Easter.

[Written for The Catholic Journal]

Ring out glad Bells of Easter. Ring out your merry chimes, And loud proclaim the Saviour's power

In every land and clime. Deserted tomb wherein they laid him, Where is the dead one now ?

He is risen, and a crown of victory Now beams upon His brow.

Easter Lillies pure and fair, Breathe forth your incense sweet. As we lay your lifes best offering, At the risen Saviour's feet.

No more on Calvarys cross to die, Midst vile reproach and scorn. To-day He triumphs ever death, On this joyous Easter morn.

Tell the story sweet mystic Bells As merrily you ring. While anthems of our risen Lord Our hearts awake to sing.

Let us hasten to adore Him On this glorious festal morn, Our souls may then be sanctified And in our hearts a new grace be born.

Be Courteous at Home.

While our young men and women are anxious to make triends among strangers, they take no pains in gain. ing the true friendship at home. all seem to be beyond the pale of friendship.
