In Memoriam.

Written for The Journal.
In memory of Jeanie McCaffrey, a member of the Children of Mary Sodality of the Immaculate Conception church, who died Nov. 1st, 1904.

The angel of death has entered a happy home and taken an affectionate daughter and loving sister. No longer shall her gentle voice be heard nor her kindly presence felt for the silent messenger has called her to a brighter, happier home above.

We know a void has been left in sorrowing hearts that never can be filled but what a solace there is for aching hearts to know that for her, earth's requiem has been changed to a triumphant song of praise, and that after her short life here she has entered upon that eternal reign of endless bliss for "be faithful unto death and I will give thee the crown of life."

You angel sister has gone where dwells eternal peace and there she will await you, no you would not call her back from realms of light. But may our heavenly Father, Who doeth all things well, comfort you in this trying hour, for in the crucible of suffering is tried the faithful soul.

A strain of music sublime,
Came upon the wings of time;
Out, through the pearly gate
Upon her soul; and it could not wait.

It came from that heavenly band,
Who before God's great throne stand;
And unceasingly their glad hearts raise
In glorious and immortal songs of praise.

Ever the dying day had given place,
She with them beheld God's face,
And in that Divine Presence will rest,
Bearing the palm of victory with the best.

O, Eternal day that knows no morrow,
For banished forever is all sorrow,
Then sorrowing hearts rejoice,
For she is now the Bridegroom's choice.
