Paris, a Wealthy Country. Paris is one of the richest countries of the world in minerals of all kinds—gold, silver, copper, mercury, iron, lead, sulphur, coal, salt, petroleum, etc. being found in great abundance—and it only requires the action of capital and labor to make the republic as renowned for its wealth as California, Australia or South Africa, says the U. S. consul at Paris.

DEW DROPS

A girl gets a queer idea about men, in spite of having brothers, as men get about girls, in spite of having sisters.

It sends cold shivers down a girl's spine to remember, after she gets in a hammock, that she hasn't got on her best stockings.

A woman will consult a clairvoyant to find out if her daughter is going to marry a millionaire, but when she is suspicious of her husband's fidelity she digs up the evidence herself.

Don Carlos as a Collector.

Don Carlos has spent a fortune on relics. His most interesting collection comprises relics of the various battles with which he has been identified, including a unique set of pictures depicting the engagements in which he has fought.

The Beard and Chin.

To possess a receding chin is no crime. It is merely a sign of weakness. But to conceal it with a huge and bushy beard and thereby to present the appearance of a man endowed with great strength of will is surely a false pretense.

Old Woman of Madrid.

Madrid claims to have the oldest woman in the world—Maria Nieto, who has lived in three centuries, having been born in 1781. She was twice married and had nineteen children, all of whom she survives.
