AUBURN

It was with deep regret and sincere sympathy that the people of this parish and city received the sad news of the death of James Slater, which occurred at the home of his mother in Orchard St., Saturday morning, Aug. 8th, after a short illness of two days. His quiet, genial disposition and his pleasant manner had endeared to him a countless chain of admirers and though his gentle personality no longer moves amongst us his good name will live forever to justify the sincere respect and esteem of all who knew him. His funeral was one of the largest seen in this city in many years and was held from St. Mary's church at 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday, Aug. 11th. A solemn requiem mass was sung by the Rev. Father Mulhern, Rev. Cornelius Silke of Auburn and James F. Winters of Rochester acting as deacon and sub-deacon, while Rev. J. B. Moran acted as master of ceremonies. The floral offerings of his friends and sympathizers may afford a slight sign of the respect in which he was held. They consisted of over 200 different designs and though silent in their expression of sympathy they depicted the gentle character of whose death they came to mourn. Besides his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Slater, he is survived by three brothers and four sisters to whom we offer our deep sympathy in their time of trial.

Elaborate preparations are being made to celebrate the patron feast of this church which occurs on Saturday, Aug. 15. Though Saturday is a holy day of obligation the feast will be formally celebrated on Sunday, Aug. 16th. A solemn mass will be sung by the pastor and the sermon on this 87th birthday of this church will be preached by Rev. Wm. P. Ryan of the Cathedral parish, Rochester. The musical program under the supervision of Mrs. Stephen J. Murphy will not be delinquent in adding to the festivities. On Monday and Tuesday evenings a literary and musical entertainment will be held in Lyceum park in the rear of the church. A more full account of the celebration will be printed in the next issue of the Journal.

FOR THE CHILDREN

A Number of Very Remarkable Sights and Curious Objects.

The equestrian element has been made prominent in the programme of the Barnum & Bailey Show, as sixteen champions appear. Having determined to restore many circus numbers, Manager Bailey secured the best leapers and tumblers—men and women who can do doubles and triples and twist and corkscrews, and backward flings with pirouettes, and inaugurated the finest contests in these specialties that have been seen in the ring. The aerial department was organized on the same scale. The show itself is the best Mr. Bailey ever put out, and comprises the menageries the animal circuit, the entertainment in the menagerie with lots of versatile people, and, by the way, a great attraction—the hippodrome and many other features. There are also nearly one hundred trained horses which appear in a majestic performance in three rings at one time, while three herds of elephants perform in three rings at another period. Cages of wild beasts, with a myriad curious and rare animals never seen before in captivity, and the celebrated collection of living freaks and human curiosities. The new street parade which will take place Saturday morning only at 9 o'clock contains among its novel features a forty-horse team and a vast number of allegorical floats with tableaux vivants. At the Driving Park today, two performances.

PUZZLES

Key to last week's puzzles:

No. 1—Field glass is at right side of girl who is in lower left hand corner of picture, its eyepiece touching her sleeve. Head of guide is directly beneath that of same girl when picture is held inverted, his hat touching hers.

No. 2—First face is at back of girl, outlined by her hair, its chin at her shoulder. Turn right side of picture down. Second face is in front of girl's head, outlined by her hat and front hair, its chin at her eye, her cheek outlining the nose, which touches chin of second face.

No. 3—Head of dog is in angle of man's arm, its nose at his hand. First mouse is in slipper he holds. Invert picture. Second mouse is at girl's hand, outlined by her sleeve and fold of her dress.

No. 4—Fish is outlined by brim of woman's hat. The shell is at nose of fish, outlined by back of woman's hat and her hair. The crab is formed by trimming of her waist, just below her throat.

SIXTH WEEK AT CLIFF HAVEN

The sixth week at Cliff Haven was an eventful period on account of the presence of two prelates of high rank the Most Rev. Archbishop Falconio, papal delegate to the United States and the Rt. Rev. Bishop Montes D'Oca of the diocese of San Luis Potosi, Mexico. They arrived on last Saturday evening and were accompanied by the President of the school, Rev. M. J. Lavelle. On their arrival they were greeted by several hundred people who had gathered shortly before train time at the Cliff Haven station.

At the last meeting of Branch 139, C. M. B. A. the following resolutions were adopted:

Whereas, it has pleased our Heavenly Father in His infinite wisdom to remove from our midst our esteemed brother and associate, Michael Hefferman, thereby permitting our branch to suffer a deplorable loss, while we bow in humble submission to His holy will, be it

Resolved, that we sincerely condole with the bereaved relatives in their severe affliction, and trust that they will be enabled with Christian resignation to bear their loss which an all-wise Providence has inflicted upon them.

Resolved, that as a mark of respect to the memory of our deceased brother, that our charter be draped for a period of thirty days and that these resolutions be inscribed in the minutes of our meeting and a copy thereof be sent to his relatives and published in the Catholic Journal.

Wm. L. Peasley and A. J. Young, committee.

BAKER THEATRE

The sensation of the year, a drama of intense human interest based upon the incidents of the great Buffalo mystery entitled "Over the Quarry Brink." This play will have additional interest to people of Rochester as many scenes and incidents will vividly recall streets and places well known to residents of this city. Don't fail to see the thrilling automobile wreck, the most startling effect ever produced on any stage. Matinees Monday, Tuesday, Thursday, Saturday.

The Bathroom

Although the bathroom and its equipments are most important factors in preserving the family health, the perfection of modern plumbing and bathroom appointments reduces the problem of this department of hygiene to a minimum. The main concern of the modern home builder is the introduction of conveniences and comforts into this room. The luxuries provided for the modern bathroom are many and are features even in homes of moderate cost. Useful advice in regard to fitting up a bathroom is given in a paper in The Delineator for September, and illustrations of model bathrooms and toilet accessories add to its suggestiveness.

THE HOME.

Wicker chairs soon become soiled, and they can be cleaned a few times with strong salt water, using a brush to scrub them. When they cannot be cleaned any longer in this way, they can be stained to look nicely, or painted any color with enamel paint.

The girl who is clever with her needle is fortunate in these days when so many stylish fripperies in neckwear are worn. Trifles that cost dollars may be fashioned at home in this way. Smart scarfs for the neck are made of silk and finished at the bottom with many rows of stitching.

To cloud a glass for the sake of protection purposes, as in a bathroom, and yet to preserve the light a man works in glass says that it is done with a solution of epsom salts and vinegar applied with a brush. This should give a frosted look that becomes very durable if it is done over at once with lemon or white varnish.

The French manner of cooking young carrots is delicious. Boil them until tender, then cut them into halves lengthwise. Melt some butter in a hot spider. When the butter bubbles lay in the carrots and sprinkle them with some sugar, salt and pepper and finely chopped parsley. Fry them until the ridges become crisp and browned.

When frying fish the test to know when the lard or drippings is hot enough is to dip in the tail of one fish. If it becomes crisp very quickly the lard is in the proper state for frying. Or it may be determined with a piece of stale bread which will become brown directly, if the lard is in order. Put in plenty of lard so that the fish will not burn. Cook them well on one side, turn them and fry on the other side.

Plain Layer Cake—One-half cup of butter, two cups of sugar, four eggs, one cup of milk, three cups of flour and one teaspoonful baking powder. Flavor to taste. Cream half the butter with the sugar, then mix with the yolks of the eggs, then mix together, then add milk and flour, stirred four times. Put the baking powder in the last sifting, lastly the whites of the eggs beaten light. This can be used for chocolate, coconut, jelly, cream or layer cakes.

There is no use in having colored table cloths and napkins faded and dingy after washing them a few times, and they will not be if the washing is done properly. Use tepid water, dissolve a little borax in it, and enough pure soap to get them clean. Very little rubbing is needed when borax is used for it softens the water and makes the washing easy. Borax should always be used in the water in which colored clothes are washed, for it does not injure the most delicate colors. Rinse well and hang them in the shade to dry.
