Five Minute Sermon.

Jesus Cures the Man sick of the Palsy.

It was the city of Capernaum, on the west bank of the river Jordan, a little before it flows into the Sea of Tiberias, also called the Lake of Genesareth and the Sea of Galilee.

The home of Jesus was Nazareth, but St. John Chrysostom and many others are of the opinion that He cherished a special affection for Capernaum, so that St. Matthew called it His city.

He healed the paralytic mentioned in the Gospel. He restored sight to two blind persons, and healed the deaf and dumb man who was possessed by the devil, of which mention is made in the Gospel for the third Sunday in Lent.

We are to learn from this that when we are sick our first thought should be to place ourselves in the grace of God, thus healing our soul first, because diseases are very often a punishment for sins committed; hence a cure can scarcely be hoped for if the cause has not first been removed by repentance.

England's Fig Gardens. The industry of fig culture in Britain may be said to be centered in Worthing, though how this neighborhood should come to possess the most extensive fig orchards it is hard to say.

The Wife's Mistake. "The other day," said Jones, "an old woman bounced into our office displaying a notice that we had written to her to the effect that a tax on some property of hers was due. She swore she had paid it. I had the books to prove that the tax was still unpaid, and suggested that she had made a mistake. She declared that she had not, and said: 'Don't you ever make mistakes?' I assured her that I did not, and jokingly added, 'The only mistake I ever made was when I was married.' She looked at me a second and then said: 'No, your wife made'

A CHURCH BUILDER

THE WORK OF BROTHER ADRIAN, THE FRANCISCAN ARCHITECT.

He Devotes His Whole Time to Designing and Erecting Buildings For His Order in Its Province of the Sacred Heart.

Architecture in St. Louis finds its most novel expression in Brother Adrian, a monk.

Brother Adrian is an architect extraordinary. He is a Franciscan and holds the post of architect and building superintendent to the province of the Sacred Heart in the United States, including all the territory west of the Mississippi river and much of that on the east.

This architect and religious builds all the Franciscan structures in all this territory, and they are also of his designing. There are forty monasteries, each with a church and a schoolhouse and several having as many as four buildings, so that Brother Adrian has 125 structures to keep in repair and new ones every year to build.

Brother Adrian is a resident of the monastery at Coudon avenue and Marerac street when he is at home. He is one of the forty brothers residing in this spacious house, which, with its great church and schoolhouses, is all the work of Brother Adrian.

Brother Adrian works in architecture continuously. While others of the Franciscan monks have churches to serve and missions to make, Brother Adrian gives his whole time to architecture, the fashioning of new churches, schools, convents and monasteries or the remodeling of the old. He has been doing it for a great many years, and the churches he has built lift their spires over this broad land from Indiana to the Pacific coast and from the Canadian border to Mexico. He has two assistants, Brothers Leonard and Lewis, who have been apprentices with him. They are regarded as progressionists in the architecture of the province.

Brother Adrian was born at Harsewinkel, in Munster, Germany, in 1830. He has been a monk forty two of his seventy two years and, as many of the Franciscans have done, has contributed practical mechanics and arts in addition to his religious zeal. When the Franciscans build a church, they have in him their own architect and superintendent of construction. For the interior appointments the altars, paintings, etc. they have their own wood-workers and artists. Just so do they have their own tailors and shoemakers, so that a house of the Franciscans is quite independent within itself.

The finest type of Brother Adrian's work has recently been completed at San Francisco in the new St. Boniface church, monastery and convent. It is one of the finest churches upon the coast and is the work of Brother Adrian within and without. Interest in it from an architectural viewpoint is such that at the recent session of the Eucharist league in St. Louis the interior of the St. Boniface church was exhibited in miniature at St. Louis university.

Brother Adrian does much more than design and superintend the construction of his own province and for that matter in his order. His skill is such and so generally recognized that he is consulted from many sources in the United States. Scarcely any of the big Catholic universities or churches in the United States have been built in the last thirty years without some suggestion from the learned monk whose home is in St. Louis.

The Adrian churches are mostly in Gothic architecture, with the sharp, beautiful spires so characteristic of Gothic churches. He does some work in the Romanesque, but it is more in the schools and convents than in the churches. The church adjoining his home, designed and built by him thirty years ago, is an illustration of his love for the Gothic tone in his art. He is constantly upon the move, looking now after the building of a church in California and now upon business in Illinois. The St. Joseph convent in St. Louis is one of his Roman buildings, and the magnificent Franciscan properties at Quincy, Ill., and Teutopolis, Ill., are his.

St. Louis is headquarters for the Franciscan province of the sacred heart. It is one of the chief provinces of the order in the United States, and has forty houses on it as follows: St. Louis, Washington, Chillicothe, Wien and Hermann in Missouri; Superior, Keshena, Washburn, Ashland and Bayfield in Wisconsin; Chaska, Wacona and Jordan in Minnesota; Chicago (2), Joliet, Quincy (2), Radom and Teutopolis (2), in Illinois; Cleveland in Ohio; Columbus, Humphrey, Omaha and St. Bernard in Nebraska; Fruitvale, Watsonville, Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, Kelseyville, San Francisco (2), and Sacramento in California; Harbor Springs and Petoskey in Michigan; Phenix, Ariz.; Memphis, Tenn., and Indianapolis, Ind.—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

The Feast of St. Michael. The feast of St. Michael, which falls on Sept. 29, is a day which appeals particularly to those in authority no less than to those battling with the powers of evil. Michael, the captain of the armies of God, is a type of divine fortitude, and as the special protector of the children of light his powerful intercession is confidently invoked to crown heroic effort with victory.

Mgr. Sbarretti. Advice from Rome state that Mgr. Donatus Sbarretti, the former bishop of Havana, will be ordered to Haiti as apostolic delegate, to replace Mgr. Toussaint, archbishop of Port au Prince, as soon as the political situation in the Haitian republic permits it.

C. R. AND B. A. CONVENTION.

The biennial session of the Catholic Relief and Beneficiary Association was held in Centennial hall, Albany, N. Y. on last Tuesday and Wednesday. About 150 delegates from all parts of the United States were present.

The constitution was amended so that supreme conventions will be held triennially. Previous to that there will be grand councils in the states of New York, Wisconsin and Pennsylvania and other states where there is a membership of 500 or more. The change was made on account of the expense of the convention.

Other amendments are as follows:—The class known as class A is abolished and all members will be in one class.

Councils will be obliged to send to Supreme Recorder the advanced assessment of each member. Trustees are elected for six years. Supreme President shall appoint Deputies.

A Financial Secretary who has served two terms shall be eligible to be a representative to a Grand Council.

Before adjourning a vote of thanks was extended to Bishop Burke for pontificating at the Cathedral Tuesday morning.

The following officers were elected: President Thomas H. O'Neill; first vice president, Daniel McDonald, second vice president, Zita Hannon; recorder, Mary G. Connelly; treasurer, James L. McGarr; medical examiner, Frank W. Maloney; marshal, John E. Mackie; guard, Dr. W. C. Byrne; trustees, Rev. W. F. Dougherty, P. F. Millmore, J. Holihan, J. P. Henry, Katie McGee, John Casey; incorporators, William Bryne John H. Hubbard, John Lane; committee on laws, James Wood, Nicholas Reding, William E. Taaffe, finance committee, J. Joseph Nash, Mary L. Ford, Matthew L. McCann; committee on supplies, Albert Mourke.

Notes. Rochester is supposed to have a representative on the Supreme Board, but has it?

The man who was elected does not represent the majority of the members in this city or in fact of his own Council. He deliberately insulted the intelligent body of ladies and gentlemen who composed the Rochester delegation and for his reward received one vote from them. Who does he represent? We think himself.

Will somebody tell us what Our Trustee ever did for the association? We wonder if Our Trustee is satisfied in his own heart with the outcome or does he aspire the Supreme Presidency? Ask his friends, if he has any in Rochester.

Brother McDonald, of Wisconsin, must look to his laurels as our Trustee is reported as saying that he wanted to be the Supreme First Vice President instead of Trustee. But when he found he could not land for that office why he did the next thing possible—played the baby act—and went back on the people from his own town. It was a great grand stand play but we doubt if it would have been successful if Father Dougherty had not come to his rescue.

Our Trustee who represents himself in the order will now attend to business until next convention. He is too busy to bother with the order meanwhile.

COOK OPERA HOUSE. The headliner for next week's bill at the Cook Opera House will be McIntyre and Heath the blackface comedians who made such a big hit here last year in "The Georgia Minstrels." The clever comedians will have a new act and it is said to be a scream of laughter from start to finish. Another big attraction will be the Meland Troupe, Milanese minstrel, vocalists and instrumentalists.

A genuine novelty will be found in Kary's Giant Myriphone. This is a mysterious musical instrument that is said to be some kind of a xylophone. The secret of the mechanism is jealously guarded by the inventor, and he will allow no one on the stage while the machine is being put in place. The Rio Brothers are wonderful flying ring performers. Kathryn Osterman will present a clever sketch called "To-morrow at 12." Paul Stephens is an Equilibrist well known in vaudeville. Grant and Grant are amusing comedians. The Major sisters are singers and dancers and another act, not yet announced, will complete the bill, which will be presented twice every day next week.

Pope Friendly to Americans.

Continued from page 1. English management. They can scarcely understand how it is that we can carry our products across the ocean and undersell their own producers, merchants and manufacturers.

"The make up of their newspapers shows how far they are behind American methods and how determined they are to relegate America to the background if they can. They'll give three columns to a police court case that would be dismissed with ten lines in the Rochester papers, while they devote only ten lines to American happenings. The papers are very prosy to American readers. They are not gotten up in the readable style that characterizes our dailies. There is one paper, the Daily Telegraph, I think, that is more enterprising and that is read more widely by the Americans in England."

"While in London, I visited the Zoological gardens, the Tower of London and other points of interest. I could not get into Westminster Abbey because of the coronation preparations."

Well Gloved Is Well Groomed. The Glove store steps into fall dress. May we give you more than an introduction to them--make you acquainted? Why knowing ones prefer to come here for gloves is an old story now. You take it for granted that you'll get here the finest, softest skins, correct shaping to the hand--in a word best gloves at the lowest prices. Why? We make them--or practically so.

The glove kids for ladies this season—and they are the glove—are in browns, modes, grays, tans, reds, pearls, white and black; two clasp; single or double embroidery. In a dress glove our numbers are the 'Tribly' at 75c; 'Mel-tona' at $1; 'Girard' at $1.25; 'Valance' at $1.50; 'Seamless' at $1.75.

Our 'Seamless' glove—its name describes it—has achieved remarkable popularity. It is made without side seam—fits hands which have never before known a satisfactory glove. In ladies' pique walking gloves our line consists of the 'Marie' at $1; the 'Dora' at $1.25; the 'Derby' at $1.75; the 'La Griffon' at $2.

We might add just as interesting facts for Misses and Men—we look after their glove wants just as carefully. Sibley, Lindsay & Curr Co.
