It Saved Her Life. 8

Staunton, Ill., Jan., 1903.

My wife, forty-seven years old, was sick since about two years, so that she became nearly insane. Several physicians treated her, but without success. This cost about $500. She was then since about six months in a hospital, when Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic was recommended to me, which I gave her, and it cured her entirely, and I believe it saved her life. R. Teufert.

Mrs. Holtz, of Dunkirk, N. Y., writes: "I thank God for the good which Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic done me. I was treated by four doctors and was eight weeks in a hospital, but it done me no good. I took but four bottles of the Tonic, which cured me.

AUBURN.

The graduation class of the Holy Family school held their closing exercises in the church last Sunday night when the successful pupils were awarded their diplomas for the State Regent examination. The class numbering 20 members were all successful and averaged 88 per cent in their marks, which is a tribute to the good tutoring of the Sisters who had charge of the grade.

The graduation class of St Mary's school held their exercises in the large auditorium of the church last Sunday afternoon after the regular vespers. The exercises were of high order and the successful pupils were given their credentials of having passed the State examinations.

Rev. Patrick Smith has been assigned as the second assistant of St. Mary's church and has taken up the work. The appointment is only a temporary one as Rev. Father FitzSimons, who is now studying in Rome, will be the permanent assistant.

Miss Clara Mee and Charles Clark of this city were married at St. Mary's church on Wednesday by Rev. James Clark of Canandaigua, a brother of the groom. The wedding reception was held at the home of the bride, after which the happy couple left for a short honeymoon in the east. They will reside in this city.

The St. Aloysius church celebrated the third anniversary of the founding of the church. The exercises in commemoration of the event were of a high order. The closing exercises of the school were also held on the same night at which the diplomas were given to the pupils of the eighth grade

GENESEO.

Father Hughes is preparing a class of children to receive first communion on Sunday July 9.

Rev. J. A. Hickey of Holy Apostles church, Rochester, and sister. Miss Mary E. Hickey, were guests of friends here last week.

Rev. John B. Sullivan, recently ordained to the priesthood in Rochester, was the guest of Rev. A. A. Hughes on Friday evening of last week.

Rev. A. A. Hughes gave a "Talk on Texas," at Piffard hall, Piffard, on Friday evening of this week for the benefit of St Raphael's church of that place. After the lecture ice cream and strawberries were served and dancing was enjoyed.

Timothy Delehanty, who has been in Denver, Col., for three weeks visiting his sister and brother, is expected home to-day

Misses Louise F. Harrington and Cecilia Conlin, were guests of friends in Bloomfield on Saturday and Sunday last.

Joseph Dwyer of New York city, and Michael Donovan, Jr., of San Francisco, California, are home on a visit.

The following Catholic students graduated from the Geneseo State Normal School on Tuesday last, class of '05: Wm. J. Flynn, Elizabeth J. Gordon, Charles F. McCarthy, Margaret M. McCarthy, Mary F. McEvoy, Charles A. Vedder in the classical course; Mary K Brick, Elizabeth R. Coppinger Helen C. Hackett, Mary E. Joyce, Mary B. Rigney, Grace J. Seep in the English course.

CANANDAIGUA.

Prayers were offered Sunday for the dead of the past week whose bodies were placed in our cemetery, Mrs. A. Wechenger of Canandaigua, and Michael Dwyer of Rochester.

The closing exercises of the school were held at Bemis Hall, Tuesday evening. "The Hidden Gem" was well rendered. An eloquent address was delivered by Rev. James F. Winters and diplomas awarded to 25 graduates, 18 of whom were boys. The other priests from out-of town were, Rev. J. J. Donnelly of Victor, and Rev. A. McCabe of Stanley.

Miss Mary A. Lyman, former housekeeper for Bishop Hendrick, returned from a year's sojourn in the Philippines, is spending a few days at the rectory.

The school collection fell off a little this month, amounting to only $60—with probably more to be heard from.

Everything is in readiness for the big picnic here July 4th for the new St. Mary's. The various church societies are working earnestly. No other celebration of the glorious fourth will be held in Canandaigua or surrounding towns. Many people are expected from Rochester and Geneva and intervening points. It is safe to estimate with favorable weather 3,000 or 4,000 people on the fair ground. E. Leo Fay, Esq., of LeRoy, will make the great speech of the day. Mrs. Elizabeth McGowan of Buffalo, Thos. H. O'Neill of Auburn, J. Carleton Norris and Maynard N. Clement of Canandaigua, will have each a share in the program.

Miss Margaret Law, of this village, and Thomas C. Gibbs of Buffalo were married Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Dunn attended the funeral of her cousin at Geneva Thursday.

LIMA.

Friday, being the feast of the Sacred Heart of Jesus, mass was celebrated at 8 o'clock, followed by benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The ceremony of blessing the new Stations of the Cross occured in St. Rose's church Sunday evening last at 7:30 p.m. The stations were put in place sometime ago, but the blessing had been deferred. The ceremony consisted of the recitations of the rosary, way of the cross, a sermon by Father O'Brien of the State Industrial School, Rochester, and benediction. Rev. Eisler of Caledonia, Rev. Garvey of Livonia, Rev. Hughes of Geneseo, and Rev. Farron of Avon, were present. The placing of the new stations completes the interior decorations of the church, and the parishioners may feel justly proud of it.

DANSVILLE.

An ideal and never to be forgotten day dawned for the people of St. Patricks congregation Sunday, June 25th, when Rev. John B. Sullivan, who has spent many of his early years among us and endeared himself to the hearts of all, celebrated his second high mass, assisted by Rev. Father Dunn, deacon, Mr. Joseph Cameron, sub-deacon. Mr. Fimmons of St. Bernard's Seminary, censorbearer, Mr. Quiglev of of Canandaigua, master of ceremonies, Mr. Kilen of St. Bernard's Seminary, and Mr King of St. Andrew's Seminary, acolytes, and Mr. Otto Geiger of St. Andrew's in the sanctuary. Rev. Father Dunn preached an inspiring and eloquent sermon in honor of the occasion. After mass Rev. Father Dunn bestowed his blessing on the vast congregation assembled. In the evening solemn benediction was given and an eloquent and scholarly sermon by Rev. Father Sullivan. Many of the congregation were affected by the flood of memories which entered their minds. Monday evening a reception was given in honor of Rev. Father Sullivan in O'Connell Hall. Light refreshments were served and an informal entertainment given. Mr. James M Brogan in a few well chosen words presented Rev. Father Sullivan with a slight remembrance in gold from his Dansville friends May God's blessing be always with him in his chosen work.

St. Patrick's school furnished a fine program for its commencement exercises under the careful training of the Sisters of St. Joseph. The graduates were Anna Welch, Adamadell Watson, Mary FitzPatrick, Joseph King, John Tracy, James Maloney, Howard King, Frederick Mahaney, Lawrence V. Driscoll, George King, Clarence Welch, Simon King. Three graduates deserve special mention Simon King, Clarence Welch and Lawrence Driscoll having completed two grades and graduating, Simon King carrring off the gold medal.

Miss Sullivan, sister of Rev. John B. Sullivan, Miss Donovan and Mr. Donovan of Canandaigua, were entertained by Mrs. John Schwingle, during Father Sullivan's stay in Dansville.

BLACK BASS SEASON

Opened and Sodus Bay Invites Anglers for the Gamey Fish.

June 16th is a date that has been anxiously looked forward to by the local fisherman for this is the day the gamiest of fish, the black bass, loses the protection of the law.

The conditions are favorable this season for large catches and many fishermen report having hooked large bass while fishing for perch and other small fish during the past two weeks.

Sodus Bay has always been a popular place for fishermen after black bass and the boat liverymen at this resort are looking forward to a busy season. The special limited trains of the Rochester and Sodus Bay railway will make it possible for local fishermen to reach the fishing grounds of Sodus bay in one hour and forty minutes.

OUR ANTAGONISTS.

We Should Love Them and Set Them a Good Example.

When we consider the surroundings antagonistic to the Church in which most of our non-Catholic fellow citizens have been reared, writes a priest, we should not blame them for the ridiculous, absurd notions they have concerning the Catholic Church and her putative doctrines. From their very nursery they were taught to regard Catholicism as the scarlet lady of abominations and Catholic priests as horned emissaries of Satan, and their ideas are but strengthened in after years by the books they read, the sermons they hear, the lectures they attend and even by the very social atmosphere they breathe without ever having an opportunity to know the Church, what she teaches and what she does not teach, the soul satisfying fixity of faith, the peace and happiness to be found in her hallowed bosom

Is it any marvel that those thus brought up should be bitter in their antagonism to the Catholic Church? The wonder is that they are not even more so We may mention here that most of the brilliant stars in the intellectual world, both in our own and other lands, who were led by God's grace into the Church, held the Church and all her belongings in utter abhorrence during many barren years We may instance the great Newman in proof of what we say But when, through the mercy of the Light of Lights, the scales fell from his eyes, oh, then, like St. Paul, they were caught up in the third heaven and given a taste of the paradisaical bliss that awaited them beyond the stars

These are thoughts which we should not forget in our dealings with non-Catholic fellow citizens We should fold them to our hearts in the bonds of charity and show them by our edifying Christian lives what a happy and blessed thing it is to be a consistent Catholic Catholic Mirror

Heart and Life.

It is the heart that prays, but in a fuller sense it is the life that prays All the sincere prayers of sinners are heard, no matter what their lives, the efficacy of prayer resting, as St. Thomas says, on their faith and confidence rather than on sanctifying grace But the prayer of the life is better than the prayer of the heart merely From the altar of a holy life ascends the prayer that smells so sweet before God, as incense in our churches Behind the prayer is the life, with all its sacrifices, its deeds, its desires and merit But even the lives of the indifferent may be made prayerful. Into them may be infused an abiding spirit of prayer Sacrifices made, labor undergone, sorrows borne, temptations resisted all these are the gold which we may offer to ransom souls from sin or to obtain grace by which they will not fall.

Expert Testimony.

In his apologia Cardinal Newman gave the lie direct to stories that he was ill at ease in the church of his conversion. "From the time that I became a Catholic, of course, I have no further history of my religious opinions to relate. In saying this I do not mean to say that my mind has been idle or that I have given up thinking on theological subjects, but that I have no variations to record and have no anxiety of heart whatever I have been in perfect peace and contentment I never have one doubt I was not conscious to myself, on my conversion of any change, intellectual or moral, wrought in my mind. I was not conscious of firmer faith in the fundamental truths of revelation or of more self command. I had not more fervor, but it was like coming into port after a rough sea, and my happiness on that score remains to this day without interruption."

Study God's Mercies.

We owe it to ourselves to deal justly by our Heavenly Father. We are bound in honor to recognize gratefully the blessings which come to each of us from His hand. We dwarf our own better natures and we wrong Him if we fail to appreciate His goodness. Too much of the depression which seems to engloom some lives is wholly needless. There are even some people who seem to hug their misery and refuse cheer as it is offered. Studying our mercies habitually, hopefully, gratefully, prayerfully, never fails to sweeten the bitterest lot and illumine even more the brightest experience of life.

Holy Days In France.

The approaching separation of the Church and state in France has disclosed a curious situation, whereby Christmas, Easter and other holidays to which the French are devoted will be abolished under the separation bill. This led M. Gerault-Pichard to satisfy public opinion by an amendment continuing the principal holidays under new names. The amendment, which has been accepted by those in charge of the bill, substitutes spring flower festival for Easter, harvest festival for the Feast of the Assumption, memorial festival for the Feast of All Saints and family festival for Christmas.

Life's Emptiness.

Many persons have learned the true emptiness and nothingness of this world, of its pleasures and gains and honors, by being forced either to suffer themselves or to devote themselves to the care of the sick and afflicted who have claims upon them. It is less easy for such men to be deceived by the emptiness and hollowness which impose upon the frivolous and thoughtless worldlings round them. There is something analogous to this fact in the case of those who live very much in the habitual thought of the sufferers in purgatory. It is impossible but that such Christians should gain daily in delicacy of conscience, in courage under suffering, in love of the cross and in charity for souls.

Our Associations.

We are either raised or lowered by our associations. Manners, temper, intellect and morals are all directly influenced by our surroundings, and those who choose for themselves friends of an inferior caste—whether of mind or of manners, of morals or of conduct—fall to the level of their choice.

Sharp Practices.

No man can even begin to please God who does not renounce sharp practices, give up unfair dealings and start out to act equitably, to render to others their just dues and determine to be in all matters an honest man. That is the very beginning of religion, the elemental buttress of a devoted life.

Wait Upon God.

My soul, wait thou upon God with the holy meditation which makes a man calm at the heart and strong for all the needs of the living. There is rest at the center. Thou losest nothing if thou losest not God. Let the world go past, with its dust and noise, with its fret and fume. My soul, wait thou upon God.
