

SUMMER RESORTS.

Sea Breeze Park Hotel

• PAVILION THEATRE •
FREE FIRST-CLASS VAUDEVILLE AT ALL TIMES

FRANK KOCH, PROPRIETOR.

PARMELE'S IMPROVED MERRY GO ROUND

at Mrs. Greibel's, Glen Haven.

Runs Rain or Shine.

Six tickets 25 cents

5 cents everybody.

Special rates to picnic parties.

O. G. PARMELE, MGR.

When at Sea Breeze

Go to

The Large Merry-Go-Round At the Grove

Runs Rain or Shine. 5 cents everybody. Six tickets 25 cents.

Special rates to picnic parties.

O. D. Brown, - - Prop.

Railroad Dock Hotel

Sea Breeze, Irondequoit, N. Y.

Rudolph Hilficker, - Proprietor.

Don't Forget When at Sea Breeze

To Take a Ride on the

The Finest Merry-Go-Round At Pier On Beach

ALSO AT BAY VIEW

Runs Rain or Shine. 5 cents everybody. 6 tickets 25 cents.

Special rates to picnic parties.

Frank J. Moore, - - Prop.

Birds and Worms Hotel

Point Comfort, Irondequoit Bay,

CHAS. STOFFEL, & Prop.

POINT PLEASANT HOTEL

IRONDEQUOIT BAY

Fine Picnic Grounds. Bowling Alleys. Boats, Fishing Tackle, etc.

Wm. Weible, Prop.

Schneider Island Hotel

F. MCCANN, PROP.

ON THE BEAUTIFUL IRONDEQUOIT BAY AT GLEN HAVEN

MEALS AT ALL HOURS.

Fine Ales, Wines, Liquors and Cigars.

Boats and fishing tackle for rent at all times.

Everything New and Up-to-date.

Grand View Beach Hotel, Long Pond

One of the most attractive resorts on Lake Ontario.

White fish and Chicken dinners a specialty.

Boats and fishing tackle.

Fine Picnic Grounds.

....A. KLEINHANS, Prop....

Bel Phone 2364.

SUMMER RESORTS.

Ontario Beach Park

On the New York Central

Conway's Ithaca Band

Twice Daily
Fireworks Thursday and Saturday

GUS FRANK'S Ferry Hotel and Restaurant

ONTARIO BEACH.

Best Brands of Wines, Liquors and Cigars.

Quick Meals and Lunches

Don't Miss This Place

• HOTS A SPECIALTY •

MERRY JESTS.

AS YOU MAKE IT.

To the preacher life's a sermon,
To the joker life's a jest;
To the miser life's a money,
To the loafer life's a rest.

To a lawyer life's a trial,
To the poet life's a song;
To the doctor life's a patient,
That needs treatment right along.

To the soldier life's a battle,
To the teacher life's a school;
To the "good thing" to the grafter,
It's a failure to the fool.

To the man upon the engine
Life's a long and heavy grade;
It's a gamble to the gambler,
To the merchant life's a trade.

Life's a picture to the artist,
To the rascal life's a fraud;
Life perhaps is but a burden
To the man beneath the hod.

Life is lovely to the lover,
To the player life's a play;
Life may be a load of trouble
To the man upon the dray.

Life is but a long vacation
To the man who loves his work;
Life's an everlasting effort
To shun duty to the shirk.

To the heaven-blessed romancer
Life's a story ever new;
Life is what we try to make it—
Brother, what is life to you?
Chicago Record-Herald.

Nelson Stopped Interruption.
An old friend from Minnesota came down to Washington, and Mr. Nelson told him about an experience he once had on the hustings.

"There was a man in my audience," said he, "who insisted on asking questions. I told him to wait, I would answer his question after a while. But I had no more started again with my speech than he interrupted again. This performance was repeated two or three times. Then I left the stage, walked down to his seat, grabbed him by the throat and choked him till he signalled that he had had enough. 'Sitting on the platform where I spoke was a minister of the Gospel. That fellow,' said this minister as I returned to deliver my speech without further annoyance, 'is the same scamp who has frequently interrupted me in my pulpit. I am glad you have shown me an effective way to treat him.'—Washington Post.

The Test.
Funny! how we love our friends,
And what we'd give for them;
We sigh for them,
We'd die for them.
Until—we live with them.—Life.

How Do You Make It.
Farmer Johnson has 14 sheep and farmer Thomas has a dog who likes mutton. If the dog kills five sheep, how many are left? If farmer Johnson catches him at it and makes farmer Thomas pay $6 apiece, how much money does it take? If farmer Thomas won't pay until he has had a lawsuit over it, how much is he out of pocket in the end?

Jane has a new spring hat costing $3, and her brother Frank has a puppy which didn't cost a cent. After the puppy and the hat have played together for a quarter of an hour, what is Jane's loss?

His Wheels Not Running.

Cranker—My head has been bothering me for some time. What would you advise me to do?
Doctor—Go see a machinist.

It Was All Auntie's Fault.
Aunt Prisms—I am shocked at you, Maude. You permitted young Mr. Jones to kiss you.
Maude—He only just touched me on the nose, auntie.
Aunt Prisms—It was quite out of place, dear.
Maude—He knew it was, auntie; but you came in so suddenly, you see.—Stray Stories.

Getting a Likeness.
City Editor—What's the matter?
Art Editor—Matter enough. I've got no picture of Blassawayaki, the great Russian general, who's just reached the front.
City Editor—Oh, well, borrow the janitor's wig and photograph it. These Russian generals are all whiskers.

A Sinking Business.
"Diving as a profession is not what it used to be."
"That's so; I've noticed for some time that diving was going down."—Houston (Tex.) Post.

All-Nighters.
Mrs. Handsewn—Wa'al, what did you think of New York, Silas?
Mr. Handsewn—Think of it? Wa'al if I was asked to locate the land of the Midnight son, you've heard so much about, I'd say right smack off that it was that.—Yonkers Herald.

Monomania.
See—What's the meaning of a "single" woman, dad? I've never heard of a "double" one.
Father—A single woman, my son, is one that has only a single idea in life, a single ambition, a single desire.
"And that is?"
"To get married."—Spare Moments.

Unfixed Her Face.
A widow she, with hair of red
(Oh, fiercely blows the wintry wind).
He thought she was a green young thing.
She caught him. (He was color blind.)

But when she had unfixed her face
(Oh, listen to the sleeting rain),
His eyesight was recovered quite;
You see, he saw a thing so plain.

Job Not Wanted.
Farmer Trefog—I see that Senator Sniffkins says he'd rather be right than be President.
Farmer Hoptoad—An' I s'pose he'd rather be 'most anything than be Vice-President.

Says the Young Father.
Is Sleeplessness contagious? Why, There's no disease to match it!
Whenever baby gets it I
Am always sure to catch it.

No Reason Apparent.
"I married my husband for love alone."
"Did you? I've often wondered what the cause was."—Chicago Record-Herald.

A Politician's End.
Now let this be his epitaph,
The reader's heart to touch,
He needed cash and grafted
Not wisely, but too much.

8rd Case.
Colors are like horses,
Of it is the plan,
What you think a fast one
Proves an also ran.

For Perspiring Feet.
A decoction of white oak bark is invaluable for perspiring feet. To make the decoction place one ounce of white oak bark to one and one-half pints of boiling water and simmer very slowly for two or three hours; cool, strain, and add four ounces of alcohol; then bottle for use. The most convenient mode of application is to pour out a small quantity in a saucer and apply to the feet with a velvet sponge, after giving them a warm bath.

Stained Porcelain Saucepans.
A porcelain saucepan that has become stained should be half filled with water into which a tablespoonful of powdered borax has been put. Let the water boil briskly for a while. Should the stain not come off wet a cloth, dip in borax and scour the spots.

TOPICS OF THE FARM

Essentials in Milk Production.

The first essential for the production of good milk is healthy cows. Next, the milk should be in perfect health. Germs of disease are thrown off in the breathing and coughing, and epidemics have been known to start in this way. The milk should also be pure and sweet and not contaminated by the use of tobacco.

Feeds of all kinds should be sweet and any abrupt changes in the feed avoided. A great deal of undue criticism is made as to silage feed, but I am sure that where it is made a part of a ration, with other feeds in proportion, the flavor of the milk will be benefited.

Another neglect on the part of farmers who have large water tanks for cattle to drink from is, we are often careless about cleaning them often and allow them to go so long as to get green and slimy and of a very strong odor.

It is one of the most difficult things in dairy management to secure clean conditions in a cow stable. About ninety-nine out of every one hundred are not what is called sweet and clean and the offensive odors contaminate the breath, the blood, and the tissue of the animals and consequently a first-class article of milk cannot be produced. The barn should be dusted often and white-washed at least once a year, not only to give them a good appearance and make the stable lighter, but to purify them and kill any germs of disease that may have collected on walls or ceilings. White-wash is one of the cheapest disinfectants known and should be a part of the routine practice each year, and by use of a small fruit spray pump the work can be accomplished much quicker and far more effectively than when applied with a brush, as it can be driven into every crack and corner.

Nothing has a greater influence on milk and its production than cleanliness and for this reason the milkers' hands and clothes should be kept clean and void of any disagreeable odor. Also the cows must be kept clean and not permitted to lie in the filth. For this reason some of the patent stalls are almost absolutely necessary for the adjusting of the stalls accurately.

Separator Milk for Calves.
The cream separator, which secures the warm sweet milk for the calves as well as pigs, makes them doubly valuable. In an address on raising calves, Professor Haeseker, of the Minnesota Agricultural college, said that he had been raising calves for twenty years, and that in his experience just as good calves can be raised on separator milk as on whole milk. He allows the calf to suck its mother only once. Nor the first week he feeds whole milk fresh from the cow. The next week he feeds half whole milk and half skim milk. After this he feeds separator milk only, adding a teaspoonful of ground flaxseed morning and evening, and gradually increasing this to a tablespoonful. He says the important points are strict regularity in time of feeding, quantity and temperature of milk. Most farmers make a mistake in feeding too much milk. Three to five pints, according to the size of the calf, twice a day, is abundant.

Regarding the Poultry House.
When land used for coops last season is to be used again this year it should have a good sprinkling of air-slaked lime. The land should have a gentle southern or eastern slope and small drain ditches should be dug around the upper side, so that the ground under the coops will not be covered with water every time it rains.

Green Feed for Laying Hens.
Green feeds for laying hens which add to the palatability of the ration, also furnish a large amount of nutrition, and undoubtedly help to keep hens in "condition."

The New York Station recommends for winter feeding, clover, alfalfa and immature grasses, and states that these contain more of needed lime than do grains. The liberal feeding of dried young clover and grasses will generally insure deep orange colored yolks, which are preferred by many buyers to pale yellow ones.

Care of the Turkey.
Turkeys usually prefer to roost outside at all times and will perch on the highest places accessible even in mid-winter. This peculiarity applies especially to bronze turkeys. The White Hollands are more domestic in their nature and may be induced to roost in the poultry house with the chickens. The house for turkeys of whatever breed must be well ventilated. By nature they are out-door creatures and when induced to occupy a house should be looked after carefully to see that they are always in the roosting place at night.

Believes There is Skating Yet.
"The skating season may be over," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "but the man who steps on a piece of soap on the beach (it doesn't seem to follow)."—

TOPICS OF THE FARM

Essentials in Milk Production.
The first essential for the production of good milk is healthy cows. Next, the milk should be in perfect health. Germs of disease are thrown off in the breathing and coughing, and epidemics have been known to start in this way. The milk should also be pure and sweet and not contaminated by the use of tobacco.

Feeds of all kinds should be sweet and any abrupt changes in the feed avoided. A great deal of undue criticism is made as to silage feed, but I am sure that where it is made a part of a ration, with other feeds in proportion, the flavor of the milk will be benefited.

Another neglect on the part of farmers who have large water tanks for cattle to drink from is, we are often careless about cleaning them often and allow them to go so long as to get green and slimy and of a very strong odor.

It is one of the most difficult things in dairy management to secure clean conditions in a cow stable. About ninety-nine out of every one hundred are not what is called sweet and clean and the offensive odors contaminate the breath, the blood, and the tissue of the animals and consequently a first-class article of milk cannot be produced. The barn should be dusted often and white-washed at least once a year, not only to give them a good appearance and make the stable lighter, but to purify them and kill any germs of disease that may have collected on walls or ceilings. White-wash is one of the cheapest disinfectants known and should be a part of the routine practice each year, and by use of a small fruit spray pump the work can be accomplished much quicker and far more effectively than when applied with a brush, as it can be driven into every crack and corner.

Nothing has a greater influence on milk and its production than cleanliness and for this reason the milkers' hands and clothes should be kept clean and void of any disagreeable odor. Also the cows must be kept clean and not permitted to lie in the filth. For this reason some of the patent stalls are almost absolutely necessary for the adjusting of the stalls accurately.

Separator Milk for Calves.
The cream separator, which secures the warm sweet milk for the calves as well as pigs, makes them doubly valuable. In an address on raising calves, Professor Haeseker, of the Minnesota Agricultural college, said that he had been raising calves for twenty years, and that in his experience just as good calves can be raised on separator milk as on whole milk. He allows the calf to suck its mother only once. Nor the first week he feeds whole milk fresh from the cow. The next week he feeds half whole milk and half skim milk. After this he feeds separator milk only, adding a teaspoonful of ground flaxseed morning and evening, and gradually increasing this to a tablespoonful. He says the important points are strict regularity in time of feeding, quantity and temperature of milk. Most farmers make a mistake in feeding too much milk. Three to five pints, according to the size of the calf, twice a day, is abundant.

Green Feed for Laying Hens.
Green feeds for laying hens which add to the palatability of the ration, also furnish a large amount of nutrition, and undoubtedly help to keep hens in "condition."

The New York Station recommends for winter feeding, clover, alfalfa and immature grasses, and states that these contain more of needed lime than do grains. The liberal feeding of dried young clover and grasses will generally insure deep orange colored yolks, which are preferred by many buyers to pale yellow ones.

Care of the Turkey.
Turkeys usually prefer to roost outside at all times and will perch on the highest places accessible even in mid-winter. This peculiarity applies especially to bronze turkeys. The White Hollands are more domestic in their nature and may be induced to roost in the poultry house with the chickens. The house for turkeys of whatever breed must be well ventilated. By nature they are out-door creatures and when induced to occupy a house should be looked after carefully to see that they are always in the roosting place at night.

Believes There is Skating Yet.
"The skating season may be over," remarked the Observer of Events and Things, "but the man who steps on a piece of soap on the beach (it doesn't seem to follow)."—

COOL AND CATCHY.
The bookmaker doesn't go to bed with those who know his line of book.

There are perspiring medals on side of sweatshops this weather.

The bookmaker doesn't go to bed with those who know his line of book.

The bookmaker doesn't go to bed with those who know his line of book.