

OUR IRISH LETTER

NEWS FROM ALL THE COUNTIES OF IRELAND.

What is Being Done by the People at Home—Various Items From Every Section of the Emerald Isle.

CONNAUGHT.

GALWAY.—We deeply regret to chronicle the death of the Rev. Father Michael Henneley, Inverin, which took place March 6 at the County Hospital, Prospect Hill, Galway, of cancer. The deceased, who was only five years ordained, belonged to the Archdiocese of Tuam, and was a native of Ballyvaughan, County Mayo. After Mass on Thursday morning, the remains were removed and the funeral, which included a large number of the leading citizens, left in a line of cars and carriages, to accompany the remains to Carris, near Tuam. On reaching Carris the remains were conveyed to the church, where solemn High Mass for the repose of his soul was celebrated, after which the interment took place.

The death of Miss Margaret Quinn, Ballyvaughan, Co. Galway, aged 19 years, occurred Feb. 21, up to one week before her death she was in good health. The Rev. Father O'Farrell officiated at the burial place.

LEITRIM.—English members of Parliament who saw in the past office of the House of Commons a few days after the outrage on the Irish members, a strong and beautiful walking cane addressed to Mr. Patrick McHugh, got afraid. They thought the Irish members were getting armed and meant business. On the head of the stick was engraved a large and very artistic shamrock. The admirers of the honorable member for North Leitrim sent him the present as a mark of their appreciation of how he defied the Britishers in the Commons.

MAYO.—Widow Sammon, who was evicted from her farm in Carrow-Kenedy some time ago, which farm was taken by a fellow named Peter Scallion, continues to give the said Scallion, the resident magistrate and the police a hot time of it, though it costs her many months in prison at Westport Sessions March 6, she was sentenced to two months' imprisonment for striking Scallion on the head while he was under police protection. She gave the resident magistrate such a tongue lashing that he sentenced her to one month's imprisonment in addition to the other two.

Mr. O'Kelly, M. P., had a communication from the Lord Chancellor's Secretary saying that the Lord Chancellor decided to issue a writ and that he could now resume his magisterial functions in the county. As expressing the general feeling Mr. Gaughan referred to the matter at the Ballina District Council, and proposed the following resolution, which was seconded by Mr. Flynn and passed unanimously, the chairman, Mr. Melvin, J. P., saying it gave him much pleasure to put it: "Resolved, That we are extremely glad to learn that the Lord Chancellor has reinstated Mr. Conor O'Kelly, M. P., in the commission of the peace for the County Mayo, and we offer Mr. O'Kelly our cordial congratulations on the fact."

The ceremonies of profession and reception lately took place in the Convent of Mercy, Ballinrobe. Miss Sara McEvilly, sister of the Rev. J. McEvilly, Claremorris, being solemnly professed in religion Sister Mary Bernard, and Miss Della Waldron, Claremorris, receiving the white veil and the name of Sister Mary Raphael, in religion. Most Rev. Dr. MacEvilly, Archbishop of Tuam, celebrated the Mass and performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. J. McDermott, Adm., and Rev. J. Waldron. Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was given at the conclusion.

ROSCOMMON.—One hundred and fifty salmon have been captured in the Shannon at Tarmonbarry. This indicates a good season for anglers. At the early age of 22 years, on March 3 died Mr. Peter Conaton, The Grange, Boyle, deeply regretted. During three years he had been on the staff of the Roscommon Herald. The members of the Tusk branch of the United Irish League held a well attended public meeting in Tusk chapel yard Sunday, March 3, its principal object being to extend the operations of the branch to Bunamucka and Killina districts. Delegates attended from the adjoining districts, and the proceedings were most enthusiastic, and recalled the old fighting days of the Land League. Mr. Bernard McGann presided. A resolution was unanimously adopted calling on the six District Councilors belonging to the branch to vote for the co-optation of Mr. McHugh, League candidate, at next Friday's meeting of the Stokesstown Board.

The death of Mrs. McKeon, wife of Mr. John McKeon, Roscommon, occurred rather suddenly, at her residence Feb. 28. Deceased was in her usual health on that day, and about 2 o'clock she took ill and despite the aid of Dr. Joseph McDonnell she quietly passed away. The funeral was largely and respectfully attended.

Sligo.—The young men of the town of Sligo recently made a presentation of a purse full of sovereigns to Mr. Thomas Haddy, who had represented that district for some years the banking firm of Murphy & Co., Clontarf. During his sojourn in Sligo Mr. Haddy was a popular figure at concerts and other kinds of entertainments. The presentation was made by Mr. J. O'Connell, J. P., presided at the presentation of the purse.

ST. PATRICK'S.—The feast of St. Patrick's Day was celebrated with a splendid and solemnity beyond what is ordinarily associated with such occasions, and to the role. At the solemn Mass Most Rev. Dr. Browne presided, assisted by Very Rev. Martin Horley, Dean of MUNSTER.

CARLOW.—The United Irish League is making great progress in this county. Many new branches are in course of being formed, and the inhabitants are now as enthusiastic about the spread of the League as are its founders and the leaders of the people. Events of very recent occurrence in the House of Commons have given an impetus to the movement which was much needed in some places.

DUBLIN.—The second of the Jubilee processions arranged for the men of the parish of Kingstown took place March 3, and visited the Church of the Assumption, St. Joseph's, St. Michael's and St. Patrick's. The procession was of enormous dimensions. The procession of the women of the parishes, which marched through Kingstown the same day, was one to which only the highest terms of commendation could be applied.

The professional jubilee visits to the churches appointed by the Archbishop of Dublin were commenced Feb. 21. The spectacle of the vast numbers walking in procession through the city was most impressive, and the devotion in the churches most fervent. The third series of visits to the churches in the city will be held on St. Peter's church, Dublin, on Monday, Feb. 22, and on St. Andrew's church, Dublin, on Tuesday, Feb. 23, and on St. James's church, Dublin, on Wednesday, Feb. 24, and on St. Martin's church, Dublin, on Thursday, Feb. 25, and on St. Nicholas's church, Dublin, on Friday, Feb. 26, and on St. John's church, Dublin, on
