GALWAY .-- The Rev. Mark Engleton, Cummer, has added another to the many obligations which the people of North Galway owe to him for wise counsel and energetic support in their struggle for the possession of the land of their fathers. Through his instrumentality many of the terrors of rack rent and eviction have been removed from many a home, and now by his tactful intervention he will be the means of bringing comfort to many more At a public auction in Tuam lately he purchased a farm of 197 acres 2 rods and 5 perches of the finest land in Galway for £2,625, in cluding auctioneer's fees, which is eighteen years' purchase of the rent paid for the farm by graziers. He is selling it to the estates commissioners to have the land divided among the small farmers around and to have some new houses built, as was done at Annagh Hill and recently in the case of the estate of J. J. Smyth. Laughrea. Most of this farm is prime meadow land, and when Father Eagleton was declared purchaser there was a scene of great enthusiasm As he emerged from the town hall, where the sale was conducted, he was cheered by a large crowd which had assembled in the market square Most of Father Eagleton's parishloners are now peasant proprietors, and he hopes that the parish will soon be a second Abbeyfeale. where no landlordism exists.
