COOK OPERA HOUSE.

Manager Moore has arranged for the current week a programme of all star acts that please everybody individually and collectively. It certainly will be a holiday week as Decoration Day has not been overlooked and among the many star novelties that will appear are the Blondells, in their vaudeville sketch called "A Cheerful Idiot". Pretty Kittie Mitchell, the "dainty queen of vaudeville" is to return with her "Little Red Riding Hood," or something just as good, and all the captivating sweetness, neatness and vivacity of which she is composed. The three original marvelous Merrills, the greatest trick bicycle riders ever seen. Two clever stars known as Willie Hale and Francis. They contribute, it is said, a performance welcome for its ingenious novelty. The manipulation of hoops by Willie Hale, and the grace and daring exhibited by his pretty partner, Miss Francis, in a combined juggling and rolling hoop act, are very attractive. Jacklin and Ingram, the illustrated song men are playing their first engagement at this house, and come highly commended from other cities. John E. Camp, one of the best comedians that has been in America, is to make his second appearance here, and as he is an originator, his material will all be new. Hill and Whittaker, musical stars, will have a choice lot of clever novelties to offer. One of the most sterling acts on the unexcelled programme will be that of August Cook and Company in "Napoleon" one of the brightest productions ever exploited in vaudeville. Next comes George Gorman, the comedian and little Francis Keppler the dancing wonder, in their terpsichorean comedy sketch entitled "Crippen's Corner". Miss Keppler sings in a voice far better than that of the average child artist, while her dancing it is said, deserves to be called remarkable. She introduces many new fancy steps and shows wonderful skill and endurance in her toe dancing. Prof. Joe Monk will furnish all kinds of music, among which will be "On Review" march and two-steps by J. H. Silberbery. Two shows daily, 2.15 and 8.15.

There is a great treat in store for the theater going public of this city, as Manager Moore of the Cook Opera Company announces that on or about June 10th the Murray-Lane Opera Company will make its bow to our citizens. Mr. Murray and Miss Lane have for a number of seasons been the leading features of the renowned Castle Square Opera Company of Boston. They have won the praise of the Metropolitan and Boston critics, and it is said that the chorus they carry is the strongest ever heard outside of the Metropolis. The cast is a good one, and includes besides the principals, Miss Eleanor Kent, Joe Smith, Henri Laurent, Harry Brown and many others. The scenic environment is all that could be desired.

BAKER THEATRE
"Under Two Flags" has caught on with the theatergoers of Rochester. One has but to see the audiences that have gone to the Baker this week to realize the truth of this remark. They are not only so large that they crowd the standing room, but many have been turned away, being unable to gain admission. It has therefore been decided to devote a second week to this great play, and the advance sale is said to be large enough to guarantee another record breaking week. This remarkable incident is most notable in the local theatrical history. The elaborate production of the famous military drama, "Northern Lights" will be made by the Baker stock company the week of June 3, and the aim of the management will be to even "excell in magnitude the production of "Under Two Flags." The usual popular priced matinees will continue to be given on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week. Seats are on sale one week in advance.

Tour of the Continent.
The New York Central offers the public a tour of the continent by special train personally conducted on the occasion of the Fifth International Convention Epworth League to be held at San Francisco July 18th to 23rd. The train will cover 12,000 miles and will be 38 days in making the tour including stops. Three different combinations of tours are offered at very reasonable rates. For illustrated booklet giving itinerary and rates and descriptive articles of places to be visited call at New York Central office, 20 State street, or will be mailed on request. Address J. C. Kalbfleisch, district passenger agent.

Division 2, A. O. H.

The following resolutions were adopted at a special meeting of Div. 2, A. O. H., of Monroe County, May 14th, 1901.

Whereas, Our Heavenly Father has in His Infinite Wisdom removed from among us one of our worthy and respected brothers, Charles J. Muldoon. Therefore, it becomes our sad duty as members of Div. 2, to express our great sorrow at his death as well as our sincere sympathy for his bereaved family, Therefore,

Resolved, That the removal of such a life from our midst leaves a vacancy and a shadow that will be deeply realized by members of this Division.

Resolved, That we extend to his bereaved wife and children our heartfelt sympathy in this their saddest hour, for the loss of an affectionate and kind husband and father, and that we respectfully recommend them for consolation to that Divine Power who doeth all things for the best, feeling sure that to them as to us there is comfort in the knowledge that the deceased was not only manly and honorable in all respects but was also a devoted and true Catholic.

Resolved, That as a token of respect to our late brother's memory our charter be draped in mourning for the period of 30 days, that these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this Division, that a copy be forwarded to the family of our deceased brother and that copy be sent to THE CATHOLIC JOURNAL for publication.
Committee - Edward Moriarty, J. P. Rickard, Jr., Cornelius O'Neil.

WEEKLY OBITUARY CALENDAR.

Sunday, May 26, 1901. - Gospel, St. John xiv, 23-31. - Descent of the Holy Ghost. Monday, 27 - St. Mary Magdalen of Pazzi, virgin. Tuesday, 28 - St. German, bishop, confessor. Wednesday 29. - St. Cyril, martyr, fast Thursday, 30 - St. Felix, priest, martyr. Friday, 31 - St. Angela Merici, virgin, fast. Saturday, June 1 - St. Justin, martyr.

We have to-day in the United States 14,000,000 or 15,000,000 Catholics. The churches, colleges, schools, convents, hospitals, orphanages and other institutions of piety, charity education and apostolic zeal, with which the whole country is covered are not the creations of the civil State or of rich religious corporations—they are the results of the penitence of the Catholic people, the embodiment in brick and stone of the sweat of their brow, of their hard labor, bestowed freely to God and his Christ.

The sumptuous chapel built to commemorate the many victims of the terrible fire which took place a few years ago at the Charity bazaar in Paris is now finished, and is generally considered to be exceptionally artistic and appropriate. It contains a very curious optical illusion. The dome is painted by Maignan, and represents the Virgin surrounded by angels carrying the implements of the Passion, with the victims of the awful catastrophe rising from their graves at her feet. Seen from the right hand side, the Virgin and angels alone appear, but if the spectator goes to the left he sees only the unfortunate victims ascending to glory, the Madonna and her celestial host, by an arrangement of the light, being no longer visible.

Rev. Dr. Barry, the English Roman Catholic divine who is best known as a novelist, is writing a volume for the "Story of the Nation Series." The London Chronicle says it is a sketch of the papal monarchy from Gregory the Great to Boniface VIII.

The Catholic Converts' League, recently established in New York with the approbation of his Grace Archbishop Corrigan, has gone to a swift success. Its members have increased to nearly two hundred, many of whom are of most distinguished social position.

Mgr. Zardetti, who was for some years Bishop of St. Cloud, in Minnesota, and later Archbishop of Bucharest, is now titular Archbishop of Moclissus, assistant at the Pontifical throne, canon at the Liberian basilica and consultant of more than one Roman congregation. He lives at the Procurator of Holy Cross, in Rome. Rumor says that Mgr. Falconio may succeed Mgr. Martinielli in Washington, and Archbishop Zardetti succeed Mgr. Falconio in Ottawa.

Archbishop Bruchesi has undertaken to visit and inspect all the colleges of his diocese, to study and observe for himself what is lacking in them.

Try your luck at our new puzzle pictures.
