FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

Strength Has Improved.

Rev. H. Le Guillou, of St. Geronimo, New Mexico, writes about the effect of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for R. Martinez: "I suffered terribly of headache so much that it seemed as if my eyeballs were coming out and my stomach rejected all kind of food. For a long time I couldn't sleep during the night, but only a little during the day. I became so weak that I couldn't do any work without getting severe palpitation of the heart. At last a general nervous prostration resulted, which prevented me even from writing the simplest thing. As soon as I took the Tonic I felt the benefit of it. My strength has been improving all the time, and I am therefore very thankful for the valuable Tonic."

Rev. James F. Dougherty of Canandaigua delivered an eloquent and instructive sermon last Wednesday evening in St. Patrick's church on St. Joseph after the blessing of the new statue. The sermon was followed by Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament after which a procession was formed in front of the church and marched to St. Patrick's school where a reception was held in honor of Rev. Father Dougherty.

The raising of a new American flag over St. Patrick's school was held last Wednesday afternoon. A program carefully prepared for the occasion was rendered. The speakers were Hon. Charles James H. Kelly and Rev. Father Dougherty. The speaker of the day Hon. Mel Hammond Clapp, who delivered an eloquent address. Then Rev. Fathers Dunn and Kiefer in the course of their remarks admonished the children to be true to God and then they would be true patriots and upright christian citizens. Remarks were then made by Postmaster Frank J. McNeil and Mayor Oscar Woodruff. The exercises closed with three ringing cheers for the flag which now floats over St. Patrick's school.

Rev. Father Dougherty's host of friends of St. Joseph's church will be pleased to learn that he has returned to Canandaigua.

AUBURN

The death of Mary Ginnity of Seymour st. occurred last Wednesday at the family home after a long illness. Miss Ginnity was a well known young woman and well liked by all her associates both in church and private life. She was 26 years of age and is survived by her parents Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Ginnity and by two brothers and three sisters. The funeral was held from St. Aloysius church last Friday. Services were read by the psator, Rev. J. J. McGrath, who also conducted the services at the grave.

The Forty Hours devotion at St. Mary's church last week was the largest attended event ever given by that church. There was a number of out of town priests in attendance who assisted in caring for the people. The opening sermon was delivered by Rev. Father Dougherty of Canandaigua, who at one time was an assistant at the church.

The jubilee services of the different churches closed this week Thursday with special services. At St. Mary's church the different societies of the church marched in a procession and a missionary priest delivered the sermon on the occasion. The church was beautifully decorated and the musical program in charge of Mrs. Stephen Murphy was well handled.

The St. Alphonsus school which is being built by that congregation is rapidly nearing completion and from all indications will soon be able to be occupied as a school house. The pastor is to be congratulated on the fine building that is being put up for his children.

The different Catholic Societies of the city held the annual election of officers during the last week. The societies report everything running along smoothly.

OUR HOLY RELIGION

PROGRESS OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH IN THE UNITED STATES.

Some Facts and Figures Which Show the Gratifying Manner in Which the Faith Is Flourishing and Expanding on This Continent.

One of our [illegible] dignitaries, the Right Rev. Henry Gabriels recently published an interesting article on the condition and progress of the Catholic Church in the United States. We take from the [illegible] facts and figures which [illegible] a modest exercise of Divine Providence in regard of the Church. At a time when in very life seems to be threatened in certain countries it is gratifying to see the faith flourishing and expanding on a continent where a hundred years ago it was hardly known. In the year 1788 Pope Pius VI established the first episcopal see in the United States in the state of Maryland, and Rev. John Carroll was made its first bishop.

Shortly after his arrival other dioceses were made and new bishops appointed, and from that day the Church began to develop in proportion as the population increased. At the end of the eighteenth century Catholics numbered only 1 per cent of the population. In 1850 they increased to 1,700,000 out of a population of 23,000,000, or about one to every fifteen inhabitants. To day they are 14,000,000 strong out of a population of about 79,000,000 almost 5 to 50. The Catholic episcopate and clergy have increased in the same proportion. In 1808 there were only five bishops. In less than 100 years these numbers have increased to 14 archbishops, 72 bishops and 3 vicariates, all under the jurisdiction of one cardinal, while the 30 priests of 1783 have increased to 13,267, of whom 3,330 are religious of different orders.

Bishop Gabriels asks the cause of all this progress and attributes it (1) to the religious liberty which all enjoy in this country, (2) to the large numbers of births among the Catholics, which far surpass those of Protestant parentage, (3) to the multitude of Catholics coming to this country from Europe, and (4) to the thousands of conversions brought about by the zeal of the clergy and missions to non-Catholics. In spite of this wonderful growth the faith, he goes on to say, has been impeded in its expansion on account of the comparatively small number of priests, churches and parochial schools, and he does not hesitate to declare that in the public school system of education the Church has a very formidable barrier to contend with. Thanks, however, to the self sacrifice and zeal of clergy and people, our schools are multiplying, and today there exist 4,000 Catholic schools, in which over a million children receive a true Christian education, but this figure is far smaller than it should be.

Again, mixed marriages, divorces, so easily obtained in the civil courts of the country, association with people of a different faith and of no faith, the methods employed by those outside the Church in propagating their religion—all these tend not a little toward the perversion of some weak and misguided Catholics, and on this score we have to deplore a leakage in our Church year after year. But the end is not yet. We have Divine assurance that nothing can prevail against the Church, and in God's good time it will assert its power and strength. It has been said recently that the United States will be Catholic within a hundred years. However this may be, we confidently expect that the future development of the Catholic Church in this country will more than retrieve its losses of the past.

The statistics of Bishop Gabriels are interesting in the extreme and furnish a direct and eloquent answer to those outside the pale of the Church who are proclaiming day after day that our faith is dead and that the dogma of the Catholic religion is about to disappear. Christ is the author of our holy religion, and He promises to be with us till the end of time. Our faith will live as long as God lives.—Manchester (N. H.) Guidon.

Father Dominick Reuter.

The election of Father Dominick Reuter as head of the Franciscan Order of the World is the first time it has been conferred on an American since the [illegible] of the order 700 years [illegible]. Father Reuter was a student [illegible] theological preparatory [illegible] Terre Haute, one of six [illegible] Province to attend [illegible] Within a few months [illegible] will celebrate [illegible] in Terre Haute where [illegible] and Father Zoder [illegible].

Catholic Papers.

The bishops of Maryland have published a collective letter to their flocks urging them to support Catholic newspapers. They say: Whoever takes a journal hostile to the Church participates by so doing in its bad deeds. Subscribe to Catholic newspapers. When you have read them, pass them on to others to read."

Step by Step.

One brave step makes the next one easier. True, the road seems piled up with obstacles as one goes along, but then one is made stronger and more capable with every step, so that relatively we have an easy road always before us. At least, if not exactly easy, it becomes more interesting—one feels less inclined to grumble.

Once a Jew, Now a Priest.

Rev. Charles Oppenheim, who has just been appointed pastor of St. Joseph's church, Terre Haute, Ind., is a convert from the Jewish faith and was formerly a reporter on an Albany newspaper.

The Pontiff's Watch.

Pope Pius X. is the first Pontiff to carry a watch. Hitherto it has been etiquette at the Vatican that the Pope must always ask one of the cardinals what time it is. When the cardinals informed Pius X. of the old custom he replied, smiling, "The Holy Father ought always himself to know what o'clock it is."

Trust In God.

Infinite are the dangers of discouragement. One who yields to this unhappy and distrustful mood loses his own grip on life, loses his vision of God and his senses of the divine presence and the divine overruling, and his life is in danger of falling away in defeat and disaster.

SHORT SERMONS.

A man cannot go where temptation cannot find him.

Be true to your friends and remember the services they have rendered to you in the past.

You cannot dream yourself into a character. You must hammer and forge yourself one.

The truest [illegible] is the manly confession of [illegible]. The best courage is to avoid [illegible].

Never [illegible]. It is the [illegible] quarrel. [illegible] ant things [illegible] offers.

Faith builds [illegible] and the [illegible] its soul most shrines; [illegible] through roofs of stone ascends [illegible] where angels glide to and [illegible].

[illegible] that I labor, sweat and [illegible] it is but very little [illegible] and it will not be long that [illegible] need anything?

Consider Peter, virgin and martyr, who combated error unto death. When expiring, he dipped his finger into the blood of his wound and stopped to write on the ground his profession of faith, "Credo in Deum"—I believe in God.
