About Fine Carpets

For a glimpse, or more than a glimpse, of the largest assortment of Wilton, Axminster and Velvet Carpets ever brought into Rochester, you are referred to our store, where these grades have an entire department to themselves.

It is needless, perhaps, to assure you that our selections are the cream of the new patterns, that many of the best are private to us for this part of the state, or that our prices are no higher than where choice is restricted; but these are important points and it is well to be posted.

Two-toned effects, in blues, greens, mahogany, tans and reds, are prevalent in this season's weaves, and the various combinations are extremely rich and artistic.
