ann's church, was largely attended.

The Congregation of Mercy of Hornellsville, an institution whose objects are to provide a home for members, train teachers and educate children, has been incorporated. The directors are: Sisters M. Assilium Manning, M. Felix Kelly, M. Carmelito Walsh, M. Angela Rogers of Hornellsville and Sister H. Philomena Walsh of Corning.

If all reports are true of the number of marriages that are to take place after Easter Father Farrell will need an assistant. Let the good work proceed.

The C. M. B. A. and the Holy Name society will receive holy communion Sunday, at the 7 o'clock mass.

Three masses were said during the week for Father Barlow, by request of the Knights of Columbus, C. M. B. A. and A. O. H.

A number of surrounding papers seem to be very much interested in the next play at this place, some of them saying that many reports from Hornellsville are without foundation and are not to be believed. Hornellsville is not circulating any reports, and St. Ann's congregation is perfectly satisfied with the pastor in charge, Rev. Father Farrell, and are only too sorry that he cannot be appointed to this rectorship.

W. R. Cullen spent the fore part of the week in Buffalo. Miss Hatlie Dean of Andover has resumed her position as milliner with Tuttle & Rockwell.

A class for confirmation is being prepared in the parish, which is to take place on the feast of Corpus Christi.

Mrs. George Burns and Miss Maude Sullivan of Auburn visited friends here last week.

Last Saturday Miss Kathryn McMahon of Fourth street had good-bye to Ithaca friends and left for Rochester. She entered Nazareth convent to become a Sister of St. Joseph. She has the best wishes of innumerable friends for her future life.

Last Saturday at his home on Fayette st., occurred the death of one of Ithaca's brightest and most promising young men, John A. Hyland, in his 27th year. Twelve years after his graduation from the parochial school the young lad became a clerk in Haskin's drug store where he remained until two years ago, when he assumed the management of Dr. McManey's drug store. The modest speech, courteous manner, generous nature and amiable disposition of the boy developed with his manhood, and continued to win for him new friends. Two years ago the deceased was married to Miss Minnie Johnston of this city. He is survived by his wife, his father, Richard Hyland, and two brothers, Richard, Jr., and Nicholas.

Caledonia. The entertainment given on St. Patrick's evening in Bugess hall was enjoyed by large and enthusiastic audience. The first on the program was the singing of the Regina music box. Ticket number 210 was the lucky number held by Patrick Kerwick. This was followed by the singing of "The Harp That Once Through Tara's Hall," by the Misses Lizzie and Jennie O'Neil, Anna and Grace Donnelly. Number three was the lecture by Rev. William Ryan of Rochester, his subject being "Rian's Heart, or History told in Moore's Melodies." Father Ryan spoke for more than an hour and in that time related some of the most interesting epochs of the Irish history that the people of Caledonia had never been fortunate enough before to hear. His lecture was delivered in a scholarly manner. Caledonia people hope to hear him again. Mr. L. J. Collins of Canisius College Buffalo, favored the audience with a few vocal selections. Mr. Collins possesses a rich baritone voice which he controls with ease. "The Irish Healers." A comic drama in two acts, was presented by home talent. The play itself is rather dry and what was made of it was due in part to those who presented it. The character, Miss Honora Devereaux was ably and artistically taken by Miss Lizzie O'Neil, and interpreted in her usual finished manner. Molly, her servant, was taken by Miss Alice Skelly and fitted her to a "T." She handled the brogue in fine style. It was a difficult part to make natural. Alice was really the star. Lady K. was ably represented by Miss Jennie Martin. Her rendition was fully up to the mark, her make up was fine. Captain DeLacy, one of Miss Honora's many lovers, and triumphant in the end, fitted Mr. Edw. J. McLaughlin to a nicety—his soliloquy in the first act was especially good. He brought out all the good in his part. The characters Mr. Lawley, Captain A. J. Lee, Jacob Esterly by Wm. Shillington and Andrew Merritt by John Tait, lovers of Miss Honora, could not be distinctly heard in the back seats. Barney, the witty Irish Butler, was represented by Mrs. George Wood, was one of the gems of the evening—his welcome from the audience was more than appreciative. The evening's entertainment, closed by reciting the "Erin's Flag by L. J. Collins.

In connection with the special mass, Father O'Hanlon of Clifton Springs delivered an able panegyric on St. Patrick. He said in part: That St. Patrick had sacrificed life, friends and earthly happiness to convert the Irish people from paganism to Christianity. His work, though in direct defiance to the laws of the country, was accomplished without one drop of blood being shed. His advice as members of the congregation stand taken by the Irish during the centuries of persecutions, in which they have never deviated from the faith as taught them by St. Patrick.

Resolutions Adopted by Hornellsville Council, K. of C. At a meeting of the Knights of Columbus held Thursday evening, March 16th, '09, the following resolutions were adopted: Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom and mercy to summon to His eternal rest our beloved chaplain and brother knight, Rev. Father Barlow, and Whereas, The Knights of Columbus of Hornellsville council, both as brothers who have sustained the severe loss of his association and advice as members of the congregation who worshipped under his guidance are desirous of testifying their respect to his memory, be it Resolved, That while we naturally grieve over our great loss, we find consolation in the firm belief that he who was so tireless in the service of his Maker on earth has received from his Master that eternal rest in God which is the greatest end of life, be it Resolved, That while we mourn with those who are bound by the nearest and dearest ties to our departed Father, we share the Christian Catholic belief of the Communion of saints and hope for a reunion in the world beyond the grave, where sorrow and tears are never known. Resolved, That these resolutions be transcribed on our minutes and that they be printed; and our charter be draped as a token of respect and veneration for the Christian character of this faithful servant of God, and as a memento of the love of our council. Tempus Fugit! Memento Mori!

The spring term of the Genesee Wesleyan Seminary opened Wednesday with a large attendance.

AMUSEMENTS. COOK OPERA HOUSE.

After two weeks of dainty and quiet bills, Cook Opera House will offer another of the kind of shows the people like best—that is a list of acts that make people laugh. At the head of this fun contingent is Fred Hallen of the old firm Hallen & Hart, assisted by his charming wife who is known on the stage as Mollie Fuller and their vehicle for comic one-act absurdity by George M. Cohen, called "His wife's Hero." It is not often Rochester gets a real vaudeville novelty, but in the scenic dance illusion of "The Lotus Flower," Herr Van Palm has given us the first chance to witness his latest effort which promises even greater results than his previous outputs. Anna Teresa Berger the foremost lady comedienne is another feature of the programme. James Richmond Glenroy who is known as "The man with the Green Gloves" will come direct from the Harlem Music hall, New York. The eccentric portion of the bill is allotted to Hayes & Bandy, who have taken a feature with Weber & Field's Dainty Duchess Company this season. One of the bright character acts is that of Dick and Alice McAvoy (the original Hogan Alley Kid) in their comedy success, "Casey's Corner." There are few bicycle acrobats as good as Harry Martelle, and he does some clever riding, but it is left to his wife Kate Martelle to create the sensation as a woman in a seldom capable of doing trick riding, and she is past mistress of the art. Two continuous performances of this excellent bill will be given every day the coming week. Ladies can avoid the crowds by attending the matinee, when there is room for all.

BAKER OPERA HOUSE. The phenomenal success achieved by the Shubert Stock Company since its introduction at the Baker must be exceedingly gratifying to the promoters.
