Corning.

Miss Mary Aul and her piece, Mary Sohab, left tor New York early in the week. to visit friends in the metropolis.

Oliver T. Egginton, an old and respected solident of Corning, died on Sunday at I a. that been impaired for many years and his death was not unexpected. He was a piomeet in the glass business in this country, soming to Corning about 30 year, ago, and wass partner in the firm of T. G. Hawkes & Co., until about four years ago when he established a manufactory of his own and m company with his two sons, loseph and Waller F., has since manufactured rich cut glass. Recently a company was formed and the firm has been known as that of O. F. Egginton & Co. The funeral was held on Tuesday and a solemn requiem high mass J. M. Bustin assisted by Father Darcy of Addison, and Rev. W. Lec. The bearers Durial was in St. Mary's cemetery. Besides two sons, joseph A. and Walter F., the deceased is survived by his half sister, Mrs. Mary Dow of West Second street, this city.

Miss Anna S.Oan has returned from a five week's visit with friends at Gloversville.

St. Mary's school was closed on Monday afternoom and the pupils took advantage of the superabundance of snow to enjoy a long sigh-ride, Two merry parties of boys and guls left the town, one in charge of the Sisters going to Addison and the other, in charge Mrs. A. Hennessy going to Big Flais. It is meedless to say that all enjoyed the outing very much.

A piece of poetry (?) fell into the hands of the writer latery, which ran as follows

"Farewell I bid thee, truest friend E'en tho' 't will break my heart, And yet t'were beiter in the end That thou and I shall part.

Few friends as staunch and true as thee Hereatter shall I meet, Wet must I bow to faie's decree And leave thee, loose thee, sweet.

This seems sentimental and for a moment Wit seemed as if we had stumbled upon a love ballad of some sort, but investigation brought to light the fact that it was only an ode addressed by a young man to his beloved pipe inring lent.
