OUR AGENT,

Mr. A. Herman will call on subscribers in Fairport, Macedon, Palmyra, Newark, Lyons, Clyde, Weedsport and Auburn.

PENN YAN.

St. Michael's new church is being pushed rapidly and when completed the Catholics of Penn Yan will feel justly proud of it.

There was a lawn social on Wednesday evening, July 17, for the benefit of St. Michael's building fund. It was held on the convent grounds.

A great many of our people are attending the Pan-American now held in Buffalo.

Richard B. Maher has had his pension increased to $8.00 per month.

Our streets are almost deserted at times as every body is seeking the lake.

The Sisters are now enjoying a much needed rest after the school year of good, kind attention to our children.

Miss Mary and Julia Meehan attended the funeral of a cousin in Rochester a few days ago.

HONEOYE.

Mrs. E. Swan and daughter, are visiting friends at Hopewell.

After an absence of some months, Miss Rose Foy is about to return home.

Joan Leahy of Canandaigua, was home over Sunday.

WAVERLY.

On Wednesday, July 17th, the Rt. Rev. Bishop McQuaid visited St. James' parish and administered confirmation to sixty candidates.

The sanctuary of St. James' church was beautifully decorated with flowers, palms, ferns, etc. The bishop was assisted by Rev. Fathers Bloomer of Elmira, and Naughton of Hornellsville.

The benediction was given by Rev. Father O'Dwyer of Elmira. The other clergymen present were: Fathers Evans of Ithaca, Lee of Watkins, Sheridan of Oswego, Dunn of Horseheads, Shields of Beutly Creek, O'Rourke of Athens, Shanley and Gilloghy of Savre, Crowley and McCrone of Elmira. The bishop and visiting clergymen were finely entertained by the pastor, Father Moriarty.

MUMFORD.

Mr. Cooley of Elmira, is the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Turner.

Miss Florence Carlton of Rochester, is visiting relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. John Maloney are visiting friends in town.

Miss Lillian Munson of Rochester, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hadley.

Tuesday afternoon an accident occurred at the B. R. & P. depot in which Louis Johnson was shot in the foot by Walter Carr, who was playing with a revolver. Dr. Byam dressed the wound.

DANSVILLE.

Rev. James H. Day of Mt. Morris and Rev. Father Mahey of Craig Colony, visited Rev. M. Kriebel, Monday.

The trustees and collectors of St. Patrick's church and the members of the choir went to Conesus lake Wednesday, where they met Rev. James T. Dougherty of Avon, and Rev. James H. Day of Mt. Morris and their choir and enjoyed a picnic together. All of the above named priests have been pastors of St. Patrick's church. Rev. M. Kriebel accompanied the Dansville party.

New officers elected by the Children of Mary's Society: Miss Margaret Maloney, president; Miss Cecelia Dougherty, vice-president; Miss Lizzie Maloney, secretary; Miss Louise Heiman, treasurer.

Many Dansvillians have been visiting the Pan-American during the past week.

BATH.

John Conroy is home from Mt. St. Joseph's school, Buffalo, for the summer vacation.

The ladies of St. Mary's church served ice cream and cake on the lawn in front of the church, on Thursday evening.

John McNamara is spending a few days at his home in this village.

Word was received here, Monday, of the death of Mrs. Nell Crouch, at her home in Colchester. Deceased was a sister of John Holtzner, of Bath.

John Hillery of Poughkeepsie, is visiting friends in Bath.

William Nash, 70 years old, has been granted a patent on a new and useful fire escape, which promises to bring him a fortune.

The field day and basket picnic of the school children of Steuben county, at the Soldiers' Home, Wednesday, was largely attended and proved a big success.

Charles Shney, who was injured recently while at work on the Lackawanna bridge, at Cooper's, is getting along nicely.

John S. Hogue, the genial and popular President of Division No. 3, A. O. H., who was recently appointed a guard at the stone yard, where the county prisoners are confined to break stones, distinguished himself last Saturday morning, by capturing a would-be runaway, Fred Figler, a negro, sentenced from Corning, about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, when everybody was busy around the "pen" took Figler leave and started swiftly down William street. Guard Hogue ever on the alert espied him and took after him. He corralled the dark gentleman and soon had him back in the "pen" with a ball and chain attached to his lower extremities for the remainder of the afternoon. Johnnie, when asked about the capture, modestly replied, "Oh, that didn't amount to anything."

Miss Mary Higgins, a well known and popular young lady of this village, is confined to the house, with little prospects of getting around again this summer, as a result of falling on a defective sidewalk, recently, on East Morris street.

It is said that New York capitalists are considering the advisability of constructing a trolley system in this village, to the Soldiers' Home and possibly to Hammondport.

Deputy Sheriff O'Leary, of Mt. Morris, was out last Saturday, endeavoring to locate a horse which had been reported stolen from the community. The man's name is unknown, but his work is pretty generally talked about. The man was seen seven miles to the west of Mt. Morris driving an old, worn out mustang. When he arrived in that village, or just outside of it, he went into a field on the farm of a well known farmer, where a number of valuable horses were running loose. The fellow picked out the best animal in the lot and exchanged it for his mustang. He then hitched up the good horse and drove away. No trace of him has been discovered. He enquired the way to Bath.

Mr. and Mrs. James Bennett and her sister, Viola Robbins, were poisoned, Monday, as a result of eating boiled ham. Dr. Sutton was called and brought them around all right after several hours work.

James Hillery and Miss Kate Flaherty spent Monday at Pleasant Valley, and Hammondsport.

A Mormon church has been built at Greenwood, this county.

Martin Collins, Jr., formerly chief of police, who has been employed as janitor, of the county court house, the past year or more, was appointed janitor of Haverling high school at a meeting of the board of education, Wednesday afternoon. His salary will be $600 per year. He will assume his duties August 1. Rene Hoypt, the present janitor, has held the position for 21 years continuously.

Daniel J. Orcutt passed the bar examination at Rochester, recently, and is now a full fledged lawyer.

Captain John F. Little and Miss Emily Theodora Howard were married at Buffalo, July 11, by the Rev. Charles D. Smith.

AVON.

Miss Agnes Duffy of Bath, visited her sister, Mrs. F. Moran, a few days this week.

Miss May Gibson of Corning, is the guest of Mrs. M. Hardiman of West Main street.

Mrs. Charles Carpenter of Maple street, who has been seriously ill is improving.

The first experiment of a Pan-Livingston Catholic choir, picnic on Wednesday, at Long Point, Conesus Lake, proved a great success. Some of the choirs received notice a little too late to make preparations, but Avon, Geneseo, Mt. Morris and Dansville were well represented and about eighty young people in charge of Fathers Day, Dougherty, Kriebel and Hughes, had a most enjoyable time with boat riding, dancing, singing, games and recitations. All went home pleased with the new acquaintance and declaring that it was one of the most delightful picnics they ever attended. It is hoped that next year all the choirs within easy reach of this charming lakeside resort will be able to attend the outing and swell the chorus.

LIMA.

[Received last week too late to publish.]

Examinations in St. Rose's Sunday school passed off very pleasantly last week to all concerned. May Dalton won the gold medal having a standing of 97 per cent. Numerous books and souvenirs were given to others of the lower classes. The teachers were presented a St. Rose button each by Father FitzSimmons. On Wednesday afternoon teachers and pupils were royally entertained by Father FitzSimmons by a grand picnic on the church grounds. Ice cream, cake and lemonade were served bountifully to all. After the refreshments, base ball, jumps, swings, games and other amusements engaged the young folks until it was time to disband in the evening. To say all had a good time is hardly necessary and it would seem that the Sunday school were well pleased with the day's sport and the kindly hospitality of our pastor.

The harvest here will be very light. Wheat is an entire failure. Late fruits will be a very poor crop.

Peter McManis, who has been here as a student for four years, returned after graduation to his home in Lawton Pa. He made many friends by his kind and gentlemanly conduct and will be gladly welcomed when he may visit us again.

SENECA FALLS.

Miss Lizzie B. McGuire died Monday morning at the home of her mother in Geneva street, aged 27 years. The cause of her death was believed to be tapeworm. She had suffered in January from an attack of the grip and about the same time underwent a course of treatment which it was hoped would prevent a recurrence of the trouble which has now resulted fatally. She was a daughter of the late Frank McGuire of whose death was announced in last week's JOURNAL. The double bereavement which while a week has fallen to the lot of the afflicted family has aroused the most profound sympathy. She is survived by her mother, two sisters, Mrs. Mary Phalen of Syracuse and Miss Margaret of Seneca Falls, and brothers John, Bernard, Robert and Francis all of Seneca Falls. The funeral was held Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock from St. Patrick's church, a requiem mass being celebrated by Rev. Father Dwyer. The funeral was largely attended by friends and relatives.

Branch 86, of the L. C. B. A. Society of this place, celebrated its tenth anniversary Saturday. A grand reception was given Friday evening in the Knights of Columbus rooms. Mrs. McGowan, the Supreme President of the L. C. B. A., being present. A picnic was held Saturday at Cayuga Lake Park, about 1,000 people attending.
