

OVATION TO IRISH LEADERS AT BOSTON.

Boston, Oct. 20—The delegates to the United Irish League, assembled here from almost every State in the Union and Canada, last night tendered a rousing reception to the envoys from Ireland, John E. Redmond, M. P.; John Dillon, M. P.; Edward Blake, M. P.; and Michael Davitt.

JOHN E. REDMOND.

he said: "I am here this evening to introduce to you men who are called rebels by the London Times, yet their names will go down in history."

The convention at Fanuel Hall Monday and Tuesday was the first national convention of the league, which has hitherto carried on its work by means of a provisional committee.

John Redmond and the other members of the Irish parliamentary delegation arrived in New York from Boston late Wednesday night. Mr. Redmond says that on account of the troubles his party is having in Parliament he will sail for England next Wednesday. The other members of the party will tour this country.

Supreme President Thos. H. O'Neill was in this city last Wednesday. Preparations for the annual banquet, to be held Nov. 24th, are being made and it is to be hoped that the committee will be able to find a place large enough to accommodate all who wish to attend.

LACE CURTAINS

OUR drapery store bristles with hints for the artistic dressing of your windows. Besides a profusion of charming designs in the less expensive laces, there is a notable gathering of beautiful patterns in rich Arabians, Renaissance, Brussels, Marie Antoinettes and Clunys.

We invite you to avail yourself of the helpfulness of our Drapery Department. Draw upon it freely for ideas, if you have no further need for it.

CUT GLASS

Do you admire a beautiful display of cut glass? Are you concerned in the selection of a fine wedding gift? Our Cut Glass Department, with its extensive showing of exquisite cuttings and artistic shapes, will have a peculiar charm for you.

Many choice pieces are now on our tables, among them some rich Floor Vases for long-stemmed roses; a large variety of articles in rock crystal, including a pretty line of Vases at from $1.50 to $16.50; all the usual pieces in the popular "Gladys" pattern stem ware, bowls, vases, decanters, etc., in the Lalain fluted cut—plain but elegant; and the first installment of a new Thatcher cutting, "North Star" which we expect to become a favorite with our customers.

Other attractions are our 8 inch diamond finish bowls at $5.00, the collection of gold-etched Baccarat glass, and a complete assortment of imported Rhine wine pieces.

The fact that we have exclusive sale in Rochester for the celebrated Hawkes of Corning and Thatcher's Diamond-Finish Glass should not be forgotten by any intending buyer of fine glass.

Five Minute Sermon. The Ruler's Daughter. The dead girl represented a soul recently fallen into mortal sin through frailty, surprise, or the violence of temptation, rather than through malice or depravity of heart.

The lesson we should learn is to have recourse to Jesus Christ in all our needs with a lively faith and with humility, as had the ruler and the infirm woman. We should also admire the great goodness of our Divine Redeemer. Who was so prompt to console those who asked Him; He will do the same for us if we ask Him from our hearts and as our Divine Master sent away the musicians from the bed of the dead girl, so we on the occasion of death should seek help for the soul, and not the noise and clamor and the vain pomp of the world.

NEW MISSION HOUSE. Catholic Missionary Union Inaugurate a Project for the Training of Diocesan Priests. It is a good little bit of ecclesiastical history to remember that practically the originator of the American College at Rome was Nicholas Devereaux, of Utica, N. Y., who authorized Mr. Mc-Master, the editor of the Freeman's Journal to state publicly that he would be one of the hundred Catholics to give $1,000 to start such a college.

Such a public spirited act was not without its imitators and in a short while money enough was secured to start the college on the great career it has had since. The good the American College has done in cementing the relations between the Church in this country and the Holy See is incalculable.

This little incident is apropos of the inauguration of another project which has in it as great possibilities for the good of the Church as any other that has been started within the generation. The Catholic Missionary Union recently gave existence to the new Apostolic Mission House, and appointed Rev. Walter Elliott to be its first Rector.

The situation was simply this: A year ago at the Conference of Missionaries to non-Catholics held in Winchester, Tennessee, the project of a Mission House which would have for its direct purpose the training of diocesan priests to undertake the work of giving missions to non-Catholics was conceived. It was submitted to the Archbishops, at their meeting last November, and they commended it in the following resolutions: "Be it resolved that we regard the project with warm approval, and will give it all possible aid and encouragement, when it shall have assumed practical shape."

attitude of the hierarchy towards the project, and immediately donations of large amounts began to pour into the Catholic Missionary Union, the corporation which is financing the project. Bishop Harkins, of Providence, R. I., gave his check of $1,000. Fathers Coyle, Fitzsimmons, Stang, three of the priests of the Providence Diocese, gave $1,000 each. Archbishop Farley subscribed $500, at the meeting of the Catholic Missionary Union Mr. Michael Cuddehly gave $500, with a promise of $5000 more as soon as the ground was broken for the new building. Mr. Zachariah Jaques, who had been a warm friend of the non-Catholic mission movement from its inception, left $1,500 in his will, and a number of other donations were made. With scarcely any effort at collection, the Catholic Missionary Union finds itself with over $10,000 in hand.

The Catholic University, at Washington offers the new Mission House a home in Keane Hall, and there are from ten to fifteen priest students asking entrance. There was nothing to be done under these circumstances; but to open immediately. There is no better commendation of the Apostolic Mission House than the way in which it has been received by the country at large. The work of giving missions to non-Catholics has demonstrated its utility and its ability to secure results. Thousands of converts have been brought into the Church by means of these missions.

It is this fact that has induced the public spirited men to be so generous. It was a happy choice that led Father Elliott though much against his own preferences, to assume the responsibility of inaugurating the work. He is the real father of the movement, and a number of the Archbishops urged his appointment. The Mission House will offer to diocesan priests a special course in the methods of giving missions to non-Catholics the best way of answering questions from the Question Box, etc., all with the view of instituting and continuing Diocesan Bands as they are already established in many of the dioceses in the United States.

In order to secure the permanency of this work, it is necessary that the Apostolic Mission House be endowed. $35,000 will secure for it an adequate endowment. It will not be difficult to secure this amount. Nicholas Devereaux announced, that he would be one of a hundred to give a thousand dollars each for the American College at Rome and the other ninety nine were readily found. Already a number of public spirited Catholics are subscribing to Apostolic Mission House in the same way.

A. R. DOYLE, Paulist. The Mater Admirabilis Elect Officers. The members of the Mater Admirabilis Sewing Circle held their annual meeting at the Sacred Heart Convent on Monday. The following officers were named for the coming year:

Honorary president, Mrs. K. Dowling; acting president, Mrs. A. C. Wilkin; vice president, Mrs. B. Liesching; recording secretary, Mrs. K. C. Mahon; corresponding secretaries, Miss L. McManus, Miss M. Cochrane; treasurers, Mrs. J. F. McCauley, Miss J. Cochrane, Mrs. Jos. Cochrane; counsellors, Mrs. R. Curran, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. William McCarthy, Misses Story, L. O'Connor, M. Mahon, Crane, J. Engert.

The yearly account of the work done was read as well as the donations given to poor churches, mostly in the south, and the vestments purchased by priests in this diocese. As the work becomes better known it is patronized by those who want good vestments at cost prices. There are still on hand many pieces of last years work and those who wish to purchase church vestments are invited to call and examine. Orders also taken. The exposition of the years work is held in June.

For the Wedding Day. The innumerable items attendant upon a wedding are a source of infinite concern to many a bride who has little time to devote to the arrangements for the occasion. A chapter in the October Delineator contains all the necessary information in regard to the invitations, details of the ceremony both at church and home, the decorations and the collection, and should be of general service.

Subscribers In Arrears. We have several hundred subscribers who have not paid their subscription for the past year and they are notified that they should send in the money at once. It requires a great deal of money to print a newspaper and after you have had the pleasure of reading weekly the news of the diocese, you should be prompt in forwarding your dollar.

Four McKinley Books Left. For 39 cents you can get one of these books while they last. They are worth $1.50 of any man's money. Call and see them at the Catholic Journal office. Send your book and job printing to The Journal office. Prices right.
