

Correspondence

OUR AGENT

Mr. A. Herman will call on subscribers in Fairport, Macedon, Palmyra, Newark, Lyons, Clyde, Weedsport and Auburn.

SHORTSVILLE

Miss Mary Dunn left last week Friday for Kings Park, Long Island, where she will enter the State Hospital, Tuesday evening before a surprise was given her by her young friends.

Mr. Robert Farrell who has been seriously ill, is recovering.

Arrangements have been made by St. Dominic's Society to hold their annual picnic July 31st at Connolly's grove.

Miss Anna O'Neil accompanied by Miss Dunn, returned to King's Park, L. I., last Friday morning after a few weeks' visit with her parents.

Mrs. S. McCarthy and children spent the first of the week at Bloomfield.

PENN YAN

Ralph Whitebeck, the little son of Samuel Whitebeck, of Ramford, Me., who is visiting his grandparents here was severely bitten by a dog in the ankle. The wound was cauterized by Dr. Underwood.

The lawn social given on the convent grounds was very largely attended and was a pleasant gathering.

The Sunday afternoon trip from Penn Yan to Keuka leaving at 8 and arriving at 6 is becoming quite popular.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hyland visited the Pan-American last week.

Miss Mollie Winer, who went to the hospital in Rochester for treatment a few days ago died there on Saturday, and her many friends were pained to learn of it.

Miss Laura Maloney of Elmira, is visiting her sister Mrs. W. S. Graugh.

Miss Laura Clarke of Naples, a cousin of Miss Bessie Winer of this place, went with the latter to England to be maid of honor at the Hoffman-Winer wedding.

Mr. John Courty of Geneva, spent Sunday here with friends.

MUMFORD

Miss Lillian O'Donnell of Corry, Pa., is the guest of Mrs. Phos. Skivington.

Benjamin Uter entertained his friend John O'Donnell of Elmira, last week.

Genevieve Remington of Rochester, is visiting her aunt, Mr. Christie.

Bert Love of Rochester, spent Saturday and Sunday with friends here.

Mrs. H. B. Carlton of Rochester, spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. Anna Smith.

Ether Wilcox of Rochester, is visiting her cousins, Eliza and Grace McComb.

Augusta Kinne is visiting friends in Rochester.

Little Nichols of Rochester is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Nichols.

A number of people from here spent Sunday at Charlotte.

The report last week that Walter Carr shot Louis Johnson in the foot is seen as not true.

LYONS

Miss Mary and Elizabeth Murphy of Rochester, have been spending the last three weeks with their parents in this village.

Miss Margaret Murphy and sisters spent last Sunday with friends at Sodas Point.

CALEDONIA

Rev. B. W. Goswamiyev entertained his brother and sister a few days last week.

Miss Jennie Maria has returned from a short visit with relatives in Dunkirk.

Misses Florence and Loretta Mallen of Rochester, were guests Sunday of their uncle, J. D. Donohue.

Mr. Roman Orenburg and sister, Margaret of Rochester, were visitors Sunday at the home of Mrs. Chas. Wood.

Miss Francis Wood of LeRoy, spent Sunday at her home in this village.

Requiem high mass was celebrated Friday for the souls of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Martin.

The large cross that surmounts the tower of St. Columba's church, also the other ones on the church have been taken off and regilded and replaced. The roof received some needed repairs, during the past week.

DANVILLE

M. J. Rowan and son Vincent, of New York, are visiting his parents.

Mrs. K. B. Sauerbier and Miss Epphrasia Braun are visiting the Pan-American this week.

Nicholas Welch of Salamanca, is home for a visit.

Mass at St. Patrick's church Sunday, July 27th, at 7 o'clock. The officiating clergyman will offer the late mass at Groveland.

Rev. Father Sedele of Canisius College, Buffalo, heard confessions of the women of St. Mary's parish on Thursday evening and on Friday a statue of St. Anne was blessed. This Jesuit Father will remain over Sunday, the men of the parish approaching the sacrament of penance to-night (Saturday) and receiving holy communion tomorrow morning for the intentions of the jubilee.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rowan is visiting the Pan-American. Her brother, Joseph H. Rowan of Wilcox, accompanied her.

Miss Krichel has returned from a visit of several weeks in Buffalo and other places.

Madame Boyson returned to her home in Brooklyn, Saturday.

Mrs. Della Bradley Pkts of Halifax, N. S., who has been spending several weeks here, returned to her home last week accompanied by Miss M. Elizabeth Earle.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hubbard and son Otto, and Mrs. A. Krueger are at Buffalo.

A grand open-air rendezvous will be given on the South lawn at the park on Tuesday evening.

BATH

Miss Kate McMinamin is visiting the Misses Sullivan, in Auburn.

Michael McMinamin represented St. Mary's parish at the C. M. B. A. of this village, at the Pan-American on C. M. B. A. day, which was last Tuesday.

Miss Mary O'Loughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Loughlin, suffered the amputation of the first finger of her left hand, Monday. She was chopping ice and the axe slipped cutting the finger nearly off at the first stroke.

Dr. Thomas D. McMinamin, of this village, is in Hyland Falls, N. Y., where he has charge of the practice of Dr. Brown, a local physician during the latter's absence.

Misses Bessie and Loretta Mallen of Rochester, were guests Sunday of their uncle, J. D. Donohue.

Mr. Roman Orenburg and sister, Margaret of Rochester, were visitors Sunday at the home of Mrs. Chas. Wood.

Miss Francis Wood of LeRoy, spent Sunday at her home in this village.

Requiem high mass was celebrated Friday for the souls of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Martin.

The large cross that surmounts the tower of St. Columba's church, also the other ones on the church have been taken off and regilded and replaced. The roof received some needed repairs, during the past week.

DANVILLE

M. J. Rowan and son Vincent, of New York, are visiting his parents.

Mrs. K. B. Sauerbier and Miss Epphrasia Braun are visiting the Pan-American this week.

Nicholas Welch of Salamanca, is home for a visit.

Mass at St. Patrick's church Sunday, July 27th, at 7 o'clock. The officiating clergyman will offer the late mass at Groveland.

Rev. Father Sedele of Canisius College, Buffalo, heard confessions of the women of St. Mary's parish on Thursday evening and on Friday a statue of St. Anne was blessed. This Jesuit Father will remain over Sunday, the men of the parish approaching the sacrament of penance to-night (Saturday) and receiving holy communion tomorrow morning for the intentions of the jubilee.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rowan is visiting the Pan-American. Her brother, Joseph H. Rowan of Wilcox, accompanied her.

Miss Krichel has returned from a visit of several weeks in Buffalo and other places.

Madame Boyson returned to her home in Brooklyn, Saturday.

Mrs. Della Bradley Pkts of Halifax, N. S., who has been spending several weeks here, returned to her home last week accompanied by Miss M. Elizabeth Earle.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Hubbard and son Otto, and Mrs. A. Krueger are at Buffalo.

A grand open-air rendezvous will be given on the South lawn at the park on Tuesday evening.

BATH

Miss Kate McMinamin is visiting the Misses Sullivan, in Auburn.

Michael McMinamin represented St. Mary's parish at the C. M. B. A. of this village, at the Pan-American on C. M. B. A. day, which was last Tuesday.

Miss Mary O'Loughlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Loughlin, suffered the amputation of the first finger of her left hand, Monday. She was chopping ice and the axe slipped cutting the finger nearly off at the first stroke.

Dr. Thomas D. McMinamin, of this village, is in Hyland Falls, N. Y., where he has charge of the practice of Dr. Brown, a local physician during the latter's absence.

Misses Bessie and Loretta Mallen of Rochester, were guests Sunday of their uncle, J. D. Donohue.

Mr. Roman Orenburg and sister, Margaret of Rochester, were visitors Sunday at the home of Mrs. Chas. Wood.

Miss Francis Wood of LeRoy, spent Sunday at her home in this village.

Requiem high mass was celebrated Friday for the souls of Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Martin.

One hundred and eighty-three excursionists from Hornellsville, Corning and other points along the Erie took in the excursion, Sunday, to Keuka Lake.

Michael O'Loughlin was prostrated by the heat one day last week while working on his farm near Bath.

Mrs. Mary Freeman, an old colored lady, died Tuesday morning, aged about 80 years.

The death of Mrs. Nancy Hasley occurred Sunday evening, aged 57 years.

Warren Graham, son of Mr. Jane Graham, died last Thursday, in Detroit, aged 28 years.

Ellen Conroy is home from Mt. St. Joseph's school, Buffalo, for the summer.

The death of Lysiae Larkin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Larkin, occurred Saturday last at her home in Coopers. Deceased had been an invalid for a number of years. She was seventeen years of age. Besides her parents she is survived by several brothers and sisters. She was a niece of Mrs. Charles Gilbride of Bath. Her funeral was held here Monday morning at 8 o'clock from St. Mary's church, the Rev. Father Griffin officiating. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery in this village.

LIMA

Father Hickey, C. S. S. R., of Brooklyn, spent Sunday with his father and sister. He preached an eloquent sermon at late mass taking for his text, "No man can serve two masters." Father Hickey was a former Lima boy, and it is a great pleasure to his many friends to welcome him home.

The Paper Co. of this place are already enlarging their buildings and giving work to all the unemployed.

Dr. Buell bought the old Baptist parsonage and will move it on to the vacant lot and fit it up for a dwelling house. A handsome new building will soon be erected on the old site.

A large delegation of the C. M. B. A. left for Buffalo Tuesday morning to meet the association there.

Catarrah Cannot be Cured

with LOCAL APPLICATIONS, as they cannot reach the seat of the disease. Catarrah is a blood or constitutional disease, and in order to cure it you must take internal remedies. Hall's Catarrah Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces. Hall's Catarrah Cure is not a quack medicine. It was prescribed by one of the best physicians in this country for years, and is a regular prescription. It is composed of the best tonics known, combined with the best blood purifiers, acting directly on the mucous surfaces. The perfect combination of the two ingredients is what produces such wonderful results in curing catarrah. Send for testimonials free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props. Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

FARMER WANTED—A single man, temperate, No. 1 milker, understands horse thoroughly, $18.00 to $20.00 per month for one year. Address, Hampden County Stock Farm, Chocoma Falls, Mass.

Streicher Bros.

(The Old House)

24 Andrews St.

Wholesalers and Rectifiers of Wines and Whiskeys.

All kinds of Wines and Whiskeys at WHOLESALE PRICES.

Give us a call and we will try and please you all.

Prompt delivery to all parts of the city.

Everything sold under a strict guarantee as to purity and quantity.

Rochester Phone 1778. Bell 874.

Rochester, N. Y.

WRITERS, CORRESPONDENTS OR REPORTERS

Wanted everywhere. Stories, news, ideas, poems, illustrated articles, advance news, drawings, photographs, unique articles, etc., purchased. Articles revised and prepared for publication. Books published. Send for particulars and full information before sending articles.

The Bulletin Press Association, New York.

Five. Employer's Liability, Plateglass.

Established 1886.

J. H. ASHTON,

General Insurance.

201-202 Ellwanger and Barry Bldg.

Entrance

39 State Street. Rochester, N. Y.

Steam Boiler. Surety Bonds. Elevator.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS DESIGNS

Copyrights &c.

Scientific American.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents. Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

Munn & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

Patents.

Scientific American.

BATTLE OF DUNDALK

NAVIES OF DENMARK AND NORWAY DEFEATED BY IRISH.

Leading Sea Powers of That Day Overwhelmed by Sailors of Erin. One of the Greatest Sea Fights of History—Victory Nearly Won.

Mr. Michael Scanlon recently contributed to The Irish World an account of the battle of Dundalk bay which was copied from the annals of the four masters. It proves that the Irish were as invincible on the sea as on the land.

Ceallachan, a celebrated warrior of the Eugeanean race, was king of Cashel in the tenth century, and, having defeated the Danes in several battles, Sir Eric, king of the Danes of Dublin, with his brothers Tor and Magnus, having proposed a peace with the people of Munster, with an offer to give in marriage to Ceallachan their sister Beibhion, an accomplished princess, the proposals of alliance being accepted by Ceallachan, he prepared to go to Dublin to meet his intended bride. But on his arrival there his party was treacherously attacked and defeated by the Danes, who took Ceallachan prisoner, together with Dunchuan, son of Claidi, king of Thomond, the entire proceedings on the part of the Danes being a conspiracy to get Ceallachan, their formidable enemy, into their power.

The Munster chiefs, in order to redeem their king from captivity, collected a powerful force, among whom were 2,000 Dalcassians and 3,000 Eugeaneans, commanded by Donogh O'Keefe, prince of Fermoy; O'Sullivan, prince of Beara; the O'Connors, Kerry; O'Driscolls, O'Moriarty's, O'Flynn's, O'Felan's and other chiefs of Munster, aided by 1,000 of the Connaught forces under the O'Haras, O'Garas, Mac'oghlan's and others, the entire, it is stated, amounting to 12,000 men, the chief commander of the Eugeaneans being O'Keefe, and (Meidid, king of Thomond, with his brothers, Congalach, Gosgrach and Lonargan, commanded the Dalcassians. They also had a large naval force under O'Falvey, hereditary admiral of Desmond, who equipped 30 ships; O'Connor, Kerry, 20 ships; O'Driscoll, O'Obitach and O'Flynn armed and manned 10 ships each; the MacNamaras, O'Connors and O'Loughlins of Clare sent 20 ships, and from Corsa Baiscin in Clare came 20 more, making in all 120 sail.

The army, which proceeded by land, marched through Connaught and Ulster to Armagh, which city was then in possession of the Danes and whither they had brought Ceallachan prisoner in order to put him on board their fleet and send him to Denmark. The Irish attacked Armagh by the projection of large stones from machines, together with arrows, darts, slings and other missiles and applying scaling ladders to the walls.

The Danes, under Sitric, were at length defeated with great slaughter, and, having evacuated the city by night, they marched off toward Dundalk and embarked their forces in their fleet, which lay in the bay. The Irish pursued them, and O'Keefe, sending a flag of truce, demanded of Sitric the King Ceallachan and Prince Dunchuan, who were his prisoners, but the Danes returned for answer that the prisoners would not be restored until an eric (a pecuniary fine) was first paid for the Danes who fell in 15 different battles with Ceallachan and his forces, and Sitric ordered Ceallachan to be bound to the mast of his own ship and Dunchuan in like manner on the king of Norway's ship in view of the whole Munster army.

The Irish were enraged at this sight, but their land forces had no means of attacking the enemy. Shortly after, however, O'Falvey, the Irish admiral, appeared in sight and, drawing up his ships in an extended line, prepared for action. A desperate engagement ensued, and the Irish commanders grappled with and boarded the Danish vessels. Both sides fought with great fury, but O'Falvey at length succeeded in releasing Ceallachan and, giving him one of his swords, made him take command.

The Irish, animated by seeing their prince at liberty, fought with renewed vigor, but the valiant O'Falvey at length fell, pierced by many wounds, and his head was immediately displayed on the mast of Sitric's ship. Finnial, a chief who was second in comblion, an accomplished prince, the proposals of alliance being accepted by Ceallachan, he prepared to go to Dublin to meet his intended bride. But on his arrival there his party was treacherously attacked and defeated by the Danes, who took Ceallachan prisoner, together with Dunchuan, son of Claidi, king of Thomond, the entire proceedings on the part of the Danes being a conspiracy to get Ceallachan, their formidable enemy, into their power.

JUMPED OVERBOARD

The Munster chiefs, in order to redeem their king from captivity, collected a powerful force, among whom were 2,000 Dalcassians and 3,000 Eugeaneans, commanded by Donogh O'Keefe, prince of Fermoy; O'Sullivan, prince of Beara; the O'Connors, Kerry; O'Driscolls, O'Moriarty's, O'Flynn's, O'Felan's and other chiefs of Munster, aided by 1,000 of the Connaught forces under the O'Haras, O'Garas, Mac'oghlan's and others, the entire, it is stated, amounting to 12,000 men, the chief commander of the Eugeaneans being O'Keefe, and (Meidid, king of Thomond, with his brothers, Congalach, Gosgrach and Lonargan, commanded the Dalcassians. They also had a large naval force under O'Falvey, hereditary admiral of Desmond, who equipped 30 ships; O'Connor, Kerry, 20 ships; O'Driscoll, O'Obitach and O'Flynn armed and manned 10 ships each; the MacNamaras, O'Connors and O'Loughlins of Clare sent 20 ships, and from Corsa Baiscin in Clare came 20 more, making in all 120 sail.

The army, which proceeded by land, marched through Connaught and Ulster to Armagh, which city was then in possession of the Danes and whither they had brought Ceallachan prisoner in order to put him on board their fleet and send him to Denmark. The Irish attacked Armagh by the projection of large stones from machines, together with arrows, darts, slings and other missiles and applying scaling ladders to the walls.

The Danes, under Sitric, were at length defeated with great slaughter, and, having evacuated the city by night, they marched off toward Dundalk and embarked their forces in their fleet, which lay in the bay. The Irish pursued them, and O'Keefe, sending a flag of truce, demanded of Sitric the King Ceallachan and Prince Dunchuan, who were his prisoners, but the Danes returned for answer that the prisoners would not be restored until an eric (a pecuniary fine) was first paid for the Danes who fell in 15 different battles with Ceallachan and his forces, and Sitric ordered Ceallachan to be bound to the mast of his own ship and Dunchuan in like manner on the king of Norway's ship in view of the whole Munster army.

The Irish were enraged at this sight, but their land forces had no means of attacking the enemy. Shortly after, however, O'Falvey, the Irish admiral, appeared in sight and, drawing up his ships in an extended line, prepared for action. A desperate engagement ensued, and the Irish commanders grappled with and boarded the Danish vessels. Both sides fought with great fury, but O'Falvey at length succeeded in releasing Ceallachan and, giving him one of his swords, made him take command.

The Irish, animated by seeing their prince at liberty, fought with renewed vigor, but the valiant O'Falvey at length fell, pierced by many wounds, and his head was immediately displayed on the mast of Sitric's ship. Finnial, a chief who was second in com-

BIGOTS AT WORK.

FORCE CATHOLIC PUPILS TO ATTEND METHODIST CHURCH.

Where Graduating Exercises of Public School Were Held—Denominational Sermon by the Minister of the Church Was Among the Numbers of the Program.

Up at Zerrin, Pa., according to the Scranton Republican, despite a protest made by a number of Catholic parents, the school board of Jermyan Borough compelled the pupils of the public school of that place, many of the pupils being Catholics, to attend the graduating exercises this year held in the Jermyan Methodist Episcopal church, where, during the program, the young people were treated to a denominational sermon by the minister in charge.

Ninety Catholics signed a petition asking that the exercises should not be held in such building, reciting that their religious convictions forbade them to allow their children to attend any denominational house of worship other than their own, and making plain to the board that they were standing clearly on their rights under the constitution as citizens of America, and under the constitution of Pennsylvania as citizens of the State; nevertheless their respectful petition was ignored and their children forced to attend. When the petition was read, its acceptance was flatly refused, as was also a resolution presented by Director J. W. Grant, that the principal and teachers shall be forbidden hereafter to introduce into the school work or the commencement exercises anything that ignores or distinguishes the right of parentage and citizenship; and even the offer on the part of the petitioners to allow