The Passion of Our Lord.

Remember that on that same day on which Christ entered Jerusalem the Paschal lamb was led with great solemnity from Bethphage to the temple. It is not surprising, then, that our divine Saviour should meet on the same road so many people. Naturally speaking, we may say that the people, wishing to pay homage to Christ and to make His entry into Jerusalem as solemn as possible, knew no other way of manifesting the feelings of their hearts. But we must raise our minds higher, and see the hand of God in things which appear so natural and accidental. Jesus went to Jerusalem to be crucified, and by His death conquered hell, to bring down upon men the fullness of grace, and detach their hearts from the things of this world in order to direct them to heavenly things. Hence God so willed it that the great multitude should applaud the triumph of the Redeemer, and - so the Church says on this day - with palms in their hands they proclaimed His victory over Satan. The olive branches signified the oil of grace which would be diffused over the children of redemption. The garments spread under His feet signified the renunciation of all earthly affections which the just make for God's sake, for, according to St. Gregory, earthly affections are the garments that entangle our souls, and the better to fight our spiritual enemies we must get rid of them.
 To-day we behold Christ entering Jerusalem amidst the hosannas of the people - five days later we shall see Him dragged to Mount Calvary amidst curses and blasphemies. To day the people are all love for Him and pay Him homage - in a few days we shall see them filled with hatred, demanding His blood.

THE TWO BROTHERS.

(By Orestes A. Brownson.)

Controversial Dialogue Between a Presbyterian and His Catholic Brother, Leading Up to Former's Conversion.

XVIII.
 James - It is not necessary to particularize, I mean the Presbyterian church in general.
 John - Do you include even those who have become Socinian, rationalistic, deistical, transcendental?
 "It is to be regretted that in many of the old Presbyterian churches, grievous and, as I hold, damnable, errors have crept in."
 "But are those which have lapsed into these damnable errors still integral portions of the Presbyterian church? Do you claim the English Presbyterian, the German, and French?"
 "The church is never free from error, taken as a whole, but there are always in the church a remnant who are faithful, and somewhere in it there is always the pure preaching of the word, as well as the maintenance of the true ordinances of God's house."
 "You forget that you have just conceded that our Lord did found such a church as the Roman Catholic claims to be; but the Roman Catholic church claims to have authority from God to teach, and to teach everywhere, and at all times, one and the same doctrine, free from all admixture of error."
 "I do not forget what I have conceded. I say, in the language of the Westminster Confession of Faith, that 'the purest churches under heaven become no churches of Christ, but synagogues of Satan. Nevertheless, there shall be always a church on earth to worship God according to his will.'"
 "But this does not relieve you, for it says positively the purest churches under heaven are subject to mixture and error. Then there is no church not liable to error and corruption. Then, whatever your Presbyterian church may claim, it does not claim, even as the church, to be able to teach infallibly; therefore does not even claim to be such a church as the Roman Catholic church claims to be. Consequently she cannot be set up as an adverse claimant. The title she claims is not the title the Catholic Church claims, and therefore, if established, does not necessarily negative hers. If, then you concede that our Lord did found such a church as the Roman Catholic church claims to be, you must concede that it is not the Presbyterian."

"Not at all; for does not the confession say, 'Nevertheless, there shall be always a church on earth which shall worship God according to his will?'"
 "True; but this either amounts to nothing, or it contradicts what you have just alleged. If it means that there shall always be on earth a church which teaches God's word infallibly, then it is false to say that the purest churches under heaven are subject to mixture and error; but if it means that the church which worships God according to his will is not free from mixture and error, it amounts to nothing, for it proposes no church claiming to be what the Catholic church claims to be, since it is undeniable that she claims to teach without the least mixture or error."

"But one may be subject to error, and yet not err in fact. The church is not exempt from the liability to err, but there is always a portion of it which, as a matter of fact, does not err."
 "What prevents it?"
 "The grace of God; for God will not suffer the gates of hell wholly to prevail against his church."
 "Very well; but is the church, what your confession calls the 'visible Catholic church,' herself always preserved by this grace from error? and if so, can she be said to be subject to error?"
 "The visible Catholic church consists of all those persons throughout the world who profess the true religion, together with their children. There is always a portion of these who are, through grace, preserved from error; and therefore there is always a church or body of worshippers who worship God according to his will. In some periods the number of these is very small, in others it is large."
 "But you do not answer my question. Individuals may err, particular branches of the church may fall; but does the church, the teaching and judging authority of the church, in matters of faith and morals, ever err?"
 "Individual members and particular churches may err, but God always preserve some individuals who do not err, who are witnesses for him in the darkest and worst of times. Consequently the whole church never falls into error."

"But your confession declares the visible Catholic church to be a kingdom. Jesus Christ, it says, 'hath erected in this world a kingdom which is his church.' Now to a kingdom it is essential that there be a supreme authority."

JESUIT PAINTER.

St. Francis Xavier's Church at Missoula City, Montana, is experiencing the brush of the artist. The work is performed by Brother Carignano, S.J. The pictures are pronounced veritable works of art.

A notable mission has been given by the Rev. Father Swift, S. J. of Rhyd, at the Church of St. Ludwal, Barmouth, Wales. The mission was attended by many non-Catholics and was very successful. Confirmations were given at the close of the mission and was the first held in that district since the Reformation. Many Welsh converts were numbered among those subsequently confirmed.

A Hint of Furniture Resources.

There are a great many people in Rochester and vicinity who haven't learned fully the extent and resources of this Furniture business. It's for their interest and ours that they should.

It's the largest Furniture display made in Rochester, save one, and we doubt whether that shows wider assortments, and we are very certain about values. This Third floor Furniture store appeals to you if you want substantial but inexpensive pieces, it appeals to you if you want the richest. We can execute your order for the finest work, if you don't see just what you like in completed form.
