

NEWS FROM IRELAND

ALL THE HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST IN THE OLD COUNTRY.

What is Being Done by the People at Home—Gossip From All the Counties of the Emerald Isle.

Ulster

ANTRIM.—The death of James McHugh occurred on March 25 at 170 Ravenhill road, Belfast, at the age of thirty-five years.

Mrs. Ellen Miller, Greenland House, near Belfast, died March 19, aged 102 years.

“What Irish Ireland Means,” was the title of an interesting and instructive lecture delivered by W. J. Flanagan before the members of the West Belfast branch of the United Irish League on the night of March 25.

On March 25 the Most Rev. Dr. Henry, bishop of Down and Connor, confirmed the sacrament of confirmation on 37 children of St. Peter's parish, Belfast. Before the ceremonies commenced the children sang the hymn “Come, Holy Ghost.”

ARMAGH.—The annual meeting of the Armagh branch of the United Irish League was held in the Foresters' hall, Patrick McKenna presiding. There was a large attendance, and the proceedings were enthusiastic.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

along a cliff path overhanging the beach at Killeel he fell sixty feet to the strand below. Some men cutting seaweed witnessed the accident and ran to his assistance. Wonderful to say, the doctor found he was only suffering from contusions to the right side. His escape from death was miraculous.

MONAGHAN.—At the opening of the quarter sessions at Castleblaney lately Judge Craig was presented by L. Swan, solicitor, with white gloves, there being no criminal cases.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

Don.—LEONARD—March 29, at Chetworth, Timothy Leonard.—O'DRISCOLL—March 30, at 11 Harrington place, Ballyhooley road, Patrick O'Driscoll, late of Montemotte.—KEARNEY—March 28, at 2 Alexandra villas, Military road, James Kearney, late of the City of Cork Steam Packet company.—O'SULLIVAN—March 23, at Coleraine, near Kenmare, Richard O'Sullivan.

DUNNE—March 28, Margaret Dunne, Rooves, Coughford.—GRIMES—March 27, John Grimes, Harney.—BUCKLEY—March 27, Mary Buckley, Ballinacule.—O'BRIEN—March 27, Michael O'Brien, North Main street, Youghal.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

she should choose the name of Mary Patrick.

John Power, who was evicted from his holding at Fglash sixteen years ago, is soon to be reinstated.

The death of Patrick Kearney, Glasha, occurred on March 29.

WATERFORD.—A hurling match took place at Mr. Foley's field, Killoterran, lately between the Meagher and Ballyduff teams. The match commenced at 3.30, and after the throw in the ball was brought up to the Meaghers goal, where a point was scored.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

Belfast, Sister Mary Berchmans, sister of the Right Rev. Dr. McSherry, Port Elizabeth.—MURRAY—At 5 Albert terrace, Hollymount, Michael Murray, late officer of inland revenue, Dublin.—SWAN—On March 23, at 88 Upper Dorset street, Kate Swan, Hill street, aged sixty-five years.—CURREN—On March 23, at 2 Granby row, Francis P. Curran, secretary No. 2 branch Amalgamated Carpenters and late of Elm Bros.—GAYNOR—On March 23, at Sir Patrick Dun's hospital, John Gaynor of Donnybrook and Inchicore and for twenty-five years a member of Amalgamated Society of Engineers.—KELLY—On March 22, at 11 Oriet street, Harry Kelly, late of Shanaville avenue.—KENNEDY—On March 23, at 10 Frankfort avenue, Rathgar, Michael Kennedy.—M'NAMARA—On March 22, at 44 St. Joseph's terrace, 8 C. road, Kilmalnaham, Elizabeth M'Namara of 37 Grafton street.—FRAZER—On March 27, at 14 Moore street, Mrs. Elizabeth Frazer, late of South King street, at an advanced age.—HARMON—On March 27, at Haroldscross, George Harmon of Fitzgibbon lane.—BEARDWOOD—On March 22, at 19 Rathmines road, Catherine M. Beardwood, relict of the late William Haughton Beardwood, Westland row.—BERGEN—On March 22, at 141 Clonliffe road, Beatrice Mary Bergen, Quinsborough road, Bray.—BYRNE—On March 22, at 1 Sealpoint road, Bray, Sylvester Byrne, aged 87 years.

The death of Patrick Kearney, Glasha, occurred on March 29.

WATERFORD.—A hurling match took place at Mr. Foley's field, Killoterran, lately between the Meagher and Ballyduff teams. The match commenced at 3.30, and after the throw in the ball was brought up to the Meaghers goal, where a point was scored.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

and exciting. Among the spectators were Miss Fanny Parnell and her brother, Charles S. Parnell. It was for the Freneys the first Land league but in Ireland was erected. The estates commissioners have put the eldest of the brothers, P. Freney, into possession of a portion of Buck Whaley, situated near the meetings of waters, and in addition allowed him a free grant of money for stocking and building.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

TYRONE.—On St. Patrick's day Omagh was the scene of a splendid muster of Foresters, and to the members of the Bishop Kelly branch the heartiest congratulations and the greatest credit are due for the success which crowned their efforts in organizing such a creditable display.

The death of James Madill, Corkish Newbliss, occurred on Feb. 27, aged sixty-seven years.

A successful concert and entertainment was given in Dawson national school, Aghnacork, on St. Patrick's day in aid of the repairs to the schools and parochial hall. The attendance was very large.

DESTROYED

Many pictures their belongings. The height interior v

ly critical acknowledge, and left the deliberation and three acute.

Following who took time after the picture of the to the the pieces when the half had and inquired result, an tent with is now in descending was but o in a fit o cwn world an intere the late the great many were using the most com he sudde his treati wrong on clenched full group clay.”

Chartra trial paint for which completed portrait famous to ture was band of tran's stu to be sho ing at it clared th painting superb, b his wife i China. C down his his penkn picture i of his as him to t story cam known th had visite purpose o a reductio But per of an art occurred Borlun, rose early way to i thedral o Mornings pleas his proportion The Annu the Resur remarkable having be conceiv as beauti ward by t that he fe it was the c took away two angel tend to k

Children It is fro milliona professor the Phila he avers, age of m scrubbed r restrained the threat clothes. N a good pu normal ch the consta pose must on the chs He cons the rights the huma of barbar on parade declares, lated with have the hood are i local peac of mother That th liness is firmed by don Lance or fear for it is an in woman w be regard who make impossible the matter incapable idea, than, is obvious ady, which

A restaur on l the rush is in Lelpzig would ave the victual

An emitt that s and shut a year.

Connaught

GALWAY.—While P. Keogh, carrier at Galway railway station, was loading goods his horse was startled by an engine, and, in his endeavor to hold the animal, he was knocked down and one of his legs was broken.

A boy named Michael Hill, aged eleven years, of Galway city, recently got on to the rear axle of the carriage owned by Mr. Perse of Grattan House unknown to the driver, but in some way his head got jammed between one of the wheels and the body of the carriage. His scalp was torn off and he sustained terrible injuries. The driver did not know about it till his attention was called to the matter, and he pulled up at once. Rev. Father Griffin was on the road at the time, walking with Dr. Sandys, and was in time to administer the last rites of the church to the dying boy.

The great national anniversary was celebrated in an edifying manner in Galway city. Recognizing its true character as a religious as well as a national festival, the celebrations commenced in the churches, where crowded congregations assisted at the masses, and great numbers received holy communion. The demonstration was one of the grandest ever witnessed in Galway. Thousands lined the streets when the procession formed.

LEITRIM.—Peter McHugh of Anagh, Glenfara, died on March 31 at the age of ninety-nine years.

John Dolan, merchant, Manorbhamilton, died on March 28.

MAYO.—A very dastardly outrage was committed in Claremorris lately when during devotions in the parish church the billiard table belonging to the Catholic Young Men's society and reading room was cut up. The table was a very handsome and expensive one. The outrage has created the greatest indignation.