A POPULAR CANDIDATE.

Judge Carnahan Republican Nominee for Mayor.

Hon. George A. Carnahan, special county judge of Monroe county, has been selected as the Republican candidate for mayor.

Hon. George A. Carnahan was born at Ravenna, O., May 21, 1862. He received his early education at the public schools of his native place, where he entered Western university, at Middletown, Conn., and was graduated with honor in 1884. After his graduation from college Judge Carnahan removed to this city and has lived here since. Soon after coming to Rochester he took up the study of law in the office of Morgan & French. In 1888 he was admitted to the bar, and at once began the practice of his profession, in which he has attained honor and reward. Judge Carnahan is a resident of the Eleventh ward, the ward in which Mayor Warner resides, and knows the people of his ward to a man. Judge Carnahan has always been a Republican and from his youth has been interested in politics. He is a man of most engaging personality, with a frank countenance and a genial manner which makes him popular with everybody who enjoys his acquaintance. Appreciating his unusual qualities, the Republican party in 1894 made him its candidate for municipal court judge; and he was elected by a solid majority. For three years he served the position with credit, making hosts of friends.

Gov. Morton in 1896 appointed Judge Carnahan special county judge to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Judge A. H. Sutherland.

Last fall Judge Carnahan was elected to the same position for the full term of three years over Milton E. Gibbs by a majority of 3,746. His popularity is attested by the fact that he ran better than any man on the ticket, with the exception of Stephen J. Warren, who was especially strong in the country where he polled heavily.

Judge Carnahan is also a member of the board of managers of the State Industrial school.

BISHOP McQUAID IN BUFFALO.

A class of 200 girls and boys were confirmed at St. Mary's church Buffalo, last Sunday afternoon by Bishop McQuaid. The church was filled to the doors and the ceremony was an impressive one. The Buffalo Express says of the ceremony: Previous to the confirmation Bishop McQuaid preached his confirmation sermon to the class. He spoke of the insignificance of the fleeting pleasures and wealth of this world as compared with the possibilities of eternal happiness hereafter. The existence of the soul, he said, was everlasting. It must abide through all eternity either in happiness or in sorrow and pain and it is within the power of every man and woman to decide whether his or her soul shall abide after death with God and his chosen people or be damned for ever.

"It has become a popular and pleasing fad for people to claim that no such place as hell exists," said Bishop McQuaid. "They try to convince themselves that the Creator would not condemn anyone to everlasting pain. All such are trifling with their eternal welfare. Divine justice makes a hell necessary. No matter how we try to deceive ourselves there are two and only two possible destinations of the soul hereafter. Those who live upright lives, trust in God and hearken to the teachings of his ordained ministers will be taken home to heaven. Those who place worldly pleasures above the divine law will be doomed to abide in hell forever and ever as surely as there is a heaven, and there is a heaven just as surely as there is a God."

"It is unpleasant to think of hell. It is better to dwell upon the beauties of eternity, and these would I bring home to your hearts to-day. The frivolous, fleeting pleasures that lead men away from the church and imperil the future happiness of their souls are not worth striving after. Here everything that we call enjoyment, pleasure, ends with the night. Life is but a brief day then all is over. Men damn their immortal souls for wealth and then find that every grain of gold but adds to their burden of unhappiness. They drink the wine of worldly pleasures only to discover that it speedily turns bitter and loses its flavor. Make certain of the hereafter. God has given to you a soul and that soul must return to its Creator. Through all the countless ages of eternity it must exist. A little sacrifice here that you may enjoy and merit paradise hereafter certainly is not difficult to secure the reward."

Bishop McQuaid also preached at high mass at St. Mary's church.

THOMAS W. FORD.

The Popular Alderman Will Make a First-class Sheriff.

Alderman Thomas W. Ford of the Third ward is the Republican nominee for sheriff of Monroe county. The Republican party honored itself when it honored Thomas W. Ford. He is a man in all that the word implies. He is loyal to his friends, generous to a fault, but above all he is absolutely honest and fearless and despises shams. There is no duplicity about Thomas Ford. He is blunt but you know just where to find him. Mr. Ford is amply qualified to fill the position of sheriff both by natural ability and acquired experience. He was for several years a member of the board of supervisors, representing the Third ward in the county legislature. While there he was one of the prominent members and his voice was ever raised in defense of the rights of the towns. Albeit he never consented to anything that savored of injustice to the city's best interests. Mr. Ford's vote was always right. He will be the right man in the right place in the sheriff's office.

RICHARD GARDINER.

Richard Gardiner, Republican candidate for assembly in the third district, scarcely needs any introduction to the residents of that district, as he has lived therein since his birth in the Ninth ward, 33 years ago, and has creditably represented the third district during the past year.

After removing into the Second ward, Mr. Gardiner, when but 24 years of age, was elected as a member of the board of education. His active ability had become so apparent, however, that he was elected to the office of overseer of the poor, and he had become familiar with the duties as school commissioner.

Mr. Gardiner was twice chosen to succeed himself in the city's poor department, and his record while there is one of improved methods, economy and a betterment in the condition of city indigents, that has attracted the attention of philanthropists, as well as public officials. One of the most commendable laws ever secured, was in a large part drawn and its presentation in the legislature secured by him. It is the law making it mandatory for societies or institutions to have a judge pass upon the binding out of orphans. Another idea, and one which when put in practice, is a boon to hundreds of poverty-stricken husbands and fathers, was the establishment of the city stone yard.

The scheme originated with Mr. Gardiner and his is the credit. He was also largely instrumental in securing the annual appropriation of a fund by the board of supervisors, to the Children's Aid society, and was closely identified with the movement which brought about the present metropolitan ambulance system, and the annual appropriation of $4,000 from the contingent fund for equal distribution among the several hospitals.

CATHOLIC SOCIETIES.

What is Transpiring in the Different Fraternities.

Daughters of Erin.

Auxiliary 8, D. of E., held one of the grandest and most pleasant entertainments of the fall season at their rooms in the Durand Building on Friday evening. It was one of those entertainments which not only the D. of E. but any organization should be proud of as it set a precedent for others to take pattern after if they can. They commenced by giving the entertainment by talent from the D. of E. and A. O. H. exclusively. The programme was of a high order as will be seen by the names of those who took part in it and this is partly due to the untiring efforts of Mrs. Sliger, Mrs. Göttsman and Mrs. Lynch, the latter who acted as chairman in the absence of Mrs. Dixon, who was unavoidably prevented from being present by sickness. The others who took part were the Myer sisters, Miss M. Corcoran, Miss Mamie Mallon, the Century Club Quartette; Mrs. May Bogan, and Misses Beatrice and Mildred Gorham, Miss Jessie Love, recitation, Miss Laura Kosster, piano solo, Miss Grabenstetter, Mr. T. Crouch and James Burke wing dancing. The crowning success was when Mr. C. J. Doolan came forward and introduced Mr. James A. Donnan, of the Hibernian Rifles, who proved to be the star of the evening with his songs and impersonations. The thanks of our Auxiliary is due the Rifle Company for their assistance, also to Mr. Fred P. Dixon and Miss Laura Collington for the excellent music they furnished for the occasion and we hope in the near future to be able in some way to repay all our friends who have helped to make our party a financial and entertaining success.

Hibernian Rifles.

The weekly drill of the company took place at its headquarters in the City Building. After drill the company adjourned to its meeting room, and after transacting considerable business of importance, ordered the resolutions of condolence published, as appear elsewhere in THE JOURNAL. The committee of arrangements of their ball reported over 300 tickets sold, which means an unparalleled success and a reassurance of the good will and loyal support of their friends which is encouraging to the young men and their organization which is one of the oldest Catholic organizations in Western New York and most progressive socially, as well as a loyal factor in the promotion of Hibernianism, and one which its members are justly proud for its past record. Never were their future brighter than present indications point to as when the company presents a call to its friends' support, it comes from quarters where it is least expected. And this accounts for

The people's voice is with us, No one can stay the tide, So clear the way on our ball day, The boys are hand in hand Sounding down the line the counterpoint. We're soldiers to a man, So clear the way, till that great day, The day their ball begins.

It seems to be an unquestionable indication that Thanksgiving Eve will be another one of the grand successes which will add new laurels to the glory of the company of Hibernian Rifles. THE JOURNAL hopes to be able to present to its readers the pictures of the officers and members of the company with a brief history of the organization about November 21st, which will embrace a period of 30 years. If we are able to do this it will be the first time since its formation that any paper was able to do so. The next meeting will be Oct. 26th.

At a special meeting of Company A, Hibernian Rifles held on Oct. 10th, the following resolutions of condolence on the death of Comrade Thomas Flynn's father, who died on Monday October 9th, at his home 15 Lorimer street, city, were unanimously adopted.

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God in His infinite wisdom to take from the family of our Comrade Thomas Flynn, his beloved father, be it

Resolved, that we, the members of Company A, Hibernian Rifles, extend to him our deepest sorrow, and that we commend him for consolation to the Divine Power who "doeth all things well," be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved comrade, spread in the minutes of our meeting and published in THE CATHOLIC JOURNAL.

JOSEPH C. WILSON.

Joseph C. Wilson, one of the four candidates for the assessors'hip, has represented the Nineteenth ward in the common council for the past four years, and in that body has made a most enviable record. Mr. Wilson was born in the city of Binghamton 48 years ago, and is in the prime of life. He came to this city in 1878, and ever since has prominently been identified with business interests. He is the guiding spirit in the jewelry and pawn-broking establishment of Wilson company, and is identified with other business and manufacturing interests.

Mr. Wilson's record in the common council has been a most creditable one. During the four years he has participated in the deliberations of that body he has not been absent from a single meeting, whether regular, adjourned or special.
