KINGS FERRY.
The people of Kings Ferry and vicinity were deeply grieved over the sad and sudden death of Genevieve, aged eight years, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Murray, which occurred on Saturday evening, April 9, 1904. Genevieve was tired and weary. Her mother was with her in bed. Her father was with her, too. She will not need them again. No more to suffer or weep. After a short painful illness, Genevieve has fallen asleep. Hills that she loved now enfold her. And in the bosom she lies. Beautiful as the song of the robin, Beautiful as blossom or skies. O'er her head the green grass Soon so lovingly will creep. But mid the daisies and clover, Genevieve has fallen asleep. Rest the little feet now forever, Dear little hands are so still. Smile as the heart that no longer, Young we can quicken or thrill. No more will glide o'er her gently. Fading the shadow land deep. Drive back thy tears would you wake her, Genevieve has fallen asleep. Oh beautiful rest of the weary, Be a beautiful sleep for the true. Lying so peacefully ever. Under the sunlight and dew. Flows through our heart strings a quiver. Lake breath of a whisper sweet. He greeth to His beloved. And Genevieve has fallen asleep. GENESEO
