

Go-Carts for 1905.

The baby's turnout has been revolutionized in the last few years. By the process of evolution or some other method the carriage has been turned into a go-cart.

First go-carts were awkward, ugly things, but the right principle was there---lightness, compactness and comfort for baby.

In this year's patterns of go-carts there are very marked improvements.

The folding principle has been greatly extended, made to include very much more elaborate carts than heretofore.

Folding go carts now range in price from $2.25 to $12.50.

Some of these carts are made to fold together so compactly that they may be easily packed in a trunk, carried upstairs on your arm or stored away in a small closet.

In the non-folding carts with simply adjustable backs and fronts there are many handsome and elaborate styles. These range in price from $5.50 to $21.50.

Nearly all the go-carts this year have what is styled the automobile running gear, all wheels of equal size. Another feature is the ebonoid handle.

We quote prices on go-carts exclusive of parasol equipment. This is a feature in which each purchaser may suit her own fancy.

Koenig's Nerve Tonic
Cured Completely in Mexico.

My child had falling sickness since two years and was treated by the best physicians of Mexico without any improvement, until we used Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic of which two bottles cured it entirely. Another case was that of Ponce Mata, who was troubled with catalepsy since sixteen years and another little girl was cured by the Tonic from St. Isabel Barrera, got rid of hysterics by the same remedy, and also Mercedes Cardas from the same trouble.

Miss Lizzie Cummings of Manchester spent Sunday at Rochester.

Richard Keleher spent last week at Rochester with his brother, James Keleher, who is a student at St. Andrew's Seminary.

Miss Marie O'Neil of Seneca Falls, is the guest of her parents.

DANSVILLE
Sunday is Groveland Sunday. Confessions at Groveland beginning at 7 a. m. Mass at 8 a. m. at Groveland, 10 30 a. m. at Dansville.

Sermon and benediction of the Blessed Sacrament Wednesday evening at 7:30; Stations of the Cross on Friday evening at 7:30.

Dansville friends deeply sympathize with Sister M. Alphons of St. Patrick's convent in her late bereavement.

Rev. Father Dunn assisted Rev. Father Day of Mt. Morris at Forty Hour's devotion this week.

St. Patrick's day was observed in Dansville with great fervor and patriotism. In the morning high mass was celebrated at St. Patrick's church at 8:15 a. m. by Rev. Father Dunn, followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament. The mass was sung by the children's choir. In the evening a vast audience assembled in O'Connell Hall and listened to an eloquent and scholarly lecture on "The Glory of Ireland" by Rev. Wm. P. Ryan of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Rochester. The lecture delivered in a masterly style far surpassed anything the audience had anticipated.

Dansville people again hope to hear Rev. Father Ryan. Great credit is due the Sisters for the excellent musical program rendered and also to the participants, all former pupils of the school.

Rev. Father Dunn congratulated the A. O. H. for the excellent success of the entertainment. The committee in charge was: Messrs. John Burke, William P. Kelly, Peter J. Malone, James M. Brown, Harry Rowan. The hall was beautifully decorated with emerald green, Irish and American flags, palms and ferns. St. Patrick's picture occupied a conspicuous position on the stage.

AUBURN
The many friends of Miss Teresa M. Mullen of this city, will be pained to hear of her death which occurred last Saturday night at the family home after a long illness. Miss Mullen was one of Auburn's most prominent young ladies and had friends without number. She was always the center of attention at all social gatherings, owing to her cheerful and sunny disposition. Miss Mullen after a trip to the North Woods a little over a year ago returned to her home in this city a well person and her many friends looked forward to a long and healthful life. Last fall she was again taken sick and lingered on fighting with untold vigor until her heart finally gave away and she succumbed. Of Miss Mullen it might truthfully be said "none knew her but to love her, none knew her but to serve her." The funeral was held from the family home on Tuesday with services at the Holy Family church and interment in St. Joseph cemetery in the family plot. The bearers were life long friends of the deceased whom she had requested to act as such.

The funeral of Frank Pere, Sr. was held from the home of his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Leano of Aurelius Ave., and was largely attended.

The members of the cast of "Captain Terrence" held an informal supper at the Osborne during the week. The whole number of the cast were present and enjoyed the feast with untold vigor. During the evening Chas. Conghlin was appointed toast master and introduced the following: P. B. Sheehan, "Harmony Four", Frank Carr, Chas. T. Whelan, Rev. E. J. Dwyer, Misses McCarty, P. Long, P. Doran of Rochester, and Rev. J. J. Doran. Each guest departed high in their praise of the night's entertainment.

CANANDAIGUA
Lawrence Gavin received word last Saturday from the Sisters Hospital in St. Louis, Mo., that his son John was quite ill with pneumonia.

The collection for the Propagation of the Faith amounted to $50.

The attendance was rather light at the St. Patrick's eye entertainment and only $8.87 cleared. The fare proved a very enjoyable one and the members of the Player's club, under the direction of Miss Katherine Burns, the well known elocutionist, all acquitted themselves with great credit.

The L. C. B. A. mass for Mrs. M. D. ...

The panegyric on St. Patrick by Rev. C. F. O'Loughlin of Phelps, was an interesting portrayal of the life and times of the great saint and much enjoyed by the large congregation who came out to hear the reverend gentleman and do honor to the old land and the old faith.
The Sewing Circle meets Thursday at 9 p. m. with Mrs. Claesey.
Sodality and school collection Sunday next.
Rev. Andrew Byrne preaches Wednesday evening.

MR. DANIEL SULLY.

Dan Sully at the National.
Daniel Sully, "the natural actor," who scored such a brilliant success as Father Whalen in the Parish Priest, has found another big winner in the three act comedy drama, "Our Pastor," written for him by Jerrold Shepard, which will be presented in this city at the National Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Our Pastor" is the strongest play of its kind that has ever been presented and in every respect is an improvement on its distinguished predecessor, "The Parish Priest." It is intensely dramatic although a rich vein of comedy relieves the tension and prevents the most striking situations from becoming too strained.

The story of the play is simple enough, but it is in its handling and treatment that Jerrold Shepard has shown himself a dramatist of unusual power and originality. A wealthy ranchman, domineering, self-willed and accustomed to command, is in love with his pretty ward, a girl many years his junior. The young lady has other views and has fallen in love with a clever young mining engineer who has come out to the little Idaho village as the representative of an Eastern mining syndicate. There has been an epidemic of horse stealing and when the tenderfoot is found with another man's horse in his possession he is made an unwilling participant in a lynching bee. Father Daly, pastor of the village church, arrives in time to rescue him and disperses the mob. He then proceeds to fight the young people's battles in his own way and eventually succeeds in arranging matters to the satisfaction of all concerned. In doing so he encounters many obstacles, but overcomes them all by a combination of tact, diplomacy and good-humored but inflexible authority. The play illustrates the relations of a pastor and flock in a manner that will be a revelation to those who believe that a clergyman's chief duty is confined in the interior of his church. As Father Daly, Mr. Sully shows the kindly nature, the quaint humor, the homely pathos, and, when necessary, the stern authority that finally compel the respect and win the admiration of the roughest characters of the frontier town.

The play is a distinct departure from the beaten track of dramatic offerings and will be appreciated by all who desire a change from the routine run of society drama, farce, musical comedy and problem play. Popular price matinees will be played Tuesday and Wednesday after noons.

COOK OPERA HOUSE

As a special feature, "Zutka" is announced as one of the attractions to be presented next week at the Cook Opera House. Another good act will be given by George W. Monroe. His immensely funny impersonation "Aunt Bridget" is well known by all followers of farce comedy. Mary Shaw will present a sketch called "The Silent System." The Patty Brothers will give matinees in balancing. Sabel Johnson will show how she can sing away up to high C. Hill and Whittaker will offer banjo playing and singing; Mr. and Mrs. Allison will give "Minnie from Minnesota" and the kinetograph will show motion pictures. The bill will be presented at the Cook every day next week with daily matinees.

NATIONAL THEATRE.

The character of a priest is a difficult one to portray satisfactorily on the stage, and there are few actors who would be accepted by the public in such a role, of them, one of the foremost, is Mr. Daniel Sully, who will be seen at the National Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, in his new play "Our Pastor."

For three days, opening Monday, April 3rd, the royal comedians, Williams and Walker, and a large company of colored players, will be seen at the National Theatre in their latest musical success "In Dahomey."

BAKER THEATRE.

C. B. Jefferson's "Shadows of a Great City" which returns to the Baker Theatre the first half of next week with daily matinees is from all accounts a monster production. Sadie Connolly will this time, play the part of "Biddy Ronan," at which we have laughed our sides sore in days gone by.

Manager Boyle has booked Stetson's "Uncle Tom's Cabin" for the last half of next week, March 30, 31 and April 1st with daily matinees and this should be a welcome announcement to patrons of that popular playhouse as well as to the general public that loves this charming old drama.

Five Religious Leaders.

There are five great religious heads on the face of the globe. They are the pope of the Latin church; the schismatic or orthodox pope of the Greek church; the father of the faithful, ruling at Constantinople; the pope of Tibet, who has 500,000,000 subjects and the schismatic pope of the Mohammedan world, who reigns at Meccoe.

Points About the Salmon.

"Why do salmon take a fly?" asks Horace G. Hutchinson in his new book on fishing. "This is a question often asked, the more so as scientists tell us that salmon do not feed in fresh water—a statement which, however, cannot be accepted by anglers. This is not a scientific treatise on the subject, but we may fairly ask scientists when we see salmon caught with worm, prawn or minnow (which they often take into their gullets as a trout will do), what they are doing with them there? That salmon are rarely caught with anything in their stomachs is quite true, but it may be that it is only the hungry fish which take a fly or a bait and whose stomachs are empty. Or it may be that the salmon's power of ejecting food is so great in the struggle to free himself that he ejects everything in his stomach? Well, then, why does he take a fly? Is it from curiosity? The fact of catching him with natural bait, which he is attempting to swallow, is conclusive evidence that he does feed in fresh water."

Mexico's New Supreme Judge.

The recent election of Felix Romero to the office of the President of the Supreme Court of the Republic of Mexico has given widespread pleasure, particularly in judicial circles and among the leading politicians of the country. Mr. Romero, like the late President Benito Juarez and President Porfirio Diaz, is a native of Oaxaca, and was a schoolfellow of President Diaz, both attending the Councillar seminary of that city. When the constitution was framed in 1857 he was one of the signers. Of all the others who signed that document there are besides himself but three living—Ignatius Mariscal, Minister of Foreign Relations; Justino Fernandez, Minister of Justice, and Senator Benito Gomez Farias.
