During Dr O'Dea's vice-presidency of the college he won the affection of the hundreds of students who passed under his care. It was significant of the prominent position which the National language holds within aynooth that the address to Dr. O'Dea was in Irish. More testimony to the solicitude with which Dr. O'Dea discharged the duties of the vice-presidency and to his labors on behalf of the college; and it also made appreciative reference to the services which he has already rendered to the National interests of Ireland since his elevation to the See of Clonfert. The Very Rev. Dr Mahaffy, the newly-elected president of the college, expressed the pleasure which it afforded him to have any part in the presentation of an address to the Most Rev. Dr. O Dea. The address was the spontaneous expression of the students' good will, and was an unique compliment. Rev. Father O'Kelly then read addresses. The Bishop made a suitacknowledgement.

The weight of the corn burst the wall, overwhelming the unfortunate occupants of the carpenter's shop.

LONGFORD—The people of Columbkille have been shocked into great consternation by the mysterious disappearance of Owen Mulligan, of Sonna, who left his home accompanied by his wife and went behind a fence near the banks of Lough Gowna. Cardinal Logue presided at his parish of Donaghmore on Oct. 18, when he presided at the annual meeting in aid of the Christian Brothers. The Very Rev. Father Conmee S. J. On Tuesday he presided at the solemn office and high mass for the bishops at the opening of the archdiocese celebrated in St Patrick's. Subsequently he opened the new schools of St Vincent built as an addition to the Convent of Mercy. In the course of his address he drew attention to the advantages which the young girls of the town and district will enjoy in having the facilities for acquiring a high-class education, while still remaining under the influence of their homes. He went on "Thank God, in this country we have no Mr Carnegie who would deprive the people of the advantages they have under the laws and religious of acquiring a secular literary and religious education. These are followers of Comtes even in this country. We had an example of it lately, and in a place where you would least expect it. The only university in Ireland in which Catholics can receive degrees held a convocation to its graduates a few days ago, and it was simply a saturnalia of anti-Catholic bigotry."

MEATH—The first statutory meeting of the Navan Butter Factory, Ltd., was held Oct 19, on the premises at Athumney, Mr James McCann, M. P., occupying the chair. There was a large attendance of shareholders, and the greatest local interest was manifested in the proceedings. Those competent to give an opinion agreed that there is a great future before the company. The immediate proximity of the Boyne Canal, which will make the transit of the produce of the factory inexpensive, is regarded as the great factor in the promotion of the success of this enterprise. The chair having been taken by Mr McCann, Mr. McMenamin, the secretary, read the financial report, which was as follows: The total number of shares allotted is 5,000; the total amount of cash received by the company in respect of the shares issued wholly for cash is £4157 15s. QUEENS.—A meeting of the Maryborough Teachers' Association was held on Saturday, Oct. 17, in Maryborough, N. S. The following were present: T. F. Bowman, W. Keys, C. Keegan, A. Kane, J. J. Curran, J. P. O'Sullivan, J. Lawlor and P. J. Byron, also Miss Whelan and Miss Ivory. Though the number present might be considered fair, yet there appears to be disinterestedness and apathy abroad when members who were in town at the science lectures could not find it convenient to attend. After the minutes of last meeting had been confirmed, the circulars received from the central secretary were read and discussed. Some of the suggestions for the changes required in the revised programme, now under revision to make it suitable to the needs of the country, were approved of, others were regarded with disfavor. Increments had next turn. The present system of awarding them was condemned as being unsatisfactory. Those present were of opinion that all teachers who have not been censured should be awarded annual instead of triennial increments.

WESTMEATH.—A largely attended meeting of the tenantry of the Mill castle estate, of which Mrs. O'Reilly is the landlord, was held on Oct. 18, in St. Michael's Hall, Castlepollard, to consider what action to take as regards the purchase of their holdings. Hughes, Thomas McCormack, James Fagan, James Brady, Michael Fagan, Patrick Wade, John Daly, Philip Smyth Patrick Brady, etc. On the motion of Mr B. Daly, seconed by Mr. T. Masterson the chair was taken by Very Rev Hugh Farrelly. The chairman, in stating the objects of the meeting, said he thought that their first business should be to appoint a committee, who should have the support of a solicitor in the report of the meeting of Lord Longford's tenantry at Killucan, Very Rev. Dr. Dooley made some wise remarks with which he (speaker) agreed those were that the landlord should meet in a fair spirit, and at the same time that the tenants should safeguard their interests. The chairman's suggestion was adopted and the following committee appointed to approach the landlord and deal with all preliminaries: Rev H Farrelly, Rev F Kelly, B Daly, T Masterson, John Walsh, James Kiernan and Owen Sheridan. That resolution was forwarded to Sir George F. Brooke, the landlord, who is an extensive wine merchant in Dublin and a governor of the Bank of Ireland. He replied as follows: "Hammerton, Castleknock, County Dublin, Oct. 8, 1903. Sir Any of my tenants who wish to talk about purchase had better communicate with Major Hamilton, Castlogue, County Kilkenny. Absence from home has prevented an earlier reply. Yours faithfully, Geo. F. Brooke." "Mr. D. M Dunne."
