FRANK F. JONES.

Frank F. Jones, the Democratic nominee for assembly in the first district, is a man of excellent reputation and a lifelong Democrat. He was born in the town of Ontario, Wayne county, N. Y., Sept. 19, 1866, where he lived until 1881, when with his parents he moved to Webster, where he has since resided. He has been engaged in business with his father, Edwin Jones, in the manufacture of pumps, also managing a large farm. He is the only son of Edwin Jones, who was elected justice of the peace of Ontario, which office he held for six years, and he also was assessor of the town of Webster nine years. Mr. Jones is a nephew of Hon. F. M. Jones. He was educated in the Webster union school.

Last March Mr. Jones surprised the political prophets by defeating "Anse" Wright for supervisor. The wisdom of his election has been made very apparent. During his term of office he has shown himself to be a very capable official, ever alert to the interests of his constituents.

He has always shown a remarkable grasp of affairs in the board and has been one of the leading members. His nomination for the higher office of assemblyman now comes as a reward for his faithful service. Signs are not wanting that Mr. Jones will make an excellent run. There are only three wards in this assembly district and there is little doubt but that Mr. Jones will carry each one by a large majority.

In the towns Mr. Jones is naturally stronger than his opponent and the prospects of his election are bright indeed. A better or stronger nomination it would have been difficult to make.

Otto U. Hoefler.

Mr. Hoefler was a delegate from the Fifth ward to the first convention of the League of Republican clubs in Saratoga. On this occasion the big hall was opened in which several notable meetings have been held since. He also held the original McKinley delegation from his ward.

Otto U. Hoefler is of Canadian parentage. He was born in New Hamburg, Dutchess county, N. Y., in 1866. His parents came to Rochester in 1883 when this city was a mill town. His father erected a house at North Clinton street, which was one of the first dwellings built in that section of the city. In 1884 the health of the nominee's father became impaired and he was forced to seek a colder climate. He moved to New Hamburg, where Mr. Hoefler was born. Mr. Hoefler came to this city in 1891 and worked a year for his brother, Charles Hoefler, and lived in a house on the site now occupied by Salem church.

The death of his father a year later caused him to return home. He took care of the family affairs for years and learned the tailoring trade. In 1891 he returned to Rochester where he has remained ever since. Mr. Hoefler established himself as a tailor in this city in 1897 in North St. Paul street, where he has since been located.

For many years he has been a prominent member of the Salem church and has always been identified with the charitable work of that parish. In 1896 he and George Long were the contestants for a diamond. Between them the two men collected $3,000 for the church funds. Mr. Hoefler's charitable work has not been confined to one parish or particular church as acknowledged in his position as president of the League of Republican clubs. He is a member of the Rochester club. He is a very large taxpayer and has the interests of property holders thoroughly at heart.

Mr. Alkenhead was a member of the common council from 1899 to 1903 and from 1903 to 1908. He is qualified by experience, both as a business man and as a public official, for the position of alderman. His Republicanism is of the strongest type, yet he has long been noted for his fairness in his relations with members of all parties. The voters of the Sixth ward will make no mistake in registering their choice of William Alkenhead for alderman.

LYMAN M. OTIS.

Lyman M. Otis, one of the four candidates nominated for assessor, was born Nov. 12, 1851, in the town of Henrietta. His father, the late William Otis, was 55 years of age and from that time on he looked out for himself. He grew up with the town and in 1868 was elected to the first public office he ever held; that of town clerk. Soon after, he was elected justice of the peace, which office he held for nine years. In 1882 he was appointed internal revenue assessor for the district of Henrietta, and Rush by President Lincoln. In 1887 Mr. Otis removed to this city, where he has lived ever since. He is 35 years of age. Engaging in the lumber business, the firm name being Chase & Otis when on Croch's Island, he worked continuously ever since until last spring, when he retired from the firm of L. M. Otis & Co. Soon after coming to the city, political honors again sought him and he was elected supervisor of the Fourth ward in 1891. He was again elected supervisor from this ward in 1893 and served continuously until 1898. He was chairman during the sessions of "31-22" and "32-33. From 1879 to 1881 he was assessor from the Third ward. The honor of being the chairman of the building committee that built the courthouse was also held by Mr. Otis. He is a member of the Lumbermen's association and the Lumbermen's union. He is president of the Monroe Avenue local association; a member of Hamilton chapter. His education was obtained in Monroe academy and Lima seminary. In his early twenties he taught school in Chestnut street for the past 30 years.

Hiram H. Edgerton.

A man who has made a success of all that he has ever undertaken is Hiram H. Edgerton, the Republican candidate for president of the common council. It is almost superfluous to endeavor to tell the citizens of Rochester that he is, or how well qualified he is for the office for which he has been nominated. A leading citizen of Rochester, the ablest of contractors and builders, he has gained a practical knowledge of men and affairs that is possessed by few.

Mr. Edgerton was born April 19, 1847, at Beaufort, Allegany county. When 12 years of age he came to this city with his father, who was a contractor and builder. He then became a contractor and builder with which he has been prominently identified ever since. He is now president of the Builders' Exchange and has held many positions of trust both public and private. He was the president of the board of education during the building of the Free academy. He was a member and chairman of the east side trunk sewer committee and has been active in his completion the first great sewer system of the city.

George G. Munts.

George G. Munts, the Republican nominee for supervisor in the Seventh ward, has long been one of the representative business men in that ward and when he takes his seat in the board of supervisors on Jan. 1, his constituents will have a man who will represent them in a manner they will be proud of.

Mr. Munts is a contracting painter and decorator by trade, hence he is in the prime of life. He is also an active member in many mutual benefit associations. Mr. Munts has won a wide reputation from the ranks and can be essentially and fairly styled as a "workingman's candidate." Personally he is of a genial disposition and his constituents will always find him approachable and ever ready to respond to their demands. He has resided all his life in the Seventh ward and is a large taxpayer.

Joseph C. Wilson.

Alderman Joseph C. Wilson is one of the most faithful of public servants. He has long been one of the representative business men in that ward and when he takes his seat in the board of supervisors on Jan. 1, his constituents will have a man who will represent them in a manner they will be proud of.

Rollin S. Bostwick.

In the Eleventh ward the Republicans have named an exceedingly strong ticket. The fact is that it is sure to be elected and one that will help to elect Judge Carnahan majestically in his home precinct. Rollin S. Bostwick, the candidate for supervisor, is exceedingly popular as was evidenced at the caucus when he was nominated by a flattering plurality, although there were six tickets in the field.

Rollin S. Bostwick, candidate for supervisor on the Republican ticket in the Eleventh ward, has been a resident of Rochester for 25 years. He has been here from Canandaigua. For a number of years he has resided in the Eleventh ward, where he has elected a wide acquaintance both among Republicans and Democrats. His friends, regardless of party lines, will support him in his candidacy for the supervisory office. They know that if elected he will make an ideal member of the board.

Mr. Bostwick was educated at Canandaigua and Lima institutions and on coming to Rochester engaged in the contracting business, which he gave up to study law. He studied with the late Judge Danforth and was admitted to the bar in 1897. Since that time he has practiced his profession as a member of the firm of Mitchell & Bostwick. Mr. Bostwick, although one of the young members of the bar, has already made a name for himself in that profession, where he has attained much success. He is extremely popular among his fellow attorneys and they all hope to see him elected to the office to which he aspires.

Mr. Bostwick has never held political office, although he has for a number of years been an active worker in the Republican ranks. He is a studious, capable and upright young man and one who has made his way to the front by his own ability and energy. His friends are confident that if the Republicans of the ward elect him to the office of supervisor, Mr. Bostwick will work for the Republican ticket in the past he will be their next supervisor.
