IMMACULATE CONCEPTION.

Last Monday night, the commencement exercises of our school were held in the school hall. The chief feature of the entertainment was a drama entitled "The Witch of Bramble Hollow." The leading parts were played by Miss Elsie Hoener, Miss Florence Irwin, and little Ethel O'Kane. They, together with the many others who took minor parts, did remarkably well. After the entertainment, Rev. Father Eckl presented the graduating class of 1904. Diplomas were then presented by our reverend pastor, Father O'Neill, to 70 boys and girls, who had well earned them. The success of the class of 1904 has been most gratifying. The class average was 95 per cent. Considering that the class numbered 70, and that no member was allowed to take any examination more than once, this was remarkable. Furthermore, out of this class of 70 members, 42 have been awarded purple seal certificates by the State board at Albany, and more than twenty have obtained an average of 95 or above in all their studies. Truly, the class of '04 deserves our congratulations. After the presentation of the diplomas, Rev. Father Eckl announced the winners of the gold medals. The first scholarship medal donated by Rev. A. M. O'Neill was awarded to Edward O'Brien, who has obtained the splendid average of 99 7-8. The second gold medal was equally merited by Joseph Foley and Marguerite King, each of whom obtained 99 5-8. One of these medals is donated this year by the Immaculate Alumni; the other by Reverend Father Byrne. The valedictory was read by Clarence O'Donnell, who did very well.

Another honor has this year been merited by a member of the Immaculate class, namely, the Nazareth scholarship. Competition for this is open to all the girls in the graduating classes of the diocese and is given to the one who obtains the best results in special examination held at Nazareth academy for this purpose. Miss Irene Tiesel was the successful candidate.

On Tuesday evening the members of the Young Ladies' Sodality held a very enjoyable social in their society rooms. There were over one hundred were present. A short musical programme was given first—each number of which was well rendered. Following this, refreshments were served. The tables were prettily decorated with flowers and candelabras. After all had satisfied their desires, Rev. Fr. Eckl, acting as toastmaster, introduced the following speakers: Miss Rosella Dwyer, who spoke on "Our Sodality"; Miss Gertrude Donnelly, "Our Mother"; Miss Mabel Hoffman, "Our Future"; Miss Sadie Coyne, "Woman in the World." Miss Ella Curran heartily welcomed the girls of the class of '04 into our ranks. Rev. Father Eckl's remarks between the toasts were most entertaining. He was enthusiastic in predicting great things for the future of the Society. Voicing the desire of all present, he suggested that Rev. Father Byrne's name be added to the list of speakers. Always eloquent and impressive, Father Byrne more than did justice to himself, and his short address was followed by continued applause.

The graduates held their class picnic at Manitou on Wednesday. It does not need to be stated that the boys and girls of '04 had a good time. How could they help it?

Confessions were heard on Thursday, in preparation for the first Friday. The usual first Friday devotions were held.

The funeral of Miss Libbie Hall was held from the church Wednesday morning at 9 A. M.

At a solemn nuptial mass on Thursday morning, Rev. Geo. Eckl united in marriage Mr. Charles Raymond and Miss Grace O'Donnell.

The Rosary Society will meet tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock.

CATHEDRAL

The audience that filled Cathedral Hall was present Tuesday night at the commencement exercises of the Cathedral school. A feature of special interest was the graduation of a class in the business course, the first that the school has ever sent out.

The course includes academic English, bookkeeping, stenography, typewriting, commercial law and other branches. Forty-eight graduates in the regular course made up the class of 1904. A number were also graduated from the Grammar department. The diplomas were all awarded by Bishop McQuaid.

The academic graduates are: Harold Cox, Lewis Smith, Dominic Luoca, Louis Shay, Francis Slattery, Harold Horsey, John Keane, Thomas J. Lawless, Alfred McMahon, Charles Graham, Cornelius Hoodon, Cyril J. Curran, Gertrude Woodcock, Adelaide Carroll, Elizabeth Cover, Regina Powers, Anna Casey, Elizabeth Donlin, Margaret Quinlivan, Florence McKintee, John Fitzgerald, Aloysius Lucas, Leo Mahoney, Walter Fogarty, Margaret Dwyer, Cecelia Dougherty, Norman Hogan, Gertrude Barry, Margaret Flynn, Florence Langham, Katherine Walsh, Camillus Moriarty, Louis Dougherty, Francis Dougherty, William McCarthy, Curtis Langham, Isabella Noxon, Alice Riley, Mary Curran, Anna Slattery, Florence Stoltz, Marie Gleason, Grace Whaley, Marie Kirk, Thomas Hoodon, Liam Keely, Thomas Cahane, William Shay.

The graduates in the business course are: Blanche Burke, Maude Covert, Della Kelley, Stella Lavinge, Alice McGrath, Zita Mack, Florence Fyemargaret Plant, Amelia Shanahan, Eva Topham, Barry Calkins, Joseph Gore, Stuart Lynch, Richard Whalen, Mabel Murray.

A pleasing programme was carried out during the early part of the evening. The entire wall back of the stage was concealed by the class colors, red and white. The tasteful decorations were simple.

Bishop McQuaid gave the address. He congratulated the young people who had successfully completed the business course. The course, he said, had at first had been an experiment. He spoke in the highest terms of the rector, Father Hickey.

Miss Woodcock's standing in every study was 100, that of young Luoca was 92 per cent. The A. B. Hone medal for excellence was merited by Anna Casey, Margaret Flynn and Marie Gleason and was drawn by Miss Gleason. The Mrs. Walter Duffy gold medal for christian doctrine was drawn by Stephen Fitzgerald.

The William C. Barry gold medal for Bible history was drawn by Alice Kehoe.

The Mrs. William C. Barry gold medal for catechism was drawn by Mable McCarthy.

The memorial John Nugent gold medal donated by J. C. Nugent for punctuality and attendance at all exercises during the year, was drawn by Isabelle Noxon.

ST. MARY'S.

The closing exercises of our school took place Monday evening at the Armory.

The operetta "Lalla" was presented by the pupils, assisted by Miss Dalton as Lalla and Miss Davin as Fairy Queen. The chorus showed the careful training the children had received, and great credit is due the sisters for the very fine rendition.

A pantomime "Coming Thro' the Rye" by the very little people was one of the very best numbers on the program.

The last meeting of the "Twentieth Century club" with the debate "How to Educate Mothers" was all that club rules could call for.

At the close of the exercises Father Rawlinson read the names of the pupils receiving the gold medals and the graduating class standings and Father Gleason presented the gold medals and diplomas. He made a short address to the graduates.

The scholarship medals given by Father Gleason were won by Lillian Phalon and Francis Williams.

The Christian Doctrine medal given by Father Rawlinson was won by Arthur Purtell.

The Sister M. Catherine medal for general excellence given by Miss Elizabeth Daly was awarded to Agnes Dixon and equally merited by 11 other pupils.

The pupils receiving prizes for the highest average in their grades were: Irene Hyde, eighth; James Dolan, seventh; Loretta Covert and Chas. Dea, sixth; George Beaudot, Nellie Fitzsimons, Margaret Rogers, fifth; Mary Neff, Edward Weigand, fourth; Francis Joyce, Edward Perdue, third; Leslie Miller, Thelma Reumel, second; Alice Spellane, first.

The names of the graduates are Raymond Brown, Lawrence Barrett, Daniel Burke, Frances Childs, Maxwell Coakley, William Doolin, Jas. Duffy, Leo Fleming, George Grant, Roy Galligan, William Heindl, Arthur O'Brien, Thos. Martin, Jos. Phalen, Arthur Purtell, Francis Robb, Walter Zimmer, Elizabeth Connor, Elizabeth Coleman, Agnes Dixon, Marie Fortistal, Marcella Grogan, Catherine Gallagher, Anna Holahan, Corinne Hibbs, Mary Hobing, Gertrude Heberling, Elizabeth Kelley, Grace Kester, Frances McGaugh, Mabel McCourt, Anna McDonald, Anna McNeil, Anna O'Brien, Lillian Phalon, Ada Pardee, and Bertha Schumehl.

Miss Schooley will leave for Denver next week to visit her brother and sister.

The confraternity of Mary held their first picnic at Glen Haven Tuesday. Supper was served to 55 members.

Miss Boehme for the society presented Father Eidelman, who organized the society, a purse of $50. Toasts were responded to by Rev. Father Gleason, Father Winters, Father Rawlinson, and Father Eidelman.

On Wednesday the members of the graduating class held a picnic at Sea Breeze.

The funeral of Mrs. Jane Morrison took place from this church, 9 o'clock Wednesday morning.
