Still Unanswered. If a Catholic paper is worthy the name its reputation for truth telling should be above suspicion.

If proprietors of a Catholic paper obtain advertising because of declaration to advertisers that their paper has a bona fide circulation of so many copies when the circulation is not one-tenth so large, the law of the land and the law of the church is violated.

In all justice, in all decency, in all fairness can such a paper expect the support of the Catholic hierarchy, the Catholic priesthood, the Catholic public or the general public? Should it have such support?

In the Catholic Citizen two weeks ago the claim was made "We have 10,000 circulation."

The Journal was convinced that the Messrs. Kennedy, to put it charitably, deliberately mistated the facts in the case for their own gain and so we offered $100 to be given to any Catholic hospital in the city if it could be shown that the "Citizen" had 10,000 subscribers or even 5,000, proof to be made by the easiest and most conclusive method: by white paper bills and post office receipts, the proof to be passed upon by the advertising managers of Rochester's leading department stores.

The offer has been open two weeks and has not been accepted.

The general public might just as well understand, first as last, that there are few Catholic papers in the state which have a circulation of 10,000. Probably, the "Catholic Union and Times" of Buffalo and the "Catholic News" of New York, have a circulation as large, but it was only built up after years of hard work and by the expenditure of a large amount of money.

The Catholic Journal has been in existence for nearly sixteen years. It has kept all its promises to the Catholic and general public and has always endeavored to be fair and just and above all truthful in all its dealings.

We congratulate our esteemed contemporary, the "Union and Times" upon the success it has achieved as evidenced by the declaration last week of a dividend of 25 per cent. To achieve success is good, to achieve deserved success is better. Business manager King has worked hard and is now reaping the fruit of his labors.

"Bishop Hickey" it will be in very truth in a few weeks. The Journal extends congratulations once more.

Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus, presents Brother Charles R. Barnes as a delegate to the National Council which meets in Los Angeles in June. He has worked hard for the success of the order and deserves the honor.

Evidently, Thomas W. Lawson was not so far astray in his stories about how the assets of life insurance companies are manipulated and how favored individuals and trust companies have the run of the company's funds.

"What! Burned 15 Tons Of coal last winter, while I used only eleven? Your's wasn't Langie's gill-edge, that's certain." "No, it wasn't but it will be, this year, you bet!" Central office, Triangle building; phones 980.

where religious bigotry and intolerance is supposed to be unknown, practically. And yet, substantially these sentiments are voiced at many sessions of the governing body of the "Mother's Clubs" and we have reason to believe that more than one Catholic teacher has been transferred to unhandy schools because of the objection raised by some mother, who has a pull with the School Board, that her Johnnie or Jennie must not be taught by a horrid Catholic schoolmistress.

The Journal gives notice now that it will make specific public protest against such actions every time one is brought to its notice.

Cowards—men and women alike—must be brought into the limelight. The Catholic public is entitled to know the non-Catholics who fawn on us to our faces and curse us behind our backs.

They are welcome to their personal opinions but should not be permitted to put them into practice at the expense of Catholic taxpayers.

Face That Kills.

Plainly and to the point a contemporary says: "The Washington social season just closing has a larger list of victims, with more distinguished names on it, than any of its predecessors. No doubt next season will be still worse. The silliness and the insanity grow apace. More and more costly 'entertainments,' later and later hours, bigger and bigger expenditures, less and less hospitality, more and more yugarity. All the high officials, except a few that are too poor, all the Embassies and Legations, all the idle rich who make Washington their winter home, have joined in the conspiracy to destroy the nerves, the brains and, worst of all, the point of view, of the national public servants.

"Washington used to be hospitable; it is yearning and striving to be fashionable. Put aside all the questions of decency or indecency of such 'goings on' at the Capital of a democratic Republic, how is the public business to be transacted properly in the environment created by snobs battling for social position with the weapons of vulgar display?"

As much and more can be said of the social whirl in Albany or any other of the state capitals. It is time that we paid more attention to the selection of state legislators. Men, not monkeys, should be chosen.

There is a great deal of praise just now for "boy's clubs." The Journal can give the address of one of these organizations, the members of which are a discredit by their actions after their sessions are dismissed. Foul language and profanity seem to be their stock in trade.

Five more city physicians to satisfy the whims of the faddists! Oh, well, Rochester has money to burn.

NEW CHURCH AT ELMIRA.

A new church is being erected at Elmira Heights, N. Y., at a cost of about five thousand dollars and is nearly ready for dedication. Bishop McQuaid has appointed Rev. Michael C. Wall, formerly of St. Theresa's church, Stanley, N. Y., as rector.

NEW CATHEDRAL HALL.

Plans are being made for a new hall for the Cathedral parish. The rooms now occupied for the hall are needed for the increasing number of pupils in the school. The new hall will be a model of its kind and will include besides a stage and large auditorium, a hall for athletic exercises, baths, and all the accessories that go to make up a first class gymnasium.

Five Minute Sermon

The Passion Of Our Lord.

Remember that on that same day on which Christ entered Jerusalem the Paschal was led with great solemnity from Bethphage to the temple. It is not surprising, then, that our divine Saviour should meet on the same road so many people. Naturally speaking, we may say that the people, wishing to pay homage to Christ and to make His entry into Jerusalem as solemn as possible, knew no other way of manifesting the feelings of their hearts. But we must raise our minds higher, and see the hand of God in things which appear so natural and accidental. Jesus went to Jerusalem to be crucified, and by His death to conquer hell, to bring down upon men the fullness of grace, and detach their hearts from the things of this world in order to direct them to heavenly things. Hence God so willed it that the great multitude should applaud the triumph of the Redeemer, and—as the Church says on this day—with palms in their hands they proclaimed His victory over Satan. The olive branches signified the oil of grace which would be diffused over the children of redemption. The garments spread under His feet signified the renunciation of all earthly affections which the just must make for God's sake; for, according to St. Gregory, earthly affections are the garments that entangle our souls, and the better to fight our spiritual enemies we must get rid of them.

To-day we behold Christ entering Jerusalem amidst the hosannas of the people—five days later we shall see Him dragged to Mount Calvary amidst curses and blasphemies. To-day the people are all love for Him and pay Him homage—in a few days we shall see them filled with hatred, demanding His blood. We must learn not to trust the world, to fear its inconstancy, and to hope for reward from God alone.

Kid Gloves for Easter

What's Gained by Postponing Selection Until the Last Minute?

How swiftly the days are gliding by! Seems but the least of little whites since the thermometer was at zero and the streets were blocked with snow. And now it's but eight days to Easter. Pardon a word of suggestion. Come to the store this week, to-day if possible, and select those Easter gloves. By doing so you can choose with care and deliberation and be assured of a perfect fit. Of course, we will do our best for you if such selection is left until the last moment, but we are viewing the matter through YOUR spectacles—from the standpoint of YOUR interests. And we would suggest an inspection of some of the following lines:

P. & L.—our famous dollar glove—fine light weight glace kid with two patent fasteners and black and self colored embroidery, in all the fashionable shades, as well as black and white—$1.00 a pair. Smart Walking Gloves in white, with one large pearl button and spear point embroidery—the correct English cut, "don't cherk know"—$1.50 pair. Superb Selections of Wash Silks

Although present indications may belie the assumption, there is doubtless a widespread and deep-rooted conviction that summer is coming and with it warm weather. If so, does it not suggest the advisability of anticipating your apparel needs for that torrid season, and at the time when it may be done to the best advantage?

For example, is it not the part of prudence to select materials for those summer gowns when assortments are at their best? This, in turn, suggests our superb assortment of Wash Silks. A brief mention of a few leaders:

Plain Habut Wash Silks in stripes and checks, in a variety of effects, 39c yard.

Japanese Wash Silks, checks with jacquard figures, black and white and other color combinations, 59c yard.

Japanese Wash Silks, all white, with jacquard figures, 50c yard, and plain white from 25c to $1.00 yard.

Corded Habut Wash Silks, stripes and checks, colors and white, 45c yard.

Hosiery and Underwear

Spring and Summer Stocks Now at Their Zenith

Not so long ago black had everything its own way in hosedom. Colors were not "in it." Black was the first and there was no second. Of late, however, the tendency has been in the other direction. Now it's the fad to have hose match gown.

This season, therefore, there's a largely augmented demand for colored hosiery of every kind, especially Dresden and navy blues and the various tones of tans, including champagne and onion.

While openwork stockings are still in vogue, increased favor is shown the plain, sheer gauze of which we carry a full range. Embroidered hosiery, which, as yet, shows no sign of waning, is also largely represented in our lines.

In underwear, we carry the most celebrated makes, some of which are procurable in this city only in this store.

What about the values? Let these speak for the many:

Women's Light Weight Hose, fast black Egyptian yarn, double heel and toe, plain or ribbed top, 12 1-2c pair.

Women's Lisle Thread Hose, lace ankles or all over lace, fast black and tans, 35c pair.

Children's School Hose, wide and narrow ribbed, fast black, double heel, toe and knee, 17c pair.

Women's Lisle Thread Hose, fast black, drop stitch, white heel and toe, 25c a pair.

Infants' Cashmere Hose, 'seconds' but every whit as serviceable as "first quality", which costs 25c, 17c pair.

Women's Lisle Thread Vests, high neck and long sleeve or high neck and short sleeve, and crocheted edge, special value at 50c.

Women's Lisle Thread Hose, fast black, various patterns of openwork, 25c pair.

Children's School Hose, fast black fine ribbed, double heel, toe and knee, 10c pair.

Women's Lisle Thread Pants made with yoke band, ankle and knee length, extra value at 50c.
