ST. BONIFACE.

On Sunday, Sept. 8, the Knights of St. John, Commandery 25, celebrated their 25th anniversary. At 8.30 the company, headed by Hebing's Artillery band, marched to Franklin street and escorted the Knights of St. Eustace, St. Mauritius, St. George, St. Michael, and also three companies of cadets. The church was elaborately decorated with yellow and white bunting, and palms in profusion. The Ladies' Auxiliary, No. 47, and the officers of the auxiliaries to other companies attended services in a body. The choir, under the direction of Prof. Siebold, rendered the mass composed by Prof. Siebold, assisted by Hebing's orchestra, with Miss Daisy Stet at the organ. Solemn high mass celebrated with Rev. Father Raubers as celebrant, Rev. Father Hofschneider as sub-deacon. Father Hargather delivered an eloquent sermon, in which he discoursed on the benefits of the organization and their work during their twenty-five years of existence. After mass a short drill and presentation of souvenir books to visiting knights took place, after which they adjourned to Weider's hall, where the Ladies' Auxiliary served refreshments.

For the week beginning Sept. 16th, a jolly vaudeville offering is announced at the Cook Opera House. In fact, the majority of the acts will be given over to comedy, while, of course, enough of new and novel features will be included to lend spice to the program. The newest thing on the stage to day is an act called "The Gatling Gun Guards," in which the services of eight men are employed to depict camp life, known only to those who have come in contact with a battle field. Cushman, Holman and Curries, three extremely good comedians, will support themselves in an act entitled "A New Teacher." Songs, dances and funny acts are included in the program. Another splendid feature will be that of the "Serenaders," an act consisting of four beautiful girls that sing and play the mandolin while strolling in a garden. Truly Shattlock, the "California Nightingale," and five other equally prominent acts, complete the program.

Daily matinees are given at the Cook Opera house, which is an especially desirable time for ladies and children to attend, the prices being reduced at the matinees for their special benefit.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, with matinees on Thursday and Saturday, the Baker's offering will be one of the greatest novelties of the season, when the popular actor, Mr. Harrison J. Wolfe, supported by a strong and capable cast, will present one of the strongest of comedy dramas, "Cashel Byron!"
