St. Stephen's Church, Geneva, N. Y.

St. Stephen's, a division of St. Francis de Sales was made June 1904. Rev. S. V. McPadden, assistant of St. Francis de Sales, was made pastor. An excellent parish site was purchased on Pultney street, which already contains the pastor's residence and convent. Church services are held in the handsome building on the corner of Main and William Sts., which also provides ample school room for 197 children. This building was purchased twelve years ago by Father McDonald and turned over to the new parish free of debt. Here on July 3rd, the first mass in the new church was offered up by Very Rev. Wm. A. McDonald to whom the new parish owes much of its success. After furnishing pastor's residence, convent, school and church, and purchasing property to the amount of $16,500, there is a parish debt of less than $3,500, which good work in evidence of the generosity and zeal of the Catholics of Geneva, who gave to the new parish a cash subscription of $13,893. In addition to this they raised at a fair held last Nov. $7,858.

Bride Did Some Thinking, Too.
A bridal couple recently came before the Registrar in a small town in Mecklenburg. The official in due formula asked the bridegroom if he would take the woman as his wedded wife. He answered: "No, I must think the matter over."

There was consternation and protestation among the assembled company, and the bridegroom finally asked for an hour in which to reflect. He then shut himself up alone in a room and spent an hour meditating on the future.

At the end of that time the couple made their second appearance before the Registrar. The bridegroom replied to the usual question with a joyful "Yes!"

The official then asked the bride the same question. Her reply was very loud and distinct.

"No," she said. "I can't accept such a weathercock, weak-minded individual as husband."

She then drew herself up with scornful dignity and left the room.

In a Man's Pockets.

A fairly well-equipped gentleman true to his calling and to his friends carries quite a kit of tools. There is a jackknife, a match box, a cigar cutter, a nail file, a corkscrew, a finger nail tool and possibly a cigar holder, and some good five-centers to give away. And yet women wonder what he finds to put in his pockets.

To facilitate further the business of just hanging around, he must have a little money, a handkerchief, bunch of keys, fountain pen, some lead pencils and sharpener, eye glasses, notebook, watch, old letters, papers or more or less supposed value and a cardcase. Not one pocket could be spared unless it is the one on his nightshirt, and that looks so sweet.—Clay Center (Kan.) Times.

Germany's Telegraphy.

Wireless telegraphy is rapidly coming into commercial utility in Germany, and large numbers of "spark message," as such telegrams are called, are transmitted daily at a cent a word. There is a service in operation between Denmark and Prussia, while two German steamers running between Kiel and Korsor are equipped with instruments and maintain continuous communication with both the German and Danish land stations.—Scientific American.

Light of Plants and Flowers.

The strange phosphorescent quality of some plants and flowers is not exactly the same as that possessed by animal matter, but it is as little understood. It seems to be an absorption of light and a subsequent liberation of it. If a nasturtium is plucked during sunshine and carried into a dark room, the eye, after a few minutes, will discover the flower by the light emitted from its leaves.

Seneca Vintage & Cider Co. of Geneva, N. Y.

is the acknowledged leading family liquor store between Syracuse and Rochester. Its whiskies are nearly all bottled in bond for its special account, all by the leading Distilleries. Its wines, champagnes, brandies and cordials, imported and domestic, are all the best the market affords.

It is the sole owner of the Borgman Distillery and Cellar, in Yates County and is producing the famous Borgman Ciders, that beat all others.

The purity of its liquors has excited wide comment and for medicinal and family use the company is securing the exclusive patronage of its locality.

The best is always the cheapest and this you can secure at the
