LEITRIM.—A meeting of the tenants of Lord Massy's estate Glenfare portion, was held lately at the Black Rock creamery, Mountmahilton, for the purpose of considering the terms of sale offered to them by the agent, J. B. Barrington, Limerick. The Rev. Father Connolly, Mountmahilton, presided. The landlord's terms are: (1) First judicial term tenants, twenty-one and a half years' purchase, (2) second term tenants, twenty-four and a half years' purchase, (3) boundbailiff tenants, twenty-three years' purchase, (4) sporting rights reserved to the landlord, (5) turbary to be provided for tenants, (6) the tenants grazing rights on mountains preserved, (7) tenants owing a year's rent at November to pay a half half year and those further in arrears to add one year's rent to the purchase money. The Rev. Father Connolly explained the tenants' position in the matter, pointed out the advantages of purchasing without delay and strongly urged the tenants to accept the landlord's terms. The estate is one of the largest in the country. The tenants on the Kinlough and Glenade portions of the estate have already purchased.

MAYO.—The body of Walter Jennings, two or three years of Derrylea, near Ballyhaunis, was found in the Agloragh river Oct. 18.

Sincere regret is felt in Gannhest at the departure of Rev. John Geraghty, appointed to the pastoral charge of the parish at Moygownagh vacated by the lamented death of the Rev. Michael Smyth. When taking leave of the people many of the parishioners were visibly affected.

Sir Antony McDonnell, undersecretary for Ireland who visited the congested district boards estates in Mayo, was on Oct. 16 presented with an address by the urban council of Castlebar. He was the guest of Canon Lyons, pastor. The address referred with gratitude to his services in connection with the land bill and expressed the hope that he would accelerate the working of the congested districts board in the west. It also urged the necessity of immediate legislation on behalf of the town tenants and laborers. Sir Anthony made a very suitable reply.

ROSCOMMON.—At the Castlerea quarter sessions recently the following tenants were decreed for rent on the O'Grady estate: P. Freeman and Dominick Freeman, representatives of Catherine Freeman of Currasellagh; John McGann, representative of Brian O'Donnelly, Currasellagh; P. Cafferky, Currasellagh; Martin Lafferty, Currasellagh; Owen Morrisroe, Currasellagh; B. Roddy and G. Regan, Currasellagh; Rose Regan, Currasellagh; Andrew Kearney, Currasellagh, representative of P. Kearney; Michael Regan, Currasellagh. On the De Freyne estate civil bill decrees were obtained against William Rockford, Buckhill; John Barrett and James Barrett, Kilrooaum.

SLIGO.—Married, Oct. 19, at the the Church of St. John the Baptist, Thomas street, Dublin, by the Rev. E. O'Flynn, Patrick Walsh, Midland Great Western railway, Sligo, to Julia Anne McCann, 2 Foster street, Galway.

William McCann, manager of the Sooey creamery, died Oct. 7 after a brief sickness, deeply regretted.

The Rev. Father Foley, distinguished priest from the United States and native of Killoran, spent his vacation with his parents and friends. During his stay he endeared himself to every one. The high esteem in which he was held was attested on his departure by the large procession of the parishioners, led by the band, which accompanied him to Leyney station, where the young men of the parish presented him with a farewell address.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Doyle, Cartron, Collooney, took place Oct. 7 to Ballisodare cemetery and was attended by great numbers of relatives and friends.
