The following is the key to last week's puzzle pictures:

No. 1—Head of figure is just below bust of woman on sofa; balance of figure formed by fold of dress. Picture to be held in upright position.

No. 2—Invert picture. Head of hidden waiter outlined by arm of Chinaman in centre, the nose formed by his shoulder.

No. 3—Invert picture. Face of hidden clerk is formed by arm and profile of old man. Collar is made by sheet of paper held by clerk in background.

No. 4—One rat in lower right hand corner, second just over Chinaman's head. Invert picture to see these. Third rat is between man's face and upraised arm. Hold picture with right hand side down to see this.

Those children who were successful in finding the concealed pictures are: Mary Frey, 199 Flint St., city; Anna Gorman, 56 Vienna St., Palmyra, N. Y.; Edward J. Leinen, 86 Richmond St., city, and Ross Taggerty, Oriskany, N. Y. For this week's puzzles see inside page.

Our collectors will call on all subscribers, who are in arrears for the Journal, next week. Kindly have the money ready when he calls.

C. R. & B. A. PICNIC.

At a meeting of the Central Council of the Catholic Relief and Beneficiary Association at St. Peter and Paul's school last Thursday evening reports were received from the fourteen councils in regard to the annual outing and reunion which will be held this year at Sea Breeze park on next Tuesday. Every Council is working hard to make the picnic one of the largest ever held by the association in this city and if the weather man will only provide a nice warm day it is probable that between four and five thousand people will be in attendance. A long list of sports has been arranged and the prizes will be good ones. The speakers will be the Supreme President Thomas H. O'Neil, Supreme
