

FATHER KOENIG'S NERVE TONIC

A Physician's Experience.

Dayton, O., March, 1904. I desire to state that during the past 7 years I prescribed more than 500 bottles of Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic for every class of nervous affection. The effect has been beyond conception; to give a history of many cases which have been cured by this valuable Tonic, would fill a large book and too numerous to classify. A most interesting case was that of a girl 15 years old, which had from 2 to 3 epileptic attacks daily, she was treated by several physicians and a specialist, without avail, all pronounced her case incurable, but then I gave her Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic and after taking it but one week she had only one more attack and none since in 6 years, yet she continues to take small doses of the Tonic and is strong, healthy and happy. Dr. E. F. Cole.

TACTICS UNDER WATER.

What the Shell Fish do to Protect Themselves From Enemies.

Certain species of crabs cover themselves with sea weed in order to deceive their foes. One crab was seen by the naturalist Esig in 1878 to pluck off zoophytes those plant like animal colonies which grow on shells and stones, and to fix them on the spines and hairs of its shell. A still deeper romance of defensive tactics is to be found in the case of certain hermit crabs. They live in the cast-off shells of whelks and crawl about, house on back. One claw is bigger than the other, and this is an adaptive feature, for when the crab retires into its house the bigger claw is tucked across the mouth of the shell to bar the way against a possible intruder. More curious still is the habit of one species which toils along with a sea anemone fixed to his shell, like Sinbad carrying the Old Man of the Sea. Great care is taken of this anemone. It is fed by the crab and if the latter has to seek a new shell by reason of his growth he tenderly shifts his tenant off the old abode and places him on the new one.
