

It Saved Her Life.
 Staunton, Ill., Jan. 1903.
 My wife, forty-seven years old, was sick since about two years, so that she became nearly insane. Several physicians treated her, but without success. This cost about $500. She was then sick about six months in a hospital, when Father Koenic's Nerve Tonic was recommended to me, which I gave her, and it cured her entirely, and I believe it saved her life.
 R. Tenbert.

Mrs. Hotz, of Dunkirk, N. Y., writes: "I thank God for the good which Father Koenic's Nerve Tonic does me. I was treated by four doctors and was eight weeks in a hospital, but it did me no good. I took but four bottles of the Tonic, which cured me."
FREE A Valuable Book on Nervous Diseases and a Sample Bottle of any medicine. Free to all who also get the medicine free. Prepared by the Rev. FATHER KOENIC, of Fort Wayne, Ind., since 1876, and now by the KOENIG MED. CO., Chicago, Ill., 100 Lake Street. Sent by Druggists at $1 per Bottle, 6 for $5. Large Size, $1.75; 6 Bottles for $8.

AUBURN.
 On next Sunday will occur the dedication of the St. Edward's mission in the south western part of the city. This mission is under the direction of Rev. Father Mulhern and will be used by the people of the western part of the city, who are now attendants at St. Mary's church. The mission is a beautiful structure and a credit to any congregation. It has a fully equipped school in connection with the church also serving rooms for the pastor who will reside at the church. The services for the dedication will be in charge of Bishop McQuaid and several priests will attend from out of the city.

On next Saturday night and the following Monday the members of St. Mary's church will hold a lawn festival on the church grounds on State street. The proceeds will go towards paying off the debt incurred by renovating the interior of St. Mary's church.

A congregation of Polish people of the city is being formed for the benefit of the foreigners who speak that language. The services at present are being conducted in St. Alphonsus church and when the congregation is fully established a site will be bought and a church erected thereon. Several hundred Polish people are now enrolled and have a substantial sum already towards their church.

Rev. Father O'Connor of Moravia, and Rev. J. B. Doran of Groton, were visitors in this city during the week.
 St. Alphonsus church held a lawn social during the week on the school grounds and a large sum was realized for paying off the debt of the new school.

GENESECO.
 Services are held at the County Home on Sunday afternoons at 2:30 o'clock during this month by Rev. A. A. Hughes.
 The choir of St. Mary's church plucked at Long Point, Conesus Lake, on Thursday of last week, and an enjoyable time is reported by all who attended.
 Miss Eleanor Curran of Skaneateles, N. Y., is visiting relatives and friends here this week.

On Sunday, July 9th, a class of nine children received their first communion at the 9 o'clock mass at St. Mary's church in this village and on Wednesday morning, July 12th, at the 8 o'clock mass at St. Raphael's church, Piffard, a class of sixteen approached the altar for their first communion. Rev. A. A. Hughes officiating at both services.
 After the mass in each place the children renewed their baptismal vows and took the pledge to abstain from all intoxicating liquors until they reached 21 years of age.

Maurice Hackett, who went to Denver, Col., about a year ago for the benefit of his health, died at that place on Monday last, aged 34 years. He leaves surviving, a wife and three children, of New York city, a father and mother of this village, two sisters, and two brothers, Edward of Denver, Col., and Martin of Brockport.

 About fifty of the Young Defenders received holy communion Sunday. The sodality will receive next Sunday. It is the Sunday also for the monthly school collection.

The monthly subscription report was distributed last Sunday, showing a falling off of $200 from the required amount, presumably on account of the picnic. The subscription ought to be $800 per month to meet urgent obligations.

The final contract for the interior wood work of the new church will be awarded this week. If this and the ornamental plastering can be done in any season, it is still hoped to be able to open the church November 12.

Dr. John F. Riley, the celebrated "Platform King" from Binghamton, spoke on "Pagan and Christian Rome" at Bemis hall Friday evening.

A very pleasant trolley ride was conducted by the Holy Name Society Friday evening to the charming home of the McKenna's, three miles east of the village on the line of the R. & E. Over 200 persons went out on the cars and many came in carriages. An impromptu entertainment, consisting of singing and recitation, was given and $28 netted.

Progressing.
 If the Catholic Church has not yet converted the Protestants of the United States it has at least won them over to an observance of the seasons of the Church's sorrows and joys. Advent, Christmas, Lent and Easter are now recognized quite generally by our separated brethren of the Protestant sects.—Sacred Heart Review.

Have Mercy on Them.
 Let us in our health and strength never forget the countless souls who are departing from the world every second of its existence. It will sweeten our lives if during our daily occupations we give even a passing thought to the dying and let the fervent aspiration go up to heaven, "God have mercy upon them!"

Where to Find Peace.
 "When anything goes wrong with me," said a holy religious, "I always go into the presence of the Blessed Sacrament and there I lay all at the feet of Jesus, and I come away consoled and in great peace."

SHORT SERMONS.
 There is nothing between us and hell or heaven but life, which of all things is the frailest.
 If one life shines, the next life to it must catch the light, for such is the mysterious might God gives to upright souls.

What a joy to know that Christ is our pilot and that He will guide us safely according to His will if we trust ourselves entirely to Him.
 The justice of God is as worthy of admiration as His mercy, for rest assured that sin of itself is a much greater evil than the penalty you incur through it.

If we are educated, let us, in the Master's name, instruct the ignorant; if we possess wealth, let us use it as God intended; if we have health, let us cheer some ill soul.

House of Paul Revere.
 The house of Paul Revere, in North Square, near the old North Church, in Boston, from which he started on his night ride to arouse the countryside way up to Concord and Lexington, April 19, 1775, was to be torn down, but has been rescued by a number of citizens, among whom are Governor Douglas and Mayor Collins. The sum of $17,000 is to be raised to buy the property and put it in good condition, restoring it to its colonial dignity, and making it a reliquary of the past.

A Drain on India's Population.
 Few probably realize the constant drain on life in India by the plague since it and the famine scourged the whole country. Even during the seven days ended on May 6, 42,282 deaths were returned, showing a decline of 4,478 on the previous week. The mortality in the Punjab, however, increased by over 15,000 in the same period.—N. Y. Sun.

WHAT THE SIMPLON MEANS.
 The New Tunnel Has Effaced a Romantic and Historical Path.
 The piercing of the Simplon has unhappily brought with it the final effacement of one of the most romantic and grandly historical paths in human expedition—the closing curtain in the most picturesque drama Europe has afforded. The Napoleonic spectacle was full of surprises; its argument narrates the complications of society and war; its complexities detail the enthrallment of personal magnetism and force.

The superbly built road over the Alps has remained one of the most fascinating diversions for the thoughtful tourist, and has been fraught with memorable experiences. From the moment of embarkation in the yellow diligence, when the whip cracked over the heads of the post horses at Brieg, until the arrival in the gorge of the Gondo at Iselle, it was a continuously unfolding tableau of grandeur and charm. The overture had begun back in the Rhone Valley with the castles of Sion and Sierre, the towers of Louèche and Martigny, at the foot of the Great St. Bernard.

But when the ascension of the Simplon began it became a long series of windings through fortified defiles leading around terrifying abysses and through the wildest of mountain recesses. One was awed by the splendor and stirred with conflicting emotions. It was indeed a refuge—the hospice of the Augustine monks. Who that has experienced it will ever forget the welcoming hospitality of the four secluded brethren in the desolate spot?—Century.

Diamonds for Drawing Wire.
 Diamonds are used quite extensively as dies for drawing wire of the smallest sizes. For instance, the sizes less than, say, .025 inch diameter.

The hardest steel dies are not suitable for this work, for the reason that the diameter of the wire is not uniform within the required percentage of variation at the beginning and end of a drawing. Sapphires are used sometimes for this work. Copper, silver and platinum are the metals usually drawn to the very small sizes.

With diamond dies it is practicable to draw platinum to a diameter of five ten-thousandths of an inch. An idea of the fineness of a copper wire drawn to only three one-thousandths of an inch in diameter may be gathered from the fact that in one pound of the metal there are over six miles of such wire.

The weight of the diamond used for this work is from four to five carats, and they are used except as to the die. The value of these dies, which, of course, are not of the first water, varies from $15 to $20 a carat, and several hundred thousand dollars' worth of diamonds are utilized as dies in the various wire factories of this country alone.

Skillful, however, as must be the artisans who sink these small dies, and attenuated as the wires drawn through them may be, yet neither will stand comparison with the output of the spinneret of the common spider, which ejects a single thread of silk so fine that 18,000 threads are required to equal in thickness an ordinary single strand of sewing silk.—Electrical Review.

The South Becoming Active.
 There is noticeable activity in the development of railroads in the South, and more especially toward the south Atlantic and gulf ports. Much of this is, no doubt, due to the prospects of the Panama Canal, which should be completed within a decade at most. The great systems of the middle west are striking for outlets to the ocean highways, and the short water route to the Orient is especially engaging their attention. The eastern systems are preparing to conserve their own interests in the great developments that will come from this immense work. The increasing product of the coal mines of the South in Tennessee and Alabama and southern Ohio and Kentucky also justify the establishment of depots at the southern coast points for fuel for the ships of commerce, which are coming in fleets to the South for the splendid trade that is growing almost beyond measure in this section.—Charleston (S. C.) Post.
