

All Millinery Reduced In Price

General reductions have been made in millinery prices. Trimmed millinery, untrimmed hats, flowers, foilage, ornaments--all have forgotten former selling figures. The fact that this was a gem from some Paris shop hasn't saved it from the half price class or perhaps less. That has been one of the most popular shapes of the season, but it too must be sold at once and so there's an extra inducement made the purchaser.

In no store department is the rule so inflexible as to carrying merchandise over the season as in millinery. The reason we hardly need to explain. A hat will go out of style more quickly in our hands than yours. Millinery styles are never quite the same.

Little folks needs in the headwear line are receiving ample attention. Sunday after next is Children's Day you know.

BEAUTIFUL SUNSHADES.

Just because Old Sol's rays have been delightfully balmy of late, is no reason to suppose he will not drive you soon to the shelter of a sunshade. Better choose one now while assortment is at its best. Rochester doesn't know another such gathering of parasol beauty as this. A few brief hints: Plain white and plain black silk parasols with chiffon and veiling ruffles, $1.50 to $5. Pongee coaching--fashion's favorite, if she has any--hemstitched, tucked and piped, $1.50 to $6. Coachings in white and black and black and white effects, $2 to $6. Sunshades for little people, 10c to $1.50.

CHILDREN'S DRESSES REDUCED.

Good news for mothers of little tots from one to five years old. The Infant's department has some little lots of pretty wash dresses that are generously blue-pannelled. Just such kinds as baby needs for the hot spell. Children's gretchen dresses of pink and blue dimity, in sizes 1 to 3 years. $1.00 dresses for $1.00. $1.00 and $1.75 dresses for $1.25. Children's princess dresses of French gingham and dimities in pinks, blues and oxbloods, in sizes 2 to 5 years. Some are a bit soiled. $2.25 dresses for $1.25. $2.50 dresses for $1.50 and $1.75. $3.75 dresses for $1.99. Children's guimpe dresses of dimity and gingham in pinks and blues, in sizes 2 to 5 years. $1.25 dresses for 98c. $1.75 dresses for $1.25. $2.50 dresses for $1.75. $3.00 dresses for $2.00. $3.50 dresses for $2.50.

Five Minute Sermon

The Disciples are commissioned to Preach.

St. Matthew, Chapter XXVIII, 18 20, says, All power, etc. See here the warrant and commission of the apostles and their successors, the bishops and priests of Christ's church. He received from his father all power in heaven and in earth; and in virtue of this power, he sends them (even as his Father sent him, St. John xx, 21) to teach and disciple, not one, but all nations in all things; and that he may assist them effectually in the execution of this commission, he promises to be with them (not for three or four hundred years only) but all days, even to the consummation of the world.

Corrections.

Through a blunder of our makeup man last week, the reading matter intended to be placed under the portraits of William T. Sherman and Ulysses S. Grant was transposed.

Mr. L. Delmar mentioned in the Journal last week as having received the degree bachelor of theology at St. Bernard's Seminary, should have read L. Edelman.

BOOKS.

The Catholic Truth Society of San Francisco has published a very timely booklet on "Devotion to the Sacred Heart" for the month of June. The history, end and nature of the devotion are told by Rev. Robert Carbery, S. J. An appendix is added containing approved prayers and devotions to the Sacred Heart. The pamphlet is especially suitable for pastors who may wish to distribute such literature to their congregation. The Truth Society supplies them in quantities at the rate of $3.00 per 100 copies.

BISHOP CHATARD.

Silver Jubilee of the First Prelate Appointed by Pope Leo XIII.
The second oldest suffragan bishop of the Cincinnati province, the Right Rev. F. S. Chatard, D. D., of Indianapolis, Ind., celebrated on May 12 his silver episcopal jubilee. Archbishop Elder, Bishop Moeller and all the bishops of the province attended the celebration, and many noted churchmen from all parts of the United States were in attendance. Bishop Chatard enjoys the distinction of being the first bishop appointed by Pope Leo XIII., and his silver jubilee therefore followed closely on that of the pope.
Bishop Chatard is a native of Baltimore, where he was born Dec. 13, 1834. Hailing from a family of physicians, he, too, became a member of the medical fraternity, but in 1857 he resolved to study for the priesthood and went to Rome, where he completed his priestly studies and was ordained in 1862 at the Church of St. John Lateran by Cardinal Patrizzi. Shortly after his ordination he was made vice rector of the American college at Rome, and on the consecration of Dr. McCloskey, the rector, as bishop of Louisville, Dr. Chatard was made rector and presided over that celebrated institution for two years. In 1878 he was appointed bishop of Vincennes, Ind., and on May 12 of the same year he was consecrated in Rome in the church of the American college. On his arrival in this country he took up his episcopal residence at Indianapolis, which is now the episcopal see instead of Vincennes, where his predecessors resided. Three years ago Bishop Chatard applied to Rome for an auxiliary bishop, and since then Bishop Denis O'Donoghue shares the duties of his office. The diocese of Indianapolis numbers 190 priests, 179 churches, 100 parish schools and has a Catholic population of 104,495.

Trinity College.
Trinity college, Washington, is the only Catholic college for women in the United States, and though its portals were only opened in 1899 the attendance from all over the country has been so large that plans for a new dormitory have been made and it is to be in readiness for the opening of the fall session. Trinity is in charge of the Sisters of Notre Dame de Namur, and its professors and instructors are graduates of the best American and European universities, while the requirements for entrance are more severe than Wellesley, Smith or Vassar exact. Many scholarships have been founded by private citizens and the Catholic women of the country have taken such an interest in the success of the institution that scholarships have been founded by the women of Chicago, St. Louis, Boston, Albany and Providence, and now a number of the energetic Catholic women of Brooklyn have organized for the purpose of founding a scholarship in perpetuity for Brooklyn students exclusively.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Holidays of Obligation.
On which every Catholic who has come to the age of reason is obliged to hear mass and to rest from servile work unless hindered by sickness or other sufficient cause.
First.—All Sundays in the year.
Second.—The circumcision of our Lord, or New Year's day, Jan. 1.
Third.—The ascension of our Lord, May 21.
Fourth.—The assumption of the Blessed Virgin, Aug. 15.
Fifth.—All Saints, Nov. 1.
Sixth.—The immaculate conception of the Blessed Virgin, Dec. 8.
Seventh.—The nativity of our Lord, Dec. 25.

Wrongs of the Innocent.
The worst of having inflicted a wrong upon the innocent is that you can never by any means retrieve it. You can repent, and it is probable that your very repentance insures your forgiveness at a higher tribunal than that of earth's judgment, but the results of wrong cannot be wiped out or done away with in this life; they continue to exist, and alas! often multiply. Even the harsh and unjust word cannot be recalled, and however much we may regret having uttered it somehow it is never forgotten.

Today.
Which of us can sit down at the close of a day and say, "Today I have done all that was in my power to do for humanity and righteousness?" Ah, no! We look for larger things and forget that which is close at hand. To take life "as God gives it, not as we want it" and then make the best of it is the hard lesson that life puts before the human soul to learn.

Grains of Gold.
The time comes when one feels the need of the slumber of death, as at the end of a toilsome day one feels the need of another sleep.—Abbe Roux.
God has placed men together in one society, in which they ought to love and help each other like the children of the same family who have a common father.—Fenelon.
Why so busy with thyself? Leave Providence to act, whose eyes are ever upon thee in the greatest danger and who will always save thee.—"Life of St. Catherine of Siena."
The love of truth for its own sake is the love of God. Be not afraid to contemplate with unflinching eye aught that is. Truth is absolute; lies are accidental.—Bishop Spalding.
There is a frankness which is brutal, and I detest it; a frankness which is indiscreet, and I fear it; a foolish frankness, and I pity it. There is also a frankness which is opportune, delicate and good. Honor to it!—Abbe Roux.
