THE UNIFICATION BILL.

The Rochester Herald of Monday contains an interview with Rt. Rev. B. J. McQuaid, in which he states some objections to the "unification bill." We quote a portion:

The Catholics of New York state do not, as a body, demand a portion of the state school money for parochial schools. They claim they will not make on this point what they know to be a useless fight.

But the proper ground to take on this subject is that it is not whether the Boers are or are not tolerant in matters of religion, so far as regards the justice or injustice of their cause as against England.

We learn from a reliable source, says the Cincinnati Telegraph, that another attempt is being made to proselytize the children of the poorer classes of the Catholic Italians of this city.

The Jesuit Fathers' new uptown school—at Eighty-third street and Park avenue, New York, will be opened in the fall.

CATHOLICS IN TRANSVAAL.

The question whether or not Catholics are eligible to any office in the Transvaal has been debated with considerable acrimony in the exchange which have reached us from England and Ireland during the past few weeks.

It will be wise for those who believe and proclaim that the cause of the Boers, as against England, is a just cause, not to lay too much stress on these allegations as to the liberality of the Boers to Catholics.

What should we learn from this parable? We should learn three things. First, to be vigilant that the devil may not sow cockle in our hearts or in the hearts of those under our care.

The Odon Theatre, Buenos Ayres, is heated by electricity. This is not the first theatre in the world to be so heated, but very few large public buildings have been warmed in this manner.

If Catholic schools were to refuse to subscribe for so-called educational magazines that revile our old religion, the managing editors would soon be forced into a more careful revision of some articles submitted to them.

The Suez canal cost $100,000,000, the Manchester ship canal $90,000,000, the North Sea canal $37,500,000, the North Holland and the Corinth canals $15,000,000 each, while the partly completed Panama canal has swallowed up over $250,000,000.

THE GOSPELS

GOSPEL: St. Matthew xiii. 24-31 Fifth Sunday after Epiphany.—At that time Jesus spoke this parable to the multitude, saying: "The kingdom of heaven is likened to a man that sowed good seed in his field; but while men were asleep his enemy came and oversowed cockle among the wheat, and went his way."

What should we learn from this parable? We should learn three things. First, to be vigilant that the devil may not sow cockle in our hearts or in the hearts of those under our care.
