REV. M. J. NOLAN, D. D., Chancellor of the Diocese. AROUND THE GLOBE.

Up to Date, Chicago Irishmen have contributed $7,847.94 to the Douglas Hyde fund for the Gaelic Revival. Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul, delivered the Washington's Birthday address at a public banquet in Kansas City, and Archbishop Messmer, of Milwaukee, delivered an address on the "Father of His Country" before the student and faculty of Wisconsin University.

The Catholic Colonization Company organized last spring by Archbishop Glennon, of St. Louis, for the purpose of taking people out of congested cities and placing them on farms, has located its first band of settlers in Dunklin County, Missouri.

The famous Monks of St. Bernard have been granted permission by the Swiss government to run automobiles between their properties of St. Bernard and the Simplon, and Damodossola and Aosta.

According to a press cable dispatch from Madrid, it is stated unofficially that ex-Queen Christina wishes to retire to a convent after the marriage of King Alfonso and his bride will spend their honeymoon at Kilmore Castle, the Duke of Manchester's Irish property.

Another venerable member of the Sacred College has passed to his reward. Cardinal Achilles Manara, Archbishop of Ancona, died in Rome on February 15. He was born at Bologna in 1829, and was created Cardinal by Pope Leo in 1897.

On April 12, 1856, Cardinal Wiseman conferred the priesthood on the Hon. and Rev. Edmund Stonor, son of the then Lord Camoss. The priest of that day is now the Titular Archbishop of Tielzand, and one of the best known ecclesiastics in Rome, where he resides. He is a canon in the Lateran Chapter. April 12 next will mark the golden jubilee of his ordination.

Mr. Metzger, professor at the Catholic University of Louvain, and president of Leo XIII's College of Higher Philosophical Studies, has been chosen as the new Archbishop of Mechlin and Primate of Belgium. The new Archbishop, who is fifty-five years old, is well known for his various philosophical publications, which have been translated into several languages.

That was a rare honor which Cardinal Satoll, as Prefect of the Congregation of Studies, conferred the other day upon Krogh-Tanning, the celebrated writer and pulpit orator of Christiana, Norway, when he declared him a doctor of divinity. In Rome the theological attainments of this Norwegian convert are spoken of much as were those of John Henry Newman when he entered the Church. The distinction that has come to Dr. Krogh-Tanning is unique, inasmuch as he is a layman and neophyte in the faith.

Last week there died at Kentville Nova Scotia, a priest once celebrated far and wide. This was Father P. M. Holden, who reached the age of seventy-seven years. One of his early parishes was Bermuda, where he distinguished himself among the yellow fever victims, and eventually was stricken himself with this dread disease. He soon recovered, and was granted a small pension by the Imperial Government in recognition of his services. At that time the convicts were in Bermuda, from whence they were sent to Australia, and Father Holden again distinguished himself by quelling a rebellion which had broken out on one of the convict ships.

COMPOSITE BRICK
Composite Brick is a building material which has within the last few years come rapidly into prominence in this country. It has been used in Europe, especially in Germany, for many years, and a large number of municipal and state buildings, churches, schools and residences have been constructed of this material. In every case, Composite Brick has been found to withstand the action of the weather better than clay brick and to grow harder and stronger with age.

The German system was brought to this country a few years ago and since then factories for the manufacture of this brick have been erected in various parts of the country. The Rochester Composite Brick Company which was organized last spring at Rochester, follows a system which differs to some extent from the German system as it is the result of several years' study and experimentation to discover the process which was best adapted to the raw material found in this country and which would produce a brick which would best withstand the peculiarities of our climate. They have so far succeeded that they are producing a brick that has been declared by experts after careful tests to be the best composite brick made.

Composite Brick is made from sand as a base and no clay or shale enters into its composition. The process of manufacture follows Nature's method of forming sandstone and Composite Brick may be called Artificial Sandstone, with the difference that it is entirely homogeneous throughout and contains no cracks, layers or seams.

Composite Brick is not only more durable than clay brick, but is stronger and more dense, therefore it absorbs very little moisture and never makes a damp wall. It is fire proof and very poor conductor of heat and cold. There is no efflorescence nor other discoloration after it has been in the wall for a time. Very cold weather and the action of atmospheric gases have no deteriorating effect.

The Rochester Composite Brick Company is a stock company organized under the laws of the State of New York with a capitalization of $100,000 and members among its stockholders many members of the Diocese of Rochester. Mr. Augustus L. McKittrick is a member of its Board of Directors. The president is Mr. Homer Knapp, and Mr. R. W. Hayden is Secretary and Treasurer. At their factory at Brighton they are making several grades of Red and White Brick. The Natural color is a pleasing gray, but they are made in buff, black and various shades of red. A building constructed of these bricks never has to be painted and always gives a bright, fresh appearance. Their bricks are uniform in size, shape and color and for that reason are much easier to lay in the wall and make a better appearance when laid.

Their cost is but little more than the cheapest of soft clay brick, while in every respect they are the equal or superior to the most expensive clay brick on the market.

Samples may be seen and prices obtained at their office, No. 68 Exchange Place Building, 16 State street, Rochester.

TWO NOTABLE PORTRAITS
The pictures of Bishops McQuaid and Hickey, reproductions of which appear in this issue, were made by Mr. Dudley Hoyt, of 23 East avenue, this city, and are undoubtedly the best portraits of these notable churchmen in existence today. The likeness has been carefully preserved, but the limitations of the halftone process, of course, rob the reproductions of much of the finer gradations noticeable in the originals. Prints of both of these photographs in several different tones can be seen at the Hoyt studio.

ROCHESTER TELEPHONE CO.
The telephone is the greatest factor in the quick and correct conduct of modern business and our city possesses a company whose motto is up-to-date in every particular. The Rochester Telephone Company's service is above reproach and the apparatus is of the most approved order. A great many Catholic institutions in the diocese are equipped with telephones of the Rochester or Home Company, as it is sometimes known, and those having business with them can quickly transact it by means of the phone.

The company's offices are at No. 50 Stone street, and any one contemplating the installation of a telephone should call at this address and see the wonderful manner in which the thousands of daily calls are attended to.

The officials are pioneers in the telephone business and ever looking to the betterment of the service. The Rochester Telephone Co. has, in numerous instances donated generously to Catholic charities and we are pleased to give them this friendly mention.

WORLD-FAMED NURSERIES
Probably the name of Rochester has been made known to world over by the Ellwanger & Barry Nurseries. In every part of the globe the fruits, flowers and shrubs of this firm have been planted, and it has well been said that there are none to excel their products.

Many years ago George Ellwanger and Patrick Barry founded the nurseries and ever since the business has progressed along scientific lines until as has been said its products have world-wide reputation.

Among its patrons is Secretary of State Elihu Root, whose splendid country estate in Clinton is stocked with fruits and shrubs from the Ellwanger & Barry Nurseries.

To Ellwanger & Barry the city owes its beautiful Highland Park, which is visited every year by arboriculturists from all over the country, who go into ecstasies over the complete collection there exhibited of North American shrubs. William Crawford Barry, who has succeeded to his father in the firm's management, is president of the Western New York Horticultural Society, and one of the Park Commissioners of the city of Rochester, in both of which positions he has done much to promote science and higher citizenship.

LIGHTEN THE WEIGHT OF BURDENS

Many had life to be full of trouble, and all men and women must bear some share of the burdens, some have more some less to bear, but everyone has some share. New and better methods, however, have been introduced, and the employment of these new and better methods will tend to lighten the weight of burdens and to lessen in number the troubles of the world.

"Cleanliness is next to godliness," and management need be advanced to provide a safe, sanitary, luxurious and restful environment. The clothes of the family and the household linen must be cleaned. There is a vast amount of religion in a clean table cloth. How the washing shall be performed has been always a pressing and a difficult problem. The day when the family washing is to be done at home is to be done at home, to be done by every wife and housekeeper. She may, it is true, escape the personal drudgery, but even then the work, if it is to be properly executed, must be intelligently watched and supervised. The work must be done, and it must be done well. Men must have clean shirts and collars, the table linen must be spotless, the baby must have dainty and immaculate robes.

In all departments of human activity, better and improving methods prevail, but not any of the changes that have come have been more important than those that have improved the method of accomplishing the various labors connected with our domestic economy. From many household duties there is no escape, but the ever-recurring demand for clean clothes, the endless requisition for the kitchen, the dining-room, and the bed room, may be met in a new and better way by having one of our wagons call weekly for your washing.

The Star Palace Laundry.
TO THE TRADE

We hereby call your special attention to the fact that all sugars handled by us are products of special manufacture from pure sugar cane. When you order from your jobbers, they give you any old kind, a different brand every time, nothing uniform. It is of the utmost importance that your trade should always have the best, and why should you not buy from the house who has always introduced the plan of selling the best sugars by the bag or barrel at carload rates. Our price is always lower than inferior sugars are sold for by others, their object being to compete in price with an inferior brand or beet sugar.

Never in the history of the grocery business in Rochester has sugar been sold at such small margin, before our entering the field. Jobbers made from one dollar to two per barrel; ask them if there is any money in sugars now. We have made this all possible, we want your earnest support and in future our prices will be still lower than the lowest.

Give us a trial for your own satisfaction. Prompt delivery.

Yours truly,
The Union Pacific Tea Co.,
O. A. Heilman, Mgr.

A NEW DINING ROOM

For many years Rochester has been in need of a first class restaurant where the most interesting liquors are sold, where the best of service may be obtained and all at a nominal price.

Such a dining room has been established in connection with the Fitzhugh Bowling Hall, on South Fitzhugh St. and the management report that the new departure is meeting with patronage which has far exceeded their highest expectations.

Until 9 o'clock regular breakfast is served and between 11:30 a. m. and 2 p. m. and 5:30 and 8:00 p. m. special Table d'Hote dinners are served for 35c, which for the money, are duplicated in few cities in the country.

The management have served numerous "parties" and banquets during the winter, and all report surprise and satisfaction.

Besides the table d'hote service above referred to, an a la carte menu is also served which is of the same high standard of excellence in every respect.

That the new Dining Room will be permanent there is no doubt and we take pleasure in recommending it to our readers.

ROOFING.

It may not be generally known by the public that we have in our city one of the largest roofing concerns in the country, whose celebrated Anchor Brand Roof is so well known in all the cities between the Atlantic and the Pacific, the name Warren being synonymous with the highest class of materials and workmanship. We take pleasure in referring our many readers to the Warren Chemical and Manufacturing Company, who have their office and large warehouses located at 49 West avenue. The large number of buildings roofed in this city is a sufficient guaranty to the excellence of their work, among a few of these buildings just being completed where an inspection of the roofing can be made, we might mention the city market sheds, the Gleason Tool Works, the new Lehigh Valley Station, the Sibly, Lindsay & Curr Building, the Rowerdink Building, and the new B. R. & P. R. Office Building. A call on the manager of this business, Mr. W. Stuart Smith, at his office, 49 West avenue, will repay all who are contemplating the erection of buildings, large or small.
