The members of the class of '98 of St. Patrick's parochial school enjoyed a day's outing at Sea Breeze Tuesday. The day was spent in sports and games and the various pleasures to be found about the bay. Several friends of the members and priests of the cathedral accompanied the class.

Two new stained glass windows are being placed in position in St. Patrick's cathedral. They are the gifts of Bishop McQuaid and Rev. Michael O'Brien of Lowell, Mass., formerly rector of the cathedral. The windows are beautiful specimens of art and will be a great addition to the beauty of the edifice. One of them representing the "Annunciation" and is on the gospel or west wall of the building. The other, "The Visitation," the gift of Father O'Brien, is being placed on the epistle side. The work will be completed in a day or two.

The many friends of Mrs. Hamill of Fulton avenue, will be pained to hear that she is dangerously ill at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Duman on Sherman street.

ST. JOSEPH'S.

The fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Egerer was celebrated at St. Joseph's church on Franklin street, Monday morning. A large number of relatives and friends attended the ceremony. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in their honor by their daughter, Mrs. J. Kinzel. A reception was held in the evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. M. Bauer, on Culver street. A number of out-of-town guests were present at the ceremony. The groom, whom many older Rochesterians will remember, came to this city in 1847, arriving via Quebec, and landed at the old Hanford landing at the lower falls. He was a member of the Union Guard of 1848, and was born in Bavaria in 1825. The bride was born in Westphalia and came to Rochester in 1849. Nearly all these years the couple have lived on North Avenue.

A Bismarck Romance.

A story is just now going the round at the Vienna newspapers concerning Prince Bismarck. We are told that Bismarck, while still a raw university student, was staying in the mountain regions of the Tyrol near Utenthal, and fell deeply in love with a beautiful young peasant girl. He offered to make her his wife, and in order that his marriage should not take her from her beloved mountains, he promised to give up his own country and stay in the Tyrol. The parents of the girl, simple peasant folk, objected, however, to their child, who had been brought up as a devout Catholic, being married to a Protestant Junker, who was a Protestant to boot. So the romance, which threatened to lose a Bismarck for Prussia, came to a sudden end and the hero of it returned to his alma mater at Berlin. In a hall at Utenthal there is still to be seen a picture of Bismarck in the uniform of his younger days. The heroine of the romance died many years ago as the well-to-do widow of an Austrian landed proprietor.—St. James's Gazette.

New York's Business Hours.

"I came to New York two weeks ago," said a promoter, "to interest half a dozen big capitalists in a scheme which was to their advantage as well as mine. I was now in New York and I have always understood that the office hours of the men whom I wanted to see began very late in the afternoon. You keep late hours in New York, and it is not reasonable to expect a man who has been up until 1 or 2 o'clock in the morning to show up at his office early. I kept late hours myself the first four or five nights I was here and I didn't get downtown until noon. I wasted five days hunting for my men without success. They were either out at lunch or had just gone up town or they were busy and couldn't see me. I was coming to the conclusion that unless I could run these men down at their homes I would not be able to see them, when I made up my mind to try to get at them in the forenoon. I came down town at 9 o'clock and before noon I had seen every one of my men and finished my business. New York may keep late hours, but my experience leads me to believe that if you want to accomplish anything with the men who have millions to invest down town, you must see them in the forenoon."—New York Sun.
