What is Transpiring in the Different Parishes.

St. Rev. Bishop McQuaid Gives the Organization Some Words of Advice.

The "Internal Leader" is the title of a new publication devoted to the interests of the 53,000 Catholic women who compose the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association.

The "Internal Leader" is the title of a new publication devoted to the interests of the 53,000 Catholic women who compose the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association.

Rochester, N. Y., Feb. 9, 1900. To the Supreme President and Supreme Trustees of the L. C. B. A.

Honored Ladies: I am in receipt of your favor of Feb. 5, communicating the resolution of the trustees that I shall be asked to write an article for the opening number of the Fraternal Leader, the proposed official organ of the L. C. B. A.

In my office as Spiritual Advisor there are many things it might be becoming for me to say, while the writing of an article would scarcely be in my line of work.

Two questions come before us in this new undertaking. One is the economic and financial aspect; the other is the advantage and help such a journal may be to the Association as a corporate body, and to individual members.

You are fully conversant with all belonging to the finances of the Association, and are therefore better judges than I of the prospecting success of this new undertaking.

The second question invites remark. A journal such as you intend to place before your associates, cannot fail to interest, serve and instruct them in many subjects near to their hearts.

It is the aim of the Leader to furnish its readers with valuable information on subjects relating to mutual life insurance, its advantages and dangers.

While the L. C. B. A. is not a church organization, its membership is confined to practical Catholics.

There are many reasons why this restrictive enrollment of Catholics is advisable and imperative.

There are many reasons why this restrictive enrollment of Catholics is advisable and imperative. These reasons are sufficiently well understood to dispense with discussions.

The fact that all the members are of one faith leaves the editors of the Leader free to introduce many matters of interest to its readers without the risk of offending non-Catholics.

Catholics can be encouraged to take a leading part in all that concerns the welfare of their church and parish.

Works of charity, homes for orphans and schools for the children of the people are subjects that admit of no controversy among Catholics, and cannot fail to be welcome in an Association that is wisely benevolent in its conceptions and workings.

There is, honored ladies, an advice that your Spiritual Advisor may with propriety and full warrant place before you. It is that peace and charity should reign in the columns of the Leader, that its pages should not be used for the airing of private schemes or grievances, or contentious squabbles or wranglings, or petty disputes best settled at home, and never to be inflicted on other and unoffending members of the society.

Wishing the Leader and all belonging to the L. C. B. A. all manner of blessings and prosperity,

Very sincerely, yours in Christ, B. J. McQUAID, Bishop of Rochester.

The Union Club will hold a dancing party on Monday evening.

the division and its members must be justly proud of this, for never in the history of Frankfort hall was there so large a gathering of people within its walls, for to say it was crowded is putting it mildly; it is a fact that standing room was at a premium, and the expression on all sides was that Division 4 is "all right," and they surely are, as the reception proved them all workers, and their success is largely due to Brothers T. J. Sommers, M. J. Murphy, T. Quirk, M. J. Gernon, W. F. Smith, P. Daly, J. Nery, J. Carney and J. Dougherty.

Always speak politely and kindly to servants. Tell neither of your faults nor those of others.

Have a place for everything and everything in its place. Hide your own troubles, but watch to help others out of theirs.

The London Lancet declares that, while Scotland carries religious conscientiousness to such lengths that remote parishes may have three churches practically identical in doctrine and worship, there are, on the other hand, hundreds of parishes in which no medical men or nurses are provided, and where even the religious sentiments of the people will not lead them to risk the giving of a cup of water to a patient ill with a contagious fever.
