

OUR IRISH LETTER

NEWS FROM ALL THE COUNTIES OF IRELAND.

What is Being Done by the People at Home—Various Items From Every Section of the Emerald Isle.

ULSTER

ANTRIM.—It is stated that the White Star Company has placed an order with Messrs. Harland & Wolff, Belfast, for a vessel which will be longer than the Cedric, launched a few weeks ago. The new vessel will be 23 feet longer than the longest ship afloat.

Mr. Trew, the rabid anti-Catholic bigot, on September 7 arrived in Belfast, after a week's absence in Liverpool, England, and was met by a crowd of his followers whom he harangued. The Belfast Protestant Association proper and "the one and only Belfast Protestant Association" resented by Mr. Trew from Mr. Thomas Sloan, M. P., and his party, proceeded to hold rival meetings at the custom house steps. Hymns were chanted. Trew denounced the Protestant Association. The Protestant Association was simultaneously denouncing Trew. Collections were taken up in both crowds and "God Save the King" sung. In the evening again an open-air program of preaching was gone through by the rival parties at the same place. Mr. Trew said they saw the men who called themselves the Belfast Protestant Association had tried to injure him.

ARMAGH.—Saturday, September 6, was the twelfth anniversary of the death of the Most Rev. John Plus Leary, O. P., who for so many years ruled over the Catholic population of the Diocese of Dromore.

As Michael McShane of McCamley Ball near Newtownhamilton, was proceeding to mass on Sunday morning, September 7, to the latter village, accompanied by his father, another neighbor and Mr. Patrick Donnelly, and having reached the townland of Camleyzamlough, he became suddenly sick and shortly afterward expired.

A farmer named Denis Nugent, aged 75 years, a native of Ulster, died suddenly in Crossmaglen on September 6. It will be remembered that some fifteen years ago a number of Nationalists from the district were arrested and tried in Belfast for alleged complicity in some supposed political intrigue. The men were convicted and sentenced to long terms of imprisonment. The late Mr. Nugent was one of the victims.

CAVAN.—Rev. Bernard McCabe, pastor of Killynere, near Virginia, died September 11, aged 64 years, of which 40 years were spent in the ministry of Kilmore Diocese.

A meeting of the East Cavan Executive of the United Irish League was held in Ballyjamesduff lately, Mr. Francis Lynch, chairman, presiding. Mr. T. M. Farrelly, divisional director, and Mr. Brady, secretary, were in attendance. Delegates attended from Drumgoolan, Cootahill, Maudabawn, Lavey, Laragh, Clifflona, Knockbridge East, Sheroock, Castlerahan, Ballyboro, Killynere, Upper Killynere Lower Crosserlough, Kingscourt, Drumg, Mullagh and Denn. Mr. P. J. McGarry, Mandabawn, moved "That having seen Mr. Young's explanation of his action in regard to applying for seats at the coronation show and grovel at the feet of Edward VII, who represents all that is hateful to the Irish people, tends to degrade the Irish party in the eyes of the world, and we consider the time has come for the East Cavan Executive to call on Mr. Young to resign, and give place to a better type of Irish Nationalist to represent the old constituency of Joseph G. Biggar." The resolution was adopted.

DERRY.—Cardinal Logue has given a donation of $400 to assist the bazaar for the new cathedral in Derry.

Mr. John Dillon and Mr. J. S. MacNeill, M. P.'s, arrived in Derry September 8, and received deputations from the local branches of the United League. The proceedings were private.

Among the deaths recently reported from Derry were: September 7, at 15 Bridge street, Derry, Margaret McGettigan, aged 51 years.—September 7, at 113 Locky Road, Derry, James Montague.—September 8, at 12 Deansy street, Derry, Daniel Keir.

The new peal of ten splendid bells, for St. Eugene's Cathedral, cast in the foundry of Gillett & Johnston, Croyden, England, were shipped at the London docks on September 6. There is in Dublin an Irish firm of bell-founders named Byrnes & Co., which has been long established and has founded some of the best and sweetest toned bells of Ireland and the other countries; yet, strange to say, the bells for St. Eugene's were given to an English firm. The money spent on these bells is not one penny more of good for Ireland. England

DONEGAL.—On September 8, prior to his departure for Derry, Cardinal Logue visited the Loretto Convent School at Letterkeny. His Eminence was accompanied by the Most Rev. Dr. O'Donnell, Bishop of Raphoe, Very Rev. Dr. P. O'Haran, secretary to His Eminence, Rev. D. Stephens, administrator, Letterkeny; Rev. John O'Doherty, St. Johnston; Rev. J. C. Cannon, administrator, Glenswilly; Rev. H. Gallagher, president St. Eunan's Seminary, Letterkeny and the Rev. M. Gallagher, St. Eunan's Seminary. The children sang a number of songs in Irish and in English.

The County Donegal convention convened by the directory of the United Irish League, was held on September 9 in the Literary Institute, Letterkeny. There was a large attendance of delegates representing branches of the league in various parts of the county and the County Council, District Council and Poor Law Board several clergymen were present.

DOWN.—Samuel Block of Derrybeg, was found dead in a lane off the public road in that district on September 8.

Most Rev. Dr. O'Neill, has appointed Rev. Daniel Mallon, P. P., Dromara, to be parish priest at Warrenpoint, Rev. T. J. Rooney, C. C. Banbridge, has been appointed C. C. Magheralin, and the Rev. Eugene McPolin, C. C. Magheralin, to be C. C. Banbridge.

Mr. Jeremiah MacVeigh, M. P., for South Down, paid a visit to Downpatrick on September 9, and accompanied by Mr. John Denvir, president of the local branch of the United Irish League, paid a visit to the Very Rev. P. O'Kane, the venerable and respected pastor of the parish, where they met the Very Rev. J. O'Lavery, M. R. L., A. Holywood. Mr. MacVeigh was shown through St. Patrick's Memorial Church, which he greatly admired, and in particular was much pleased with the life size statue of St. Patrick in marble, lately erected by the parishioners in commemoration of the golden jubilee of Father O'Kane. Mr. MacVeigh also visited St. Patrick's Convent and schools.

FERRANAGH.—On Sept. 9 the body of Mrs. John Murray, of Jaltymore, was found in Kilkorn Lake. How she was drowned is not known. She was aged about 60 years.

Very Rev. Denis F. O'Haran, D. D., Dean of St. Mary's, Sydney, private secretary to Cardinal Moran, recently paid a three-day visit to his old home at Drumaveil, Derrygonnelly. He will pay another visit to the scenes of his childhood before leaving Ireland. Rev. Patrick O'Haran, California Mission, who is a first cousin of the Dean, has just completed a two months' stay in Ireland. He is a son of Mr. Francis O'Haran, Drumquinn.

MONAGHAN.—When it became known in Monaghan that Rt. Rev. John M. Farley, of New York, had been elevated to the Holy See, to be archbishop of that great diocese, the satisfaction felt and expressed was very pronounced, because the distinguished ecclesiastic is associated by blood ties to this county. His Grace is son of the late Mr. Philip Farley, a hotelkeeper of Newtownhamilton, in the county Armagh, and his wife, Catherine Murphy of Moyles, a townland in the immediate neighborhood of Monaghan. Mrs. Farley was aunt of Mr. Edward Murphy, Moyles, and of Mr. Francis J. Barkey, Monaghan, and hence it is that the news of his elevation to the Archbishopric of New York was hailed with so much satisfaction. The distinguished prelate was born in Newtownhamilton on April 20, 1842. Monsignor Farley visited Monaghan at the opening of St. Macartan's Cathedral and on the second Sunday after its dedication he occupied the pulpit in that magnificent edifice and preached a most eloquent and instructive service.

TYRONE.—The bazaar held in Leekpatrick September 5 to raise funds to assist in paying off the debt on the new St. Eugene's Cathedral, was a great success. Father Connolly, the pastor, opened the bazaar. During the time it remained in operation a great number of persons visited it, and a good sum of money was obtained for the laudable purpose.

MUNSTER

CLARE.—It was Clare Day in the Cork Exhibition on September 4, and one thousand persons from the town of Ennis and districts around went to the "Rebel City" of Cork. They were not received by the Mayor as the only persons he meets are Lords, Dukes, Lord Lieutenants, and British Chief Secretaries.

On Sunday, August 31, Father Masnamara, P. P., Bodyke, preached a powerful and eloquent sermon on the drink evil. At the conclusion of his sermon he administered the anti-treating pledge, viz: to promise not to give or to accept a treat in any place where drink is sold, and about 150 men and women took that pledge. At Tomgraney, on the following Sunday, a similar number took the anti-treating pledge.

A meeting of the members of the Thredara branch of the United Irish League was held on September 7, Mr. J. Lynch presiding. Two of the Ennis political prisoners, Mr. J. P. Linnane and Mr. John O'Sullyvan, were released from a morrick jail September 8. It will be remembered that some months ago several members of the United Irish League, including the two named, were sentenced by the local Removables to terms of imprisonment ranging between one and four months. Mr. Timothy Flanagan received four months with hard labor (he is still in prison), Mr. Joseph O'Sullivan to three months' hard labor, and Mr. J. P. Linnane, to three months without hard labor; while Messrs. Hegerty and O'Brien were sentenced to two months' imprisonment. On the evening the sentences were confirmed all were removed to Limerick jail, and, as stated, Messrs. Linnane and O'Sullivan were released on date mentioned. Owing to the uncertain hour at which they were released, a few personal friends only met them on their release, including Mr. J. P. Keane, Ennis; Alderman Joyce, M. P.; P. Bourke.

CORK.—Mr. E. Fitzgerald, Mayor of Cork, has made it known that he was offered a title by some one from Dublin Castle, and that he had refused it with thanks.

On September 7 at Middleton, the St. Mary's High School for girls was opened by the Very Rev. Canon Hutch. The schools will be under the patronage and immediate supervision of the pastor. The Sister of the Presentation Order will conduct the schools.

KERRY.—On Sept. 4, in the parish church, Tralee, by Father Murphy, Dr. John Crawley, Ballacaste, County Mayo, to Julia Catherine (Grilde) youngest daughter of Mrs. Larkin, Tralee.

About 1 o'clock on Thursday morning, Sept. 11, Andrew Houlahan, mason Dingle, fell from a window of 13 Nelson street, Tralee, and sustained fatal injuries.

On Sept. 30 John McGillicuddy fatally shot his brother's wife and afterward shot himself, at Glencar, near McGillicuddy's Reeks, Killarney. He was suffering from a fit of temporary insanity.

Miss Murphy, of Duagh, was professed a member of the Presentation Order in the convent, Killarney, Aug. 20; religious title, Sister Mary Teresa. Most Rev. R. Coffey officiated, assisted by Rev. M. Fuller, C. C., Killarney. Among the clergy present were: Rev. P. Haynes, Adm., Killarney; Rev. M. O'Flaherty, president; Rev. P. O'Carroll, professor, St. Brendan's Seminary, Killarney; Rev. Fr. O'Leary, Devonshire; Rev. P. Fleming, Kilkummin; Rev. J. Larkin, Everies; Rev. M. Keane, Beaufort; Rev. J. O'Callaghan, Cahirciveen. The guests included Mr. Murphy (brother), Miss Murphy (sister), Mrs. Murphy (sister-in-law), Mr. Larkin, Listowel; Mr. and Mrs. Golden, Tralee; Mr. and Mrs. Allman, Rockfield; Mr. Casey, Duagh; Mr. and Mrs. Johnstone, Mr. and Mrs. George Clarke, London; Mr. and Mrs. Misses Turner, Dr. and Mrs. McSweeney, Killarney; Miss Russell, London; Miss McDonnell, Mrs. Scott, Miss Murliss. LIMERICK.—John Cornane, native of Limerick, and a student in St. Joseph's College, Cork, was drowned in the Lee, near Carrigrohane, on Sept. 7, while bathing.

Mr. Sempel P. Harris, Adamstown, Knocklong, honorable secretary of the East Limerick Executive, has the honor of being the first man in the county to be selected for prosecution under the Coercion regime. A summons has been served on him to appear before a court at Newcastle West to for a speech made at a recent meeting at Knockanery.

TIPPERARY.—Miss Stella Mullaly, of Jamestown, was received lately into the Presentation Order of Nuns, at the Convent George's Hill, Dublin, taking the title Sister Mary Dymphna.

After suffering six months' imprisonment under the Coercion Act, Mr. R. A. Coor, United Irish League organizer, was liberated from Clonmel Bastille on Sept. 11. On emerging from the prison he was given a hearty reception by his United Irish League colleagues in Clonmel. When he arrived at Templemore he was given a "triumph" in which fourteen bands of music and an immense gathering of the people participated.

In the Tipperary pound, Sept. 13, ten cows seized in satisfaction of a decree for £52 at the suit of Count Arthur Moore, of Moorefort, against John Donerty, of Toor, Kiltross, for six months' rent, were put up for sale by Mr. William Mitchell, sheriff's assistant, Clonmel. A total stranger to the district purchased the animals for £55. They were worth more than £130, so that Count Moore has caused the unfortunate tenant a very serious loss financially.

WATERFORD.—The Nationalists of Waterford City are going to make a presentation to the veteran Nationalist Mr. Michael Wyse, Town Councillor. Mr. Wyse was a friend of the illustrious patriot and soldier, Thomas Francis Meagher. Subscriptions will be received and acknowledged by Mr. H. Fisher, of the Maudslayi Express, Waterford City.

At the Ursuline Convent, on Sept. 9, Miss Julia O'Donoghue, daughter of the late Mr. O'Donoghue, Barronstrand street, Waterford City, and Miss Mollie Deevy, daughter of the late Mr. Edward Deevy, also of Waterford City, were received. Most Rev. Dr. Sheehan officiated. The other clergymen present were: Canon Sheehan, president St. John's College; Rev. Dr. Walsh, vice president do.; Rev. W. O'Donnell, St. Patrick's; Rev. J. S. Kelly, Prior Dominican Church; Rev. P. Dunphy, Bishop's secretary, and chaplain to the Ursuline Convent; Rev. James Mockler, De La Salle College, Rev. B. Hackett, St. John's College.

A special meeting of the Waterford Corporation was held Sept. 12 for the purpose of presenting Mr. John Redmond, M. P. for Waterford, with the freedom of the city. The Mayor, Ald. R. Hearne, presided, and there was a large attendance of the Corporation and general public. Mr. Redmond having subscribed the roll of Freeman referred to the Free Bridge project, and said he always looked back with pleasure to the fact that in one great project in which they were engaged he was able at the initial stage to act in unison with the Mayor and Corporation. He meant the project of a free bridge, when he found that he could be of some small service. He was exceedingly interested to learn that next month an inquiry is to be held into the project, and he was quite confident that the result of the action taken will be that they would soon have a free bridge in Waterford.

LEINSTER

CARLOW.—The patriotic people of Tullow have agreed to erect a memorial to that heroic priest and patriot, Father John Murphy, who died for Ireland in the war against English oppression in 1798. Ireland has many splendid character as patriots, literateurs and artists, whom it would be well to have commemorated in monuments all over the country, but up to this very little has been done by the Irish people in this way. Other countries are full of memorials to their worthy sons. In Ireland, memorials to the enemies of the Irish and their national church can be found in almost all the cities and the towns. It is time to change humiliating condition therefore Tullow Nationalists will have the support of all true Irishmen in their noble effort. Contributions may be sent to Thomas Bolger, chairman; James Murphy, vice-chairman; John Foley, and Gerald O'Toole, treasurers; or to M. P. Maher and James Maher, honorary secretaries.

DUBLIN.—Mr. R. E. Jameson, the son of Major Eustace Jameson, M. P. for West Clare, was drowned Sept. 11 while bathing at Blackrock. He went for a bath and nothing more was seen far more than the Boers or the Germans. His clothing and towel were found on the beach.

On Sept. 9 summonses were served at the Irish People office on Mr. T. McCarthy, editor; Mr. T. O'Dwyer, manager, and Mr. Stephen Holland, publisher, by two detectives. The text of the summonses is under the Coercion Law. The summonses is by the King at the prosecution of Barnaby Lanket, superintendent of Dublin Metropolitan Police. The defendants are charged with having between the 1st day of July and the 8th of September, 1902, by the publication of certain matter in the Irish People used intimidation toward certain persons whose names are unknown, to wit, persons who had taken, used, or occupied farms of land let for grazing purposes, or from which tenants had been eviced in due courts of law. There is also a charge of inciting certain persons to use intimidation, and a charge of criminal conspiracy.

Recent deaths in Dublin.—M'DONNELL.—At Garrinstown, John McDonnell, aged 76.—MURRAY.—At 2 Mary Mount terrace, Dalkey, Anne Murray, late of 81 Lower George's street, Kingstown.—ORMSBY.—Sept. 7, at 12 Castle Market, Mary Ormsby.—O'TOOLE.—Sept. 8, at Kishavanna, Marianne O'Toole aged 48 years. Funeral to Derrintown, Carbery.—O'FLAHERTY.—Sept. 8, at 5 Edward terrace, Dalkey, Captain Jas. O'Flaherty, of 26 Pelvidere place, Dublin, late Commodore of the Dublin and Glasgow S. P. Co.—KELLY.—Aug. 28, Victor Albert Kelly, 4rene Villa, Finglas, aged 26 years.—McHugh.—Sept. 9 at 57 Gullistan Cottage, Rathmines, Wm. McHugh, aged 40, for many years with Mr. Magee, Rathmines terrace.—GEOGHEGAN.—Sept. 12, at Mater Hospital, Mrs. Margaret Geoghegan.—KERRIGAN.—Sept. 10, at Elm Green Cottage, Castleknock, Mary Kerrigan, aged 85.—MCDONALD.—Sept. 11, at her residence, 20 Clarence place, Clarence St., Elizabeth McDonald.—MARLOWE.—Sept. 12, at No. 5 Fitzgibbon street, Dublin, Elizabeth Marlowe.—MULHALL.—Sept. 12, at 7 Robert street, Mary Mulhall.—O'FLAHERTY.—Sept. 8, at 5 Edward terrace, Dalkey, Capt. James O'Flaherty, of 26 Belvidere place, Dublin, late Commodore of the Dublin and Glasgow S. P. Co.

KILDARE.—The death of Mr. Pierce Kelly, Kilmoroney, Athy, occurred on Sept. 10, deeply mourned. Requiem Mass and funeral were very numerously attended.

KILKENNY.—A special meeting of the Kilkenny City Technical Education Committee was held on Sept. 6 for the purpose of appointing a head master for the Central Technical Schools in the city at a salary of £200 a year and an instructress in domestic economy, etc., at a salary of £80 a year. The Mayor (Ald. P. Hoyle), presided, and there was a large attendance. There were a hundred applications for head master, and the applications, with certificates of qualification, etc., having been forwarded to the department, the latter sent down three names to the committee, from which the final selection might be made. The committee, having interviewed the candidates, unanimously decided to appoint Mr. George T. Phillips, Selby Oak, Birmingham. For the position of instructress, Miss Grace Ferguson, Glasgow, was chosen, she being the only candidate who appeared before the committee. Premises for the Central School have been let in a central position in Parliament street.

KING'S.—Sept. 11, under the most encouraging auspices, the Birr Technical Schools were formally opened by the Venerable Thomas Phelan, D.D., Archbishop of Killaloe.

On Sept. 12 died, at the age of 84 years, Michael Coghlan, the respected and dearly beloved father of the Revs. Daniel Coghlan, P. P., Aughrim, and Joseph Coghlan, P. P., Taughmacoonill, and the Misses Coghlan, Main street, Ballinasloe. Office and High Mass were celebrated at Shannon Bridge on Monday. Funeral immediately after for the family burial ground at Clonmacnoise.

Sept. 7, the Feast of St. Kieran of Clonmacnoise, the patron of the diocese, was celebrated by a pilgrimage of several thousand persons to the celebrated shrine on the banks of the Shannon. Many journeyed by car from the different towns in Ardagh and Clonmacnoise, but the great bulk of the pilgrims availed themselves of the excellent service of steamers between Banagher, Portumna and Athlone, which were run by the Shannon Development Company, under the direction of Mr. J. McCormack, general manager.

LONGFORD.—Mr. J. P. Farrell, M. P., was on Sept. 12 served with a summons under the Coercion Act. The charges are for having published in his paper, the Longford Leader, intimidatory articles respecting a farmer near Longford, named W. Martin and a merchant near Granard named P. M. O'Reilly.

The Protestant Bishop of Ardagh, in his address to the members of the Diocesan Synod at Longford, on Sept. 10, said: "Ireland was now divided into two camps, one consisting of those who desired to override the law, and the other of those who wished to get the protection which the ordinary law could not give them. The imbroglia thus created was a reproach to civilization and a disgrace to statesmanship. The Protestants of Ireland stood by England in recent years. Now they were to be subjected to the faction which openly rejoiced in British defeats, and which hated the Empire men."

A special meeting of the Longford County Council was convened on Sept. 8, to consider the question of the proclamation of Longford under the Coercion Act. The chairman, Mr. John Phillips, presided, and there were also present. J. T. Farrell, M. P.; John Doherty, Thomas Plunkett, Thomas Kiernan, John Rattigan, Joseph Smith, Patrick McCann, Patrick Baxter, James McDonnell, Francis Egan, Michael Farrell, Bernard Mulligan, Laurence Earley and Bernard Brady. This resolution was adopted unanimously: "That we, the members of Longford County Council, at a special meeting assembled protest in the most emphatic manner against the action of the Government in proclaiming the county under the Coercion Act, and challenge the Government to show by pledge ourselves to use every constitutional means to have the land question settled, as it is the cause of the unconstitutional action of the Government." Mr. Farrell, M. P., said the next thing is to prepare for Sligo jail.

LOUTH.—Mr. Thomas Hoey, flour and provision merchant of Park street, Dundalk, on Sept. 9, succumbed to injuries received while cycling near Inniskeen. Mr. Hoey's wife, being in ill-health, has been stopping with relatives in County Monaghan, and it was her husband's custom to cycle over from Dundalk several times each week. It appears that returning, on rounding a very sharp and ugly corner near Moyles (the residence of Rev. J. F. Maguire), he came in violent collision with a trap driven by a local man named McHugh. The night was very dark, and it appears that, like the vast majority of cyclists, Mr. Hoey had no lamp. The shaft of the trap struck him in the breast and inflicted such injuries that although skillfully treated at Father Maguire's house, he succumbed.

MEATH.—An inquest was held on Sept. 6 by Mr. John Kelly, coroner for Meath on the body of a Drogheda mason named James Tuttle, who died in the Navan Infirmary as a result of injuries received the previous day while engaged at the erection of the new Loretto Convent at Athlumney. Navan a girl which was being hoisted into place turned over on Tuttle's leg and fractured the limb. Drs. Finnegan and Kelly gave evidence that they believed Tuttle died from a clot on or in the brain, carried from the fractured limb and producing cerebral embolism, and the jury found accordingly.

QUEEN'S.—The Rev. M. Brennan, parish priest of Stradbally, passed away on Sept. 12 after a long illness, bereft with fortitude and resignation.

WESTMEATH.—A man named Bernard O'Tielly, said to be an ex-policeman, and from Mullingar, when on a visit to Kilmarnock on Sept. 11 became suddenly insane. He made a desperate resistance to being conveyed to the insane asylum. During the struggle to subdue him he bit a policeman's hand severely.

Miss McNade, native of Westmeath, was professed a member of the Order of Sisters of Mercy in the Convent of Mercy, Arklow, on Sept. 10. She is a niece of Most Rev. Dr. Flood, Archbishop of Trinidad.

WEXFORD.—On May 13 last two Irish ladies were professed in the Convent of the Incarnate Word, Victoria, Tex. They are Miss Katie Laffan and Miss Minogue, the former, whose name in religion is Sister M. Genevieve, and daughter of the late Michael Laffan, of the Deeps Castle, left her native land to labor for the promotion of God's glory on a foreign soil in August, 1899.

WICKLOW.—The town of Arklow is now lighted by acetylene gas, and is found to be very satisfactory.

The members of the Glenmalur branch of the Gaelic League have elected Father Field their president. In a short discourse he said: "It is incumbent on every person who has the interest of his country at heart to foster and protect its language. For, as Davis said, 'A nation without a language is no nation.' The Irish language was a perfect language when most of the languages of the present day were not in existence."

On Sept. 7 a young girl named Mary Woodcock, while proceeding to last Mass at Enniskerry, fell in a fainting condition at the top of Kilgarron hill. Her brother perceived her condition, ran for assistance and summoned both the priest and doctor. On their arrival it was found that the girl was dead.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Experience worries more men than it teaches. A woman who is a good listener is truly unselfish. Before giving others advice try a sample of it yourself. An old bachelor says a certificate of birth is a milk ticket. Men must take the world as he finds it—and he must leave it in pretty much the same condition. It's certainly queer how much more disagreeable and peevish the child next door is than your own. A July ice bill never looks so big to anybody else as to the man who hasn't settled his January coal bill. One kind of hypocrite is the man who after thanking the Lord for his dinner proceeds to find fault with the cook. Doubtless the accepted suitor imagines it is love that makes the world go round because he is intoxicated with happiness. It's a safe bet that when some men are called upon to pay the debt of nature they will try to settle at ten cents on the dollar. Nothing short of a miracle can deprive a woman of words. That's why she neglects to express her thanks when a man gives up his seat to her in a crowded car.—Chicago News.
