

EUGENE J. DWYER.

The Popular Candidate for Member of Assembly of the Third District.

It is obvious that the Third Assembly District is running over with enthusiasm for the candidacy of Mr. Eugene J. Dwyer, and the cause thereof is not difficult to find, for it is rarely that we find in a young man that particular combination of intelligence, sagacity and honesty coupled with lofty ideals which are the attributes of this brilliant and successful attorney. In addition to these general qualifications he has a particularly intimate knowledge of his constituency having passed his life among them and knowing personally nearly every voter in the wards comprising the district, and having been the playmate and school fellow of a large number of them, and by none is he loved and respected more than by these latter.

Mr. Dwyer is a son of the late Michael Dwyer, who was a well-known and respected citizen of Rochester. Mr. Dwyer was born on Vienna St., Feb. 13th, 1872 and resided there until two years ago when he married the eldest daughter of the late Mr. Connell formerly of the firm of Connell & Dengler. Since that time he has lived on Augustine St. in the Tenth Ward.

Mr. Dwyer's education was obtained at St. Bridget's parochial school, the Rochester Free Academy, the University of Rochester and the law school of Columbia College. In the beginning of his public career he was Second Assistant Corporation Counsel which position he held for a short time when he was made first assistant by reason of merit, and among other duties was adviser to the Law and Assessment Committee of the Common Council, in which service he was conspicuously useful and trustworthy. Mr. Dwyer's career in the Corporation Counsel's office was a brilliant and successful period in the practice of his profession. Mr. Dwyer's trend of mind is broad, logical and judicial to a degree, and in the event of his election he will be a representative of whom not only the Third Assembly District but the entire state will be proud, for not only will he be honored by the commonwealth, but he will honor the commonwealth.

Mr. Dwyer has been a life long member of and prominently identified with St. Bridget's church.

GEORGE HERBERT SMITH.

In the second assembly district which includes the 4th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 12th, 18th and 14th wards, the man whose name heads this article is running for re-election as member of assembly on the Republican ticket. Mr. Smith passed his early years upon a farm in Livingston County and later came to Rochester where he graduated from the Free Academy and University of Rochester and then studied law. He is now a member of the firm of Smith, DeGraff & Castleman, William DeGraff, J. W. Castleman and E. T. Mosher being the other members of the firm.

Mr. Smith was well received at Albany and was deservedly popular with his associates, his fairness and straightforward course in all things, gaining him friends among both Republicans and Democrats. He served on three committees, Codes, Charitable and Religious Institutions and Public Lands and Forestry.

Before going to the Assembly Mr. Smith was for six years in the board of Supervisors and while there commanded the confidence of his associates in a marked degree. He was a believer in business methods in conducting public affairs and advocated the appointment or election of a purchasing agent to do the buying for the county. When he reached the assembly he drew and secured the passage of the purchasing agent bill for Monroe County creating the office of purchasing agent which has been so acceptably filled by Hon. Richard Gardiner. Undoubtedly the County of Monroe will be saved many thousands of dollars by a systematic method of purchasing conducted by a competent official who is paid for giving his best efforts to the business.

The voters of the 2nd Assembly District cannot do better than to return Mr. Smith by a handsome majority for it is a well known fact that the efficiency and influence of members of the legislature increases largely by experience.

LEWIS EDELMAN.

For County Purchasing Agent Lewis Edelman of the fifth ward was selected by the democrats. He is one of the most substantial and reputable business men of the city, while his long experience in public life has given him a familiarity with municipal matters that specially qualifies him for the important and delicate duties of purchasing agent. Mr. Edelman was born in Germany, July 15, 1845, and came with his parents to Rochester in 1851. He received his education in the public schools of the city and afterward learned the printer's trade. After working at the trade for a few years he opened a harness store at 179 Main St. East, where he continued until 1874, when he engaged in coal business. He has been in the coal business for 24 years and is now one of the largest dealers in the city.

THE SOULS IN PURGATORY

"It is therefore a holy and a wholesome thought to pray for the dead, that they may be loosed from their sins."—2 Mach xii 46.

The month of November is dedicated to the suffering souls in Purgatory. A truly Christian soul will, during the month think with love of the faithful departed, and pray fervently for the release of his soul from the temporal bondage. There is nothing more pleasing to God, or profitable to ourselves, than the practice of praying for the souls in Purgatory, that He may relieve their sufferings and speedily admit them to His glory, says Rev. A. Lings. We see our friends dropping from the ranks of the living, and entering that state which is so mysterious. The Church tells us that we can help them on their way to heaven by our prayers, if they have been detained in Purgatory to atone to God's justice for their transgressions.

St. Alphonsus says: "It is a duty, for Christian charity commands us to relieve our neighbors who stand in need of our assistance; but who among all our neighbors have so great need of our help as these holy prisoners, deprived for a time of the sight of God?" Many indulgences, both plenary and partial, are applicable to them, let us gain them, so that the mercy of God may be moved in their favor. Let us also remember the poor souls who have no one to pray for them. And in return these blessed souls will not neglect to obtain for us many graces from God, particularly the grace of eternal life.

This week a number of announcements of candidates for various offices in the city and county, are presented to our readers. The Catholic Journal true to its oft repeated declaration is not in politics, but candidates are allowed to tell why they are particularly fitted for the positions sought after.

TURNED FROM HER HOME.

Father Doyle, Paulist, Recites a Strange But True Story.

The following advertisement appeared in the New York daily paper: Wanted—A position as teacher of French or as a companion in a family of respectability by a young lady who has been turned from her home on account of embracing the Catholic religion, the highest reference exchanged. Address W. T. 358 Herald.

It is a general rule not to believe every advertisement that appears particularly in the Want Column of the daily press; but this one seemed so unique, that I thought it worth while to look it up. Sure enough it did not state the truth or probably one tenth of the truth. Behind those few fugitive words is a history of petty persecution. A soul full of trouble, years of affliction from the dearest ones on earth and well nigh a broken heart. She was a young lady of twenty-three years, strikingly handsome. Her father is a lawyer of distinction.

When she was young she was sent to a convent to be educated. Her father knew that there was no place where his daughter would grow up in an atmosphere of virtue and where her character would be so well developed as under the training of the devoted teachers she would have in a convent. He however placed the most solemn injunction on the Sisters when he placed his daughter with them that they should not in any way influence the young lady in her religion. He need not have been so explicit and exacting in his instructions for the sisters made it a rule anyhow not to interfere in any overt way with anyone's conscience. The young lady remained some years in the convent and after graduation went to her father's home. She did not forget the quiet, peaceful, edifying religious atmosphere of the convent. It was a picture of an earthly paradise in the young woman's mind. As she entered society the contrasts were continually forcing themselves on her soul, and an eager longing for the peace and virtue of a Catholic life with the sacraments and Holy Communion was awakened in her soul. She could not resist it.

When she informed her parents of her purpose of becoming a Catholic the storm burst on her. In deference to their wishes she postponed her reception into the Church, but her determination to become a Catholic was unalterable. As the days went by the persecutions began to continue in a thousand and one petty persecutions, dark looks, denunciations of things Catholic, those secret heart thrusts from the one she loved best. All this made her life almost unbearable in her own home. Finally, she became a Catholic. Then in solemn conclave the alternative was given to her to leave the house and be disinherited and disowned forever or to repudiate the Catholic church. In her own conscience there was no choice. She went out of her father's house to face the world with only a few dollars in her pocket and no friends to turn to in a great, heartless city. She accepted a small room in a boarding house and set herself with courage born of her reliance on God and her conscience to earn a living.

The advertisement in the paper was almost the last resort. She had only a few dollars left. All this happened in New York in this age of enlightenment and our boasted atmosphere of civil and religious liberty, and in a devout Protestant family who still believe in the right of private judgment. It is only another instance of a deep rooted antagonism to the Catholic church, and another evidence of the fact that the movement has for its object the explanation of the truths of the Catholic church is necessary in all parts of the country. If this can happen in the city of New York where there are so many intelligent Catholics of social position what might not happen elsewhere. But if the doctrines of the Catholic church are presented in so attractive a way that their reasonableness is evident there will be less bigotry and antagonism such as this young lady has suffered from will be a thing of the past.

The following letter has this moment been received in the mail.

My dear Father Doyle: In loving gratitude to Almighty God for the great gift of our faith and for the opportunity of practicing it in all places where I have been in my world wide travels, I enclose my check for five hundred dollars for the Catholic Missionary Union. You will kindly credit this to a "Chicago Gentleman" and leave my name out.
