

My wife, forty-seven years old, was sick since about two years, so that she became nearly insane. Several physicians treated her, but without success. This cost about $500. She was then sent about six months in a hospital, when Pastor Koenig's Nerve Tonic was recommended to me, which I gave her, and it cured her entirely, and I believe it saved her life.

FREE A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a Sample Bottle to any address. For patients also get the medicine free. Prepared by the Rev. Father Koenig, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1876, and now by the KOENIG MED. CO., Chicago, Ill., 100 Lake Street. Sold by Druggists at 50¢ per bottle, 6 for $2.50. Large Size, $1.75; 6 for $9.00.

AUBURN.

One hundred and seventy-five Auburnians attended the lecture in Groton on last Friday night by Rev. Father MacCorry of the Paulist of New York. The party left by a special train and after the lecture attended the dance and supper and returned to the city at an early hour on Saturday morning. A large sum was realized from the affair and the lecture was fine and equally as good as when given here by the same lecturer.

Rev. Father Samuel MacPrerson formerly pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church, this city, has been assigned to a charge in New York City in East 117th Street where he said his first mass on last Sunday. It is the intention of the priest in the city to have him give a talk here in the near future.

The church of St. Marys will hold a lawn festival on August 7th for the benefit of the new St. Edwards Mission which is soon to be consecrated in the western part of the city.

The Polish people of the city are making plans for the establishing of a church in this city and while the work is being planned the congregation hold mass in the St. Alphonsus Church in Water Street.

The members of St. Marys' choir went to Groton on last Sunday and sang the high mass that was celebrated in that village. The mass was a solemn high mass and Father MacCorry delivered the sermon of the day. The event was one of unusual importance in the village as it was a long time since they had a high mass on Sunday.

CANANDAIGUA.

The Holy Name will conduct a trolley ride to McKenna's on the County Horse road, Friday evening.

Ella Walsh of Newark, Mary Remery, of Canandaigua, and Adolph Wiener, of Rochester, recently deceased, were prayed for last Sunday.

James Scanlan, a venerable and respected member of the parish, sails for Ireland on the steamer Majestic to-day, where he goes to live with his brother in the County Limerick.

The good Lord sent us sunshine for the Fourth and all roads led to Canandaigua and the picnic. The attendance was a little larger than last year, the gate receipts indicating 1,834 paid admissions, children not included as they were admitted free. $257.63 were taken in at the dining hall, showing that upwards of a thousand were fed. $141.18 were realized from ice cream; $107.38 from candy and lemonade; and $126.12 from pop and cigars. In all about $940 were cleared—and added to the new church fund.

The July collection coming so closely upon the heels of the picnic is hardly up to the standard, although the monthly report next Sunday will show nearly $600 added to the subscription for the completion of the new church.

Miss Alice Donnelly, a former organist and member of the choir, has recently joined the training class at St. Mary's hospital, Rochester. Miss Olive M. Praemassing, of Rochester, is the new nurse at the Memorial.

The masses this week are for John Tuohy, Monday; Edward Gleason, Jr., Tuesday; Timothy Cosgrove and Edward Morris, Wednesday; Mrs. James Rooney, Thursday; and Michael O'Brien, Friday.

The Boys' Society will receive next Sunday.

Dr. John F. Riley, of Binghamton, the famous student of Roman history, will lecture in Bemis Hall next week Friday evening. Dr. Riley has spoken for various organizations, religious and social, throughout the land and comes most highly recommended. The Canandaigua Herald says his lecture there was the greatest treat of the Assembly.

He speaks of Pagan and Christian Rome.

The annual outing and basket picnic of the Knight of Columbus will take place at Seneca Point, Canandaigua Lake, on Wednesday, July 26th. Chartered cars be furnished which will leave the Rochester & Eastern depot, 74 Exchange St., at 8:30 a. m., and will be run through to Canandaigua without a stop, thus ensuring a quick passage. A large and comfortable boat will be waiting at the dock, so there will be no delay in reaching the picnic grounds. There will be a long list of sports for which handsome prizes will be awarded. A large band will be in attendance.

Three Bank Bills.

General Samuel Veazie of Bangor built the first railroad in Maine and also founded the Veazie National bank of Bangor. He had occasion to visit Boston once and made the trip by the circuitous means of transportation used in those early days, by stage-railroad and steamboat. He arrived in Boston in the evening and went to the old Tremont House for the night. All he had with him was an old carpet bag, and as he was unknown to the clerk he was informed that, having no baggage, he would be expected to pay in advance.

"All right," said he, reaching into his inside pocket. He drew out a pocket book and took therefrom a $1,000 bill of his bank. The clerk took it, got out his bank detector and looked up the standing of the Bangor bank institution. In a moment he came back and said:

"That bank has issued but three bills of that denomination."
"Yes," said the general, "and if that one is not enough for you, here's the other two." And he laid the bills before the eyes of the astonished clerk.—Boston Herald.

A Book and a War.

Copyright questions are grave enough nowadays, but they no longer threaten to end in war, as in the case of St. Columba the Irishman who settled in Iowa converted north Britain and is commemorated on June 8. He had a passion for fine manuscripts and copies of them and among others copied a certain Latin psalter belonging to an Irish abbot whereupon King Diarmid condemned Columba at Tara ruling that "to every book belongs its copy, as to every cow its calf." Columba appealed against the verdict in the practical form of inciting his kinsmen to revolt, and they defeated Diarmid in the battle of the Bualter. The book is claimed to be the one which in silver cover was carried into battle by the O'Donnells during more than a thousand years and may be seen at the Royal Irish academy today.—London Chronicle.

Old Sevres.

Old Sevres porcelain holds its own among those who are wealthy enough to buy it, because, within definite limits, it is perfect. The united skill of the best French chemists, potters, artists and sculptors of the time went to its making, the sordid necessity of earning a profit did not trouble the director of Sevres, for an easy going monarch was always ready to make good the yearly loss.

Technical perfection—no less—was aimed at, and it was attained. Frenchmen of that day grumbled at the waste of public money on the Pompadour's whim but Louis took no heed. Sevres was to produce the finest porcelain at any cost, for the glory of France and her Bourbon kings.—London Outlook.

Somber Christianity.

The Auld Licht kirk when Dr. Chalmers visited it was a terribly bare little building. The elders were a grim set. They kept their bonnets on their heads till the minister entered, and they had each a large stick in hand, which they used for "chappin' their noses through all the service. The minister wore no gown or bands. He gave a very long sermon, full of sound divinity, but without the smallest practical application and without a vestige of feeling. At length Dr. Chalmers got out, the dismal worship being ended, and his word was, "If these people ever get to heaven, they will live on the north side of it."

Indian Magic.

A traveler tells a story of Indian magic. The juggler was a Malay, who stroked with his fingers the blade of a long knife or creese. The observer saw water fall drop by drop from the blade, which became flaccid, like a strip of India rubber. Thrown on the ground, it bounced about, but was a knife blade again when lifted by the juggler. An examination showed that there was no water on the mat on which the observer saw the drops falling.

A Prayer Before Work.

The day returns and brings us the petty round of irritating concerns and duties. Help us to play the man; help us to perform them with laughter and kind faces; let cheerfulness abound with industry; give us to go blithely on our way; all this day; bring us to our resting beds weary and content and undishonored, and grant us in the end the gift of sleep. Amen.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

Would Like to Be There.

A Maine French Canadian mill operative in Biddeford asked his overseer for a few days leave of absence. Being short of help, the overseer asked him if it was anything very particular that he wanted to stay out for, and he replied, "Yaasir; I'm gont' to git married, un I'd lak be there; that all."

An Art Critic.

"What do you think of our new oil painting?" asked Mrs. Newrich.
"Well," answered Mr. Newrich, "it seems good enough from the front, but if you turn it round and look at the other side I must say the material seems kind o' cheap."

A Clever Hint.

Mrs. A.—There are times when I wish I were a man. Mr. A.—For instance? Mrs. A.—When I pass a milliner's window and think how happy I could make my wife by giving her a new bonnet.

Too Anxious.

Her—My only objection to Mrs. Pryor is that she's a business woman. Him—Indeed? What business is she engaged in? Her—Everybody's.—Chicago News.
