ANCIENT CHURCH OF ROME.

The following beautiful tribute to the changeless Catholic Church is from the pen of a Congregational minister, the erica. son of Harriet Beecher Stowe, the author of "Uncle Tom's Cabin:"

The restless ocean's moan So looms above earth's chance and change The ancient Church of Rome.

Majestic 'gainst the sunset sky The Titan mountain stands, Prowning while organ giants die Upon its foaming sands.

Tet stands the Church of Rome, Unchanged when all is changing fast-The storm tossed pligrim's home.

O'erwhelmed by the barbarian hosts The Eternal City fell. But laid on her rude conquerors The magic of her spell.

Thus facing countless future years And ages vet unborn Rome rises o'er all haunting fears And dreads no coming storm

SHORT SERMONS.

Let us have a large, generous heart, full of goodness and thoughtfulness for others.

In return for all your favors, my God, you do not ask much, but you do ask for faithfulness.

Save thy soul from sandy barrenness. Let it blossom with roses and gleam with living waters. The need of the age is faith, faith in

God and our fellow man, and the courage to voice that faith even when appearances mock its possibility. Virtue is like an excellent perfumethe more close you keep it the greater

Little Enough.

Many people who hear Mass but once k week, and then in a perfunctory manner merely, do not realize or are entirely careless of the great blessings waiting on attendance at the holy sacrifice. They hurry in late and hurry terest of women, with regard to aptuary, as if afraid of giving too much is little enough time.—Sacred Heart Re-

ODD SHADES IN GIRLS' FROCKS.

Browns and Blues or Brown and Pink Combined Very Popular. Pinky mauve and pale blue may sound a little flat, but given the right quantities the effect is charming, though it is only right to add that not every child could wear this combination successfully. The bronze and pale blues will alike become the bionde and the brunette, but the pinks and browns, where the former predominates, should be chosen for fair little women alone, whose coloring is subtle rather than decided. These off shades in pink are often trying to a rosy cheeked, dark eyed little beauty, detracting from rather than increasing her charms, the latter a duty certainly expected of one's toilet. Pale rose pink will be kinder to her, but all the odd shades will be found generally becoming to those known as "between colors," a delicate featured class usually of dainty coloring, with which these shades seem to blend perfectly. Batiste, one of the finest and coolest of cotton goods, is the foundation for many of the frocks, both short and long, the trimming mostly hand run tucks, hemstitching and the daintiest of nainsook embroideries. The latter is used sparingly, hand sewing being considered in far better taste than elaborate embroid-

For small boys quite the smartest thing is a Russian blouse suit of satin foulard in a black and white pin check. This fastens invisibly down the left side and is finished at the neck with a lace collar secured by a bow of red ribbon, while a loose red beit confines the waist line.

Latest Effect in Frames.

Embroidered picture frames retain a pretty fair measure of popuarity even though more durable materials have been selected for the construction of photo holders in these days of the development of handicrafts. Simplicity of design and artistic treatment are the characteristics of the latest ventures in the way of embroidered frames, and linen or some equally simple fabric is used for the foundation. The accompanying illustration shows the design new and effective in fancy stitchery on linen, the color scheme being exceptionally good.

Long Hair is Doomed.

By the present fashion of wearing the hair long women have assumed a burden that is becoming increasingly irksome If they were allowed to wear the hair loose its length might be a thing of beauty, and its vigor would be improved. But hair that is closely done up is not more beautiful than hair that has been cut short: and its confined state leads to baldness. It is a question of fashion; and we may safely trust the self-inout before the priest is out of the sanc- pearance and convenience, to settle this question in accordance with time to God.
