CATHOLIC NEWS.

THE AMUSING WAY CHURCH MATTERS ARE REPORTED.

By Young Scribes of the Secular Newspapers—A Society in New York City to Correct the Errors of Incompetent Reporters of Catholic Affairs.

The manner in which reporters on the daily journals describe Catholic services and celebrations is often most amusing, in fact, frequently ludicrous, says R. C. Gleason, in Columbian.

BREAD OF INDOLENCE.

In the Cistercian abbey nothing was allowed to interfere with the allotted portion of manual labor.

ANOTHER MINISTER CONVERT.

Rev. John B. Ewing, an Episcopal clergyman formerly connected with the Diocese of Vermont, was received into the Catholic Church at St. John's church, Thirteenth and Chestnut streets, Philadelphia a few weeks ago.

Well-Paid European Rulers.

Italy can have 10,000 men slaughtered in Abyssinia and still pay her king $2,600,000 a year.

Wanted in Marriage.

Not so long ago a prominent daily paper of Ohio answered a correspondent who asked the question: "Can parties be married without license provided the bans of such marriage are published in due form in a church three times?"

The New York Paulist Fathers

collected in 35 donations the sum of $420 for a new organ for the chapel of their Washington house of studies.

W. Bourke Cockran was one of the passengers on the Kaiserin Maria Theresa sailing for Gibraltar, Naples and Genoa recently.

Mrs. Donnelly, the mother of the Rev. Eugene J. Donnelly, rector of St. Michael's church in Flushing, has given $10,000 to the church for the erection of a marble altar.

published (in the presence of the congregation) on two different days of public worship; the first publication to be at least ten days previous to such marriage, within the court; where the female resides; or, a license shall be obtained for that purpose from the Probate Judge in the county where such female may reside.

This is very plain; publication of the bans or a license, provided ten days elapse between the first publication and the marriage; no license is needed, the officiating clergyman in that case making a due return of the marriage to the Probate Court.

The case might happen that parties were published on Sunday, then on a holy day of obligation occurring during the week and the third time on the following Sunday and the marriage to take place on the next Monday or Tuesday, then, notwithstanding the publication of the bans the law demands a license because ten days have not elapsed.

"The watch tower" is the appropriate name given to a committee of a council of Knights of Columbus in New York city, a council called Dongan council, after the famous Catholic Governor of New York colony in the seventeenth century, whose duty is to correct errors concerning the Church appearing in the daily papers.

SAVED ALREADY.

One Fortunate Old Lady Who Did Not Need a Mission.

A mission for non-Catholics was given at Our lady of Lourdes church, Cleveland, O. The weather was unfavorable to the last degree.

Speaking on purgatory, the missionary asked if there was anyone in the church who felt that he was perfect enough to enter at once into God's presence.

Chicago reporters are not the only ones who make a fearful mess in trying to describe ordinary Catholic services.

A Columbus reporter, years ago, had a priest singing pontifical high mass of requiem at 3 o'clock in the afternoon of a good Friday, and he was told by a friend the next time he attempted to write up a Catholic Church service it would be wise for him to learn the difference between a bishop and an altar.

A New York reporter once had Archbishop Corrigan wearing a gown thrilling on his head and giving the blessing with his richly ornamented chasuble. The London, Ontario, Catholic Record, as quoted by The Telegraph, says: "The famous Chicago reporter who spoke of Cardinal Satolli as wearing a tonsure on his shoulder and carrying a thurifer on his head is just now in Rome. His latest item of information is that during the performance of church ceremonies Cardinal Parocchi sits beneath the valdichin, stiff and motionless as a desecrated altar."

Wonderful as this piece of news is the Chicago Record-Herald of Holy Saturday printed this piece of exclusive information—no doubt for the edification (?) of its Catholic readers: "The ceremonial of Maundy Thursday the day following Good Friday dates as far back as the fourth century, etc." Thursday following Friday is unusual even in Chicago latitude, and the wise scribe adds that the Pope washes the feet of twelve beggars that day "by command of the missal."

No wonder, when such scribes come to dabble in any theological or historical matter they go astray and their readers the same route.

The bulk of information people have these days on every subject comes from the daily paper and it is so, say they, because they saw it in the paper.

Not so long ago a prominent daily paper of Ohio answered a correspondent who asked the question: "Can parties be married without license provided the bans of such marriage are published in due form in a church three times?"
