KINGS FERRY.

The people of Kings Ferry and vicinity were deeply grieved over the sad and sudden death of Genevieve, aged eight years the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Murray, which occurred on Saturday evening, April 9, 1904. Genevieve was tired and weary. She was with her mother and with pain. Her mother and the doctor, but she will not need them again. Into sweet rest she has entered. No more to suffer or weep. After a short painful illness, Genevieve has fallen asleep.

Hills that she loved now enfold her. And in the bosom she lies. Heeds not the song of the robin, Beauty of blossom or skies. O'er her head the green grass Soon so lovingly will creep. But mid the daisies and clover, Genevieve has fallen asleep.

Rest the little feet now forever. Dear little hands are so still. But less the heart that no longer, No more can quicken or thrill. No more will glide over her gently. Fading the shadow land deep. Drive back thy tears would you wake her. Genevieve has fallen asleep.

Oh beautiful rest of the weary. Be a peaceful sleep for the true. Lying so peacefully ever. Under the sunlight and dew. Flows through our heart strings a quiver. Like breath of a whisper sweet. He giveth to His beloved. And Genevieve has fallen asleep.
