GALWAY.

A recent exchange contained this sad note on Irish immigration: large number of boys and girls left Carraroe during the past few weeks for the United States. Any one would be fathers. Never did so many emigrate within a short period. These people would never dream of going to foreign land if they were not robbed by the British Government. Why not supply the poor with fishing smacks? Why nt get lace factories started? Why not get lace factories started? or why not get an agricultural bank established?

On May 15 a large force of police, under the command of District Inspector Dowling, accompanied the Sheriff's baffiff to the scene of the heartless eviction of Martin Gavin and John Mc-Ging, with their weak families, at Ardagh, Ballyheane. They were cast out on the roadside, under no other shelter than the canopy of heaven. May God pity them. Their homes were occupied by two emergency men sent down by the Protection of Property ssociation. The Lord knows we have had a surfeit of protection of property. The unfortunate tenants were the serfs of the Marquis of Sligo. The Westport Union promptly granted relief. We hope the noble Marquis will be rewarded in the next world for his "acts of charity" while on earth!

When the ceremony of reception was ended, Father Tierney recited the Rosary and gave Benediction of the Most Holy Sacrament. The procession then reformed and returned to the Convent.
