Ordinary ready-made suit unsatisfactory enough for the merchant tailor generally fails to please him because the merchant tailor doesn't have enough young men's trade to keep him in touch with its peculiar requirements

But at this store the young man finds the full limit of satisfaction. We make a feature of clothes for his particular use. They are designed and tailored to our own specifications by manufacturers who are specialists in young men's attire. The patterns are exclusive—we show but two or three of a kind—and so we give the youthful citizen a chance to express his individuality in the selection of his garments.

Young men's fall suits—sizes 31, 32, 33, 34, 35 and 36—$10 to $22. The best time to buy is while the entire range of patterns is here for choice.

OUR boys' store on second floor, filled with new and serviceable clothes and flooded with sunlight—so necessary to careful inspection—is a mighty attractive place for mothers. Its service is intelligent, courteous and painstaking, its methods straightforward and its values plainly apparent to the well-posted—as its success demonstrates.

The following by way of suggestion:

Evolution of Sewing Machine Selling.

It took our House Furnishing Goods store sometime to disabuse the mind of the average person of the fallacy that the price made the sewing machine rather than the material and skill that went into its making. The Lenox sewing machines were capable of winning their own battle. They have simply demonstrated their worth by the service they have given.

We sell sewing machines just as we sell other merchandise. They come to us direct from the maker. They are sold at a fixed price—a small margin above the cost of manufacture.

Lenox sewing machines are made of the very best materials by the most skilled labor. They possess every point of excellence of the modern sewing machine including all the special features. Woodwork is entirely of oak beautifully finished. Machines have ball bearings; are equipped with complete set of attachments which includes five hemmers, tucker, ruffler, braider, quilter, binder, shirring plate, lace hemmer.

Here is a price list of Lenox machines:

No. 3 Lenox, drop shelf, three drawers, $19.

No. 4 Five drawer Lenox, $21.

No. 24 Lenox, drop head, swell front, $24.50.

No. 44 Lenox, drop head with automatic lift, $26.

No. 2 Automatic Lenox represents the highest type of sewing machine construction. It is very swift running, practically noiseless, and the automatic tensions makes the machine always ready for any kind of work, $32.50.

Leader and Paveway Machines.

Leader and Paveway machines are not so expensively finished as the "Lenox" but they are thoroughly reliable and may be depended upon to do excellent work. They are guaranteed for five years the same as the "Lenox."

Paveway drop head, five drawer sewing machine, with swell front, equipped with full set of attachments, $16.

Leader sewing machine, with drop head, automatic lift, ball bearings, swell front, five drawers, equipped with all attachments, $18.50.
