A meeting of the Central Branch (Dublin) of the Gaelic League was held on Nov. 22. Mr. Tadhg O'Donoghue in the chair. The literary program consisted of a debate in Irish. entitled "An budhuinn dul thar sails go Parllamuid?" (Is it worth our while to go to Parliament at all?) The discussion was very animated, Irish speakers from the four provinces taking part. The unanimous opinion of the speakers was that under present conditions it is a waste of time to send representatives to the Imperial Parliament. If they are to be sent at all the right men must be sent, that is, those who really represent the country in erable stress was laid upon the fact that Ireland cannot adequately express herself except through the medium of her language, and that our members of Parliament, if they wish to voice the aspirations of the country, must speak its language in Parliament, and out of it must do men's shares in the work of its preservation. Among those Messrs. Rogers, Courtney, O'Lehane, McBride, Shortall, MacNeill, Hayes, O'Farrelly, Healy, O'Kelly and Gordon. The first meeting of the new committee was held.. Mr. R. MacS. Gordon occupied the chair, and there were present Miss Borthwick Miss Killeen, Miss O'Donovan, Miss O'Reilly, Messrs. Kenny, MacNeill, Murphy. Merriman, O'Neill and Mornan. the land for the people. The Donegal Independent of Nov. 24 says: "The fact that not a single Nationalist nor even a 'Cawtholic' attended the meeting in Ballyshan an to raise funds for the widows and familles of the Trishmen who fell in England's cause in South Africa, is significant. The sympathies of the overmhelming majority of the populations go out to the 2,000 Irishmen who are fighting against England in the ranks of the Boers."

Donegal Independent of Nov. 24. said: "The United Irish League has killed faction in the West. It is rapldly pushing forwrd its outposts ins the Midlands and South, and the ghouls who have been poisoning public life for years past with their noxious exhalations are scurrying to hitine n'aces The new popular bodies created by the Local Government bill h. given their support to the movement with patriotic enthusiasm. At the large meetings in the other provinces to found branches of League county and district come tons vie with each other as to who can be of most service to the caus.

The memory of the Manchester martyrs' murder by the British is green in the hearts of the people in Downpatrick Accordingly a vast assembage A large meeting of the Rathcormack of the people of Downpatrick and the branch of the United Irish League was surrounding districts paraded the held on Nov. 26, Mr. Patrick Kennedy streets on the anniversary of the self-presiding.
