FATHER DESHON. C. . P.

The selection of venerable Father Deshon as preacher at the dedication of the Catholic Chapel, West Point, last Sunday, was singularly appropriate As he stood before the congregation, every inch still a soldier, despite his place in the private caspel of Bishop flood" to the heroic race of Bruce and preparation have been devoted to its nigh eighty years, and indulged in Joilvet, O. M. I. West Point reminiscences when a co det and room-mate of Grant's in the famous institution, sixty years ago, he won all hearts, especially those of the cadets and officers who formed a large part of his audience.

. More than eloquence of the tongue was that honest, rugged face, the sympathetic force of his simple, earnest words, and the scattered, whitened hair that the breeze sometimes blow -over his furrowed brow. If we mistake not, it was while at West Point that the national capital Father Deshon became a Catholic, with the late General Rosecrans.

A celebration such as, it is believed, was never before witnessed in the United States was observed in Paterson, N. J. It was the feast of Corpus Christi, and thousands of people journeyed to St. Bonaventure's church and participated in the services arranged by the Franciscans. High mass was sung at 9:30 o'clock, and at 11 o'clock procession was formed, in which priests and members of societies to the number of five thousand paraded through the principal streets in the western part of the city. A platoon of clies led the procession, and another We the sair. The Remed Sac-

All the houses were decorated with flowers and bunting, and on the stoops of several residences altars had been erected. At two points benediction was given. The streets in the vicinity were crowded. The best of order prevaild throughout the time of the solinn ceremonies. As the priest bearing the Sacred Host under a beautiful silk canopy came the way the multitudes of people knell in the street and devoutly adored their Lord and God. It was an inspiring spectacle.

According to a dispatch from Norfolk Ohio, the remains of Rev Ignatius Ponchele, the first priest to have charge of St. Mary's Catholic Church in that city, who died forty years ago, and whose remains were placed in a vault under the altar to the church, were exhunced on Monday to be removed to the church burying ground. The casket was opened and the parties naving the matter in charge were startled and frightened at finding the remains in a perfect state of preservaion. The face was as natural and lifelke as though the dead priest had just ain down for a sleep. His vestments were also wall preserved.

At Baltimore, the other day, Cardlial Gibbons urged upon the young men of the various Catholic societies the necessity of organization and federaion, declaring that the old saying that 'In union there is strength," never had such forceful meaning as in the day in which we live "A drop of water," said the Cardinal, 'does not appear to amount to much, but let us take mil-Question has been raised as to the lions of them and unite them and we

SACRED HEART CONVENT.

At the Sacred Heart convent in Prince street Wednesday were held the annual graduating exercises, when five young ladies who had completed the course of study were presented with their diplomas by Rt. Rev. Bishop McQuaid. The occasion was also marked by the rendition of a musical and literary programme of unusual excellence.

The graduates were: Miss O'Brien of Detroit, Miss Langie of Rochester, Misses O'Dea, O'Brien and Meads of Buffalo.

Those taking part in the exercises in addition to the graduates were Misees Marnie Duffie, Helen Fitzpatrick, Florence McRoden, Julia in this world is the success of your Finucane, Mary Bryce, Catherine Moran, Marie and Anna Foley, Adele
