ST. JOSEPH.

On Wednesday and Thursday evenings the C. Y. M. A. held a summer nights festival on the grounds adjoining the church. 250 incandescent lights were used in decorating the grounds. Suspended from the school was a large electric sign of welcome. This club has a reputation for always doing things well but this time they can certainly feel proud, for a prettier sight cannot be imagined than this festival. The decorator was George Minges of whom the C. Y. M. A. can feel proud. Mr. Minges was assisted by Edward Schuchart. The proceeds are to go towards furnishing the new club house and the C. Y. M. A. wish to thank all those who assisted to make this festival the success it was. The following had charge of the various booths:

Candy:—Fred Reichert assisted by Misses Mame Reichert, Mame Henricus and Mrs. Henry McCalla.

Ice cream:—Wm. Hahn assisted by Jos. Agram, Chas. Geyer, Misses Pauline Vogel, Martha Vogel, Katharine Fisher, Rose Crombach, May Engliert, Katherine Gommimginger, Angie Boheim.

PERSONAL.

Daniel and Vincent O'Connor, of 69 Taylor St., have returned from a two weeks visit to Batavia.

BAKER THEATRE.

At the Baker Theatre all of next week the Owen Davis Stock Company will produce Lee Arthur's modern military drama "We Uns of Tennessee." The play was first produced in New York City at the American Theatre about three years ago and achieved a notable success.

The scenes of the play are laid in the Cumberland Mountains at the outbreak of the war, and the story is highly colored with a real and sympathetic atmosphere of the South. The parts seem especially suited to the members of the stock company and a performance of more than usual merit is anticipated. "We Uns of Tennessee" is a play of interest and is full of intensely dramatic situations.

DIVISION 7.

At a special meeting of Division No. 7, A. O. H., held on August 6th, 1902, the following resolutions in memory of our deceased brother, Daniel Frawley, were adopted:

Whereas, our heavenly Father has been pleased to call from our midst, our beloved brother, Daniel Frawley, and

Whereas he has been a dutiful and loving husband and father, and a zealous member of our Order, therefore be it

Resolved, That we extend our heartfelt sympathy to the afflicted widow and children; may the Divine Ruler give them strength to bear their affliction and conduct them safely through life. And be it further

Resolved, That as a mark of affection and respect for the memory of our deceased brother, these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of our Division and published in The Catholic Journal and The National Hibernian; that our charter be draped for the usual period and that a copy of these resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased.

Last week the hidden pictures were a little harder to find than usual and consequently only a few of our young readers were able to locate the puzzles. Those who were successful are:

Joseph L. Ernst, 79 Marshall St.; Wm. Brill, 287 Monroe Ave., Jacob Hall, 3 Richard St.; Stella Baldwin, 292 Frank St.; E. J. Lenien, 86 Richmond St.

As no correct answers were received from boys or girls out of town the prizes will go to the above named and they can call Monday morning at the office for them. Complaints have been made that some boys and girls out of town have not received their prizes and if they will write to us and let us know about it we will investigate the matter.

Answers to last week's puzzles:—No. 1—Invert picture. Head of Chinese bride is in the large vase, her body formed by legs of idol.

No. 2—Turn picture so left side is down. Nose of tourist is between water carrier's leg and wheel of carriage, face looking toward top of picture.

No. 3—Turn picture so left side is down. Head of hidden figure is in the tub just in front of Chinaman's hands.

No. 4—Invert picture. Aunt Dill faces old man, nose at rocker of chair cap formed by boy's sleeve and waist, Uncle Silas is back of boy, his face outlined by boy's back and head.

This week we introduce a new lot of puzzles, the Weelitties in their tour abroad, and we think that our boys and girls will find them quite interesting. The pictures are photographs of actual scenes, but the puzzles are there just the same. The educational value of this series will be apparent at once. Children and even grown people will secure a knowledge of scenes that make each city that the little people visit famous. This week they visit Holland and the journey will be continued in future pages.

THE CATHOLIC SUMMER SCHOOL.

(Written for The Catholic Journal.)

Our second week at Cliff Haven was ushered in under favorable skies. Sunday was a perfect day. Solemn mass was celebrated by Father Gefell, of Rochester. Cathedral. The sermon, from the Gospel of the day, "the curing of the deaf and dumb man," was delivered by Father Pardow, S. J. of New York. It was an eloquent sermon and every word was listened to with close attention by a large and appreciative congregation. Our only regret was when Father Pardow, the pulpit orator, ceased to speak. The Summer School choir rendered the music of the mass in an excellent manner. At 7:45 the rosary was recited and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament given. After the service at the chapel a musical was given by the ladies of the New York Cottage, when Father Pardow again spoke. Some excellent musical numbers and recitations were well rendered.

The course of lectures this week is a very interesting and instructive one. The morning lectures are given by Rev. Dr. Fox on philosophy at 9:30. At 10:30 A. I. Du. P. Coleman B.A., of New York College, will give five lectures on "Types of Medieval Literature." The evening lectures are given by Jean F. P. Des Garennes of Washington, D.C. Subject, "A comparative study of French and Shakespearean tragedy." A party was given at Holly Cottage Monday evening and at the Albany Cottage Tuesday evening. A photograph of the Rochester Cottage and guests was taken Tuesday.

Friday afternoon an excursion to the Isle of Mott and Shrine of St. Anne will take place when several hundred persons will avail themselves of the opportunity of visiting the shrine and the Isle where President Roosevelt was sojourning when the news of the assassination of the late President McKinley reached him. And so the good work goes on each week bringing new sources of pleasure and new guests to our little paradise the Catholic Summer School. At present writing Rochester Cottage has the following guests. From our own city, Rev. J. Emil Gefell, H. L. Lynch, Henry Kimmel, Mrs. M. Scalan, Miss Marguerite Fee, Mrs. J. C. Fee and daughters, Marie and Louise, Miss Martha Cosgrove, Miss Alice Murphy, Misses E. and D. Flaherty, Misses K. and M. McNulty, Miss E. E. Madden, Miss Louise Madden and Miss S. R. Quinn. From Syracuse, Miss Rose Egan, Misses E. R. and E. J. DeLany. From New York, Miss E. Monaghan, Miss C. Lynch, Miss Grace Lynch, Miss L. E. Butler, Misses E. A. and J. C. Conklin, from Jersey City N. J., Miss Estelle Phelps, from Boston, Mr. E. M. Darcy, and Mr. Harrington of Barry, Vt.

The guests of Rochester Cottage will give a party at Champlain Club Friday Evening.
